COAL

A Sign of Thrift When People Buy Coal in the Fall.

The fact that so many people are buying coal in the fall months before the days of snow and freezing, gives lie to the pessimistic assertion that there is no thrift any more.

Memorial Tablet For Bela P. Learned

Unveiled by His Granddaughter at Park Congregational Church—Addresses by Supt. Oliver L. Johnson and Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Howe.

There was a beautiful service at the unveiling of the memorial tablet to the late superintendent, Major B. P. Learned, in the Sunday school room of Park church at noon on Sunday, attended in large number by the congregation and other personal friends, as well as by the Sunday school.

Superintendent Johnson's Words. The service was conducted by the superintendent, Oliver L. Johnson, who opened it with these well chosen words:

We are called together today to pay just and loving tribute to Major Bela P. Learned, who was always associated with this Sunday school, and who for twenty-five years its faithful and honored superintendent. If we were to record the many activities of this church, we would find Major Learned's name closely associated with them from the very first. In reviewing this long life of usefulness, it is profitable for us to see wherein he has outrun most men in purpose and achievement. The predominating factor in his character was to be faithful and steadfast to every trust and duty, and we all know how well this was accomplished. Such a record is made only by one who has a character of sterling worth, one who through sunshine and storm, joy and sorrow, no matter what the sacrifice, can be relied upon to do well his part. All the members of this Sunday school unite in the gift of this memorial to commemorate his devotion to the welfare of this Sunday school, and their lasting affection for his work and memory. We should take inspiration from such a life and rededicate ourselves to put our best endeavor into channels of usefulness open to us in this Sunday school, church and community.

His Inspirational Life. I would be ungrateful if in closing I withheld my own tribute of affection and gratitude for the inspiration derived from Major Learned's life as a staunch Christian gentleman. Coming as a boy from the country over forty years ago and finding my church home in the Second church where Major Learned was the conductor of the music and a teacher in the Sunday school, I will remember the uplifting influence of the choir under his leadership, consisting of Mrs. Learned, Miss Ward, Henry Edmund and George D. Cole. When the transfer from the Second to Park church was made, Major Learned was in the front rank as always in the offering of his best to the church he loved and the Christ he faithfully followed. Through his music he directed the thoughts of many worshippers heavenward, and I like to think of him now as enjoying the heavenly choir with all the sympathy of a kindred nature. May God bless his example and his memory to every scholar in this school.

The hymn, For All the Saints Who from Their Labors Rest, was sung by the congregation, led by the church choir and accompanied by Mr. Kies and the Sunday school orchestra. Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Dr. Howe followed and the rendering by the choir of the anthem, He Giveth His Beloved Sleep.

Tablet Unveiled. The Tablet, a handsome one of oak and bronze, inscribed:

In Memory of MAJOR BELA PECK LEARNED March 9, 1837—March 14, 1910 For twenty-four years the honored and faithful superintendent of this Sunday School within an oak-leaf design, was then unveiled by the major's granddaughter, Miss Betty Howland.

Dr. Howe's Address. A short address was made by Dr. Howe, who said:

I am sure we all recognize the appropriateness of this commemorative tablet to the memory of the superintendent of this Sunday school. And set within our full sphere of the fitness of what we do here today it seems almost unfair to specialize in favor of the Sunday school. To some of us a similar memorial would be equally appropriate in every sphere of the church's life: in the choir gallery, where he rendered distinguished service; another on the church walls, where he discharged so many churchly functions with equal fidelity; in

THE FEAR OF HUMBAG

Prevents Many People from Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure of dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, so far in fact that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive acids, Golden Seal, bismuth, hydrastis and milk. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headache, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite and many other troubles which are often called by some other name. They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR MISS EMILY S. GILMAN.

Annual Meeting of Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Park Congregational Church.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Park church was held in the parlors of the Osgood Memorial on Friday afternoon. There was a large attendance at the meeting, which was in great measure a memorial service for the late Miss Emily S. Gilman, president of the society for twenty-five years. A review of the great service she rendered the society in this time, of her devotion to the work and the loss to the society, was given by the secretary. A letter from Miss Willard of Colchester, president of the Eastern Connecticut branch, brought the branch's tribute to Miss Gilman, for twenty-one years its president, and with which her name was almost synonymous. From Miss Stanwood of Boston came a few words of personal notice and a copy of the expressions of appreciation passed by the executive committee of the Woman's Board of Missions, of which Miss Gilman was a valued member. Resolutions were also passed by the society.

Mrs. William G. Henderson was the presiding officer and the usual annual reports were given. The officers of the preceding year were re-elected and a short mission programme upon the wise hearted women of olden times carried out.

Cavalier's father was a janitor. This may account for her domineering ways.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.
