SENATOR MORGAN G. BULKELEY Meets and Greets Republican Senators-Elect Through Courtesy of Charles A. Gates.

Saturday State Central Committee. Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, together with the republican senators-elect from the 25th and 29th districts and a few other republicans of the district at the Hotel Hooker, 12 o'clock. A social hour was enjoyed, and at 1 o'clock the party entered the private dining room and sat down to one of Landford Winter's excellent dinners.

Among those present at the get-together gathering were U. S. Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley of Hartford, Senator Thomas O. Elliott of Ellington, Senator George A. Hammond of Putnam, Charles A. Blake of Newbury, of Brooklyn, Representative Darwin Tracy, Frederick Tracy of Scotland, Representative Charles O. Thompson and Willis Covell and ex-Senator Fayette L. Wright of Pomfret, Avery A. Stanton of Sterling, C. E. Barber of Central Village, Judge of Probate E. A. Douglass of Sterling, Representative Elmer Bennett and Edward Baker of Canterbury, Chauncey Smith of Scotland, Frank Congdon and Representative William H. Phillips of Hampton, Judge James A. Shea, George A. Bartlett, George E. Hiram, C. A. Gates of Willimantic, James M. Clewley of Brooklyn, and Representative Charles E. Turner of Chaplin.

At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Gates said that the party had gathered merely to get better acquainted. The assemblage had as their guest Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley and all present desired to hear a few words from him.

Senator Bulkeley's Address.

Senator Bulkeley addressed the party, with the exception of the few who contributed more to the success of the republican party in the last election than in any previous year. As far back as he could remember the seat of the state looked to Windham county for a good substantial republican vote.

The senator stated that he believed that the great cause was eastward, instead of westward, as has been the case until very recently. Let us take courage and stand up for the principles which the republican party has stood for in the past will be recognized in accordance with what he will say as it is a progressive party and the party that in the past has given the country an excellent government.

George A. Hammond Heard.

State Senator G. H. Hammond spoke briefly, saying that next to his home town, Putnam, he held Windham and Willimantic very dear, as he lived here for a number of years. He said he was sure that the party would carry out its promises. He said that he also hoped to see Senator Bulkeley re-elected.

Senator Thomas O. Elliott said a few words expressing the fine sentiments of the republican party.

Attorney George E. Hiram paid a compliment to Senator Bulkeley, and expressed the hope that Windham county would again stand together as it always had and return Senator Bulkeley to Washington, where he had in the past so ably represented Connecticut. Representative Charles O. Thompson of Pomfret also made a few brief remarks, as did a number of the other gentlemen present.

Demurrer Sustained.

Judge Marcus H. Holcomb has filed a decision sustaining the defendant's demurrer to the plaintiff's complaint that was recently tried before him at Putnam in the case of John Ladda, administrator, vs. F. D. and W. P. Jordan, the cause to recover for injuries or damages by reason of the death of Ladda's son, who was killed by being struck by the defendant's automobile in this city on last Monday evening.

The only ground on which the defendant's demurrer was sustained was that the complaint failed to state the name of the automobile.

APPROPRIATION CONFIRMED.

Total Vote of 15—Disposal of $5,000. Two o'clock struck, the hour set for calling the special town meeting to order in Town hall Saturday afternoon, with but few persons in the hall. It was necessary to send out after others until a quorum was obtained. Town Council, Thomas J. Kelley moved that S. Y. M. C. A. WORK Given Big Boom on Sunday by Address of Joseph Gamson of Fall River.

The speaker at the Methodist church Sunday was Joseph Gamson, assistant secretary of the Young Men's Christian association of Fall River. Mr. Gamson spoke in the interest of the Young Men's Christian association, and said:

I am very glad to have the honor of presenting to you the work of this great institution, which we call the Young Men's Christian association. As we look back on the history of great organizations, we find that there is usually one leading man in the beginning of each movement. This great organization, which we have today, the Young Men's Christian association, we find in its beginning centered in the life of one young man. If I tell you a little of the history of this organization you will be more interested.

George Williams' Career.

In 1821, in a farming community in England, there was born a boy, the youngest of a family of eight boys. He was sent to school till the age of 12, and he then went back to the farm to work. Not seeing adapted to farm work, his father took him to Bridgewater. At the age of sixteen he left home and mother and going out into the world to work his own way. How many of our young men today in like manner go out into the world?

How the Work Began.

They rented quarters at 69 cents per week, and the association in this country has buildings valued at over $56,000,000.

First Association in Boston.

The first organization in this country was formed in Boston and then it advanced to other cities. Today we have 2,500 men on the secretarial force of our associations in this land. The association organizes the time of men, the best and justly by the community.

Creating the Work.

The work of the association is a preventive work. Horace Mann once said, "One reformer is worth a hundred reformers." Mr. Roosevelt says: "It pays better to support a secretary of the Young Men's Christian association in a community than to pay the salary of a policeman."

Dormitories Essential.

I suppose if you would go into the mills of Willimantic and study those that turn out the best work, you will find the closest thing to a dormitory have the best equipment. Now, if the Young Men's Christian association in Willimantic is to turn out the best work, it too, must have suitable equipment, and I would advocate here above everything else, dormitories.

The Fall River Achievement.

I wish some of you had been in Fall River when we raised $55,000 in eight days to improve our building. We had 260 men organized for this great work of civic righteousness.

Personals.

