Mr. Myers said that he thought we had more or less of an idea of the situation in the world at the present time. There are three reasons, especially why the church should be praying for the fulfillment of this task.

First, because of the great need of the church, for in exertion along these lines there is a sure to be a corresponding increase in spiritual life, and, thirdly, the world, as was shown in such a powerful manner in the illustrations, is in dire need of spiritual enlightenment.

A number of organizations have been established to bring about this enlightenment. One of these is the Young People's Missionary Movement.

The speaker of the evening was Harry S. Myers, assistant general secretary of the Young People's Missionary Movement, and a picture of the address, which he treated in a forceful and interesting manner, with the aid of the stereopticon, was The Church in Training for the World Task.
