TEMPERANCE SOCIETIES CELEBRATE

One Hundred and Twentieth Anniversary of Birth of Father Mathew, Apostle of Temperance—Prominent Speakers Heard.

The memory of Father Mathew, the Apostle of Temperance, was honored on Monday evening, the 120th anniversary of his birth, by St. Mary's T. A. and B. society, with a gathering of its members and their friends, including St. Anne's T. A. society and the Tierney cadets. The meeting was held in T. A. B. hall, where a programme of much interest was conducted, chief of which were the addresses by Rev. William Cavanaugh and Rev. Thomas Grumbly of St. Patrick's parish, both of whom expressed their sympathy and their advocacy of the cause of temperance.

When President Lewis A. Andrews of St. Mary's society called the meeting to order shortly after 8 o'clock, there was a good attendance in the hall, with about forty of the cadets in uniform occupying front seats. Vice president of the society, 600,000 Signed Pledge. President Andrews briefly but cordially expressed a welcome to those present and introduced William H. McGuinness as the chairman of the evening. Chairman McGuinness referred to the great work of Father Mathew in Ireland and then in America, where he influenced upwards of 600,000 people to sign the pledge. He reminded the members that St. Mary's society would celebrate its 50th anniversary on January 25, thus being the oldest society in this state in continuous existence for half a century, and he commended to the young men the cause of total abstinence, which had the endorsement both of the late lamented Bishop Tierney and is commended by Bishop Nolan.

Several enjoyable musical selections were rendered including a soprano solo, The Midnight, The Rose and You, Miss Sadie Sullivan; piano duet, The Misses Milner; baritone solo, Silver Bell, Horace Corning; solo, My Dream, Miss M. J. Milner. Rev. William Cavanaugh Spoke. Rev. William Cavanaugh, introduced by Chairman McGuinness, expressed his gratification at attending a meeting of those enthused with the work of Father Mathew. It was the spirit of self-denial and his hero's life that endeavored to combat the demon that was endeavoring to offset the work done for Ireland by St. Patrick. When Father Mathew signed the pledge with the words, "Here goes in the name of God," he sounded a clarion cry that has ruffled thousands to his FATHER MATHEW SOCIETY.

Whist Followed by Addresses by Fathers Smith, Keefe and Kennedy.

The open meeting of the Father Mathew Temperance society, which was held in the assembly rooms of the society in Carpenter's hall, at the corner of North Main and Seventh streets, Monday evening, proved to be a big success. The programme consisted of a whist, followed by the giving of the first temperance pledge by the great apostle of temperance, Rev. Theobald Mathew, and an open meeting of the society. The whist was held in order to give others an opportunity of hearing about the work they had done that it might encourage them to join the society. President James M. Murphy called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. Whist was the opening number on the programme and afforded considerable enjoyment to all for about two hours. Joseph Verington won the first prize, handsome silver and Felix R. Mahon carried away the second prize, a box of candy.

TOO LATE FOR THE OILING OF THE STREETS.

The street department has received an answer from the Connecticut company regarding the oiling of the street between the tracks and the rear of the city. The department offered to spread the oil for the company if it would purchase the oil. The response was to the effect that it was thought too late to do any more oiling this fall, as that with the leaves on the rails would be causing a double amount of trouble for the cars. It was indicated, however, that in cases where the company would be willing to do its part in such work. The company had also been communicated with regarding the sweeping of the tracks, but it was pointed out that good progress was being made on the Washington street entrance. The idea of having a skating pond near the Greenville road, where several acres can be devoted to the depth of four or five feet, which would provide a safe place for the young people, was favorably received and Superintendent Duff will probably have a good sized pond flowing there ready for the freezing when the time comes.
