POETRY

THE GARDEN FOUNTAIN. For my delight comes dipping wing About your shallow butting. Where, fearless on the mossy brink The blackbird dips his bill to drink. The sun for my delight shall drink The casket of your lily's heart. Open the lid, white For my delight. And when the burnished noon has come And all my garden choir is dumb, When the dipping wing has sought the leaves And shadow of the jasminted eaves, Then stand—from a brass sky A meteor-flash. A dragon-fly Shall on the edge alight For my delight. When even shall peer with slanting rays Down the sequestered garden-way, Your constant voice shall call me still To learn the secrets of the hill Of hidden sources whence you slip To show me where the marble's lip And drop your crystal riddle. For my delight. —Marna Poole, in London Spectator.

WANTED—A real salesman, a man who has ability, who will work for us as hard and conscientiously as he would for himself, to represent us exclusively in Connecticut for 1911. Must be ready to commence work Jan. 1st. We have a large, well known and in every way first class line of exclusive calendars and advertising specialties. Our line is so attractive and varied that each and every business in every town in the country, without regard to size, can be successfully solicited. Our work is very attractive, but no more so than our reasonable prices, and we know from the experience of others who have been and are now in our employ that any bright hustling man who has ability and is willing to work can make big money for himself. If you are a Commission Agent, or have been one, we will pay you to write Sales Manager, Merchants Publishing Company, Kalamazoo, Mich. Enclose this advertisement with your application. nov14

BREED THEATER

The world's championship baseball team of 1910, the marvelous feature picture at the Breeds Theater, the first three days of this week, is one of the most perfect of its kind ever made. As the photographers were blessed with four sunny days and perfect photography is the result. The event resorted to in this big film, is the world's championship baseball series of 1910, won by the Philadelphia Athletics. From the Chicago Cubs in games played in Philadelphia and Chicago. The series is historic in the fact that it was the first baseball game with a record of four National League pennants and two World Championships, was over-whelmingly decided with a score of 1 to 1 by a team which has been regarded as a minor team in the American League. Many scores of interest and glimpses of notables other than the players who were absent in previous baseball films, will be found included in the 1910 edition of the series film, while the baseball is thoroughly comprehensive and will explain itself to those familiar with the game. Both Miss Westcott and Mr. Collins will appear in special programme of both high class and illustrated songs.

THE AUDITORIUM.

Headed by a spectacular novelty act for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the bill at the Auditorium promises to be an excellent one. Lambert will head the list with their sensational and spectacular musical act. An original idea used in this act is the transformation scene, in which the whole setting changes in full view of the audience. The musical instruments used are of extraordinary type, consisting of palm harp, farm implements, etc. A neat team of singers and dancers are Dill & Ward, who present several terpsichorean acts. In the evening, the bill is headed by the greatest attraction of the season, the Girl with the Diamond Dress. That eccentric comedian, Jack Stockton, known as a man with the best will be on hand Monday night, with a series of mirth-provoking songs and stories. Mr. Stockton is one of the funniest men turns on the road in the country. Rosner & Hillman, character comedy change artists, complete the programme for the first half of the week. The entire bill is changed every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.