Dr. A. F. Haddad of New York called on Willimantic friends Saturday. Mrs. Nathana Godfrey of Hartford was a Willimantic visitor Saturday.

James Shea of Cheshireville was a Willimantic visitor Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Witte of Boston called on friends in Willimantic Saturday.

Miss Marguerite McGilone of Eagleville was the guest of friends in town over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ashton and son of Main street spent Sunday visiting relatives in Norwich.

J. L. Leonard, Jr., of Hartford spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Leonard.

Shellfish Experiments.

Up to the present time about one-half of the $2,000, which was appropriated by the last legislature for experimenting with shellfish, has been used up. It has proved conclusively that oysters can be easily and profitably cultivated on the coast of Maine. Over 500 bushels of oysters have already been dredged from one bed which Commissioner of Inland Fisheries Domane established in Sheepscot Bay. Two other beds were located in Barnstable Bay. The exact conditions under which oysters flourish are easily obtainable in Maine waters.—Portland Express.

Torrington—Grand Patron James Simpson was among the state officers present last week at the meeting of Olive chapter, E. S. Bristol, which entertained the grand matron, Mrs. Kate A. Case of Bristol.

DANIELSON Fred S. Keach Going to Norwich—Holiday Trade Starts in Well—General Missionary Committee Advocates—Funerals, Miss Williams, Mrs. Harriet K. Harris.

Fred S. Keach, who has been the local agent for an insurance company for the past two years, is to go to Norwich today (Monday) and is to be located there for a time. He will probably be located in Hartford after the first of the year.

Mrs. H. D. Crosby of Academy street is to have the members of the Ladies' Art club at her home for a meeting on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Caron have been entertaining Mrs. George Havens and Mrs. Providence of Melrose, Mass. El Dagenais recently won first prize for foxhounds at the dog show in New London.

Everett O. Winslow was the leader of the B. Y. P. U. meeting on Sunday evening. The topic was The Worldly Life.

Recovering from Accident. E. M. Marlor of Brooklyn is able to be out, after being confined to his home most of the time since he figured in an automobile accident in Danielson.

Opening of Holiday Trade. The business men got a first bit of the Christmas business on Saturday. The sharp winter weather, however, evidently had its effect on the buying public. The first of the holiday displays are now ready.

Extending Electric Light Service. Agents of the People's Light and Power company of Danielson have been soliciting business from residents of Elmville and Dayville, where electric light is soon to be furnished from the plant in Danielson. The local company now sells light in Central Village and Moonup, and also does some business in the town of Brooklyn (West Side).

FUNERAL.

Miss Maria Williams. Funeral services for Miss Maria Williams were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Danielson, Maple street, Sunday afternoon, Rev. Charles H. Barber, pastor of the Westfield Congregational church, officiating. Burial was at Abington, where Miss Williams' father and mother are buried. Simon Danielson, George Danielson, Arthur G. Bill, John A. Paine, A. E. Woods was the funeral director.

Hearing on Adoption. There is to be a hearing before Judge Oliver E. Getty in the probate court for killing this (Monday) morning on the agreement whereby Alice LaGrande is to be adopted by her father, Simon Danielson, George Danielson, Arthur G. Bill, John A. Paine, A. E. Woods was the funeral director.

Cemetery Neglected. From Mashonock comes the announcement that the William Burgess cemetery is badly in need of care. This is a private cemetery in which are buried members of the Burgess, South, Bishop and Batty families. This is one of several such cemeteries in that part of the town.

An Honest Finder. Miss Margaret McErick who lost several bills on Main street in Danielson a few nights ago, has been so fortunate as to have the entire amount returned to her. It was picked up by Mrs. Joseph Codding of Winter street.

Reports from State Conference. At the prayer meeting at the Congregational church Sunday evening reports from the state conference, held at Putnam, were given. Rev. Mr. Barber in that conference filed a minority report relative to the matter of legislation affecting Sunday sports, the majority report of the committee having created much interest when presented to the convention.

GENERAL MISSIONARY COMMITTEE

Advocated for Each Church—Also Mission Study Classes. Resolutions adopted here at the close of the International Missionary Institute include the proposal of the organization of a general missionary committee in each church, its duties to include the supervision of missionary work in all departments of the church. It has also been resolved that it would be well to have a sufficient number of mission study classes be established to efficiently provide for the needs of the church and of the Sunday school.

Waiting until Saturday morning, Mrs. Olsen called on the Putnam bank and says she found the checks for $211 and had drawn out $1,000. Beside she says she took the deed of a woodlot he owned. He left his team in a Putnam stable and his action is a mystery to the family. Mrs. Olsen says she has eight children, most of them grown up and away from home. He owns a little farm which his wife and younger children are looking after in his absence.

WOODSTOCK MAN CASHED CHECK, WITHDRAW MONEY AND DISAPPEARED.

The following despatch from Woodstock was sent out on Saturday: Kristen Olsen, 55 years old, has been missing from his home in Putnam since last Friday morning. He is a carpenter and had been working for Dr. Spaulding. He told his wife she says that he had to go to Putnam in the course of the day, so would take along some checks made out to him and deposit them with his account.

That evening, when he had not returned, Mrs. Olsen called on Dr. Spaulding to ask his whereabouts, but he had not seen him. Waiting until Saturday morning, Mrs. Olsen called on the Putnam bank and says she found the checks for $211 and had drawn out $1,000. Beside she says she took the deed of a woodlot he owned. He left his team in a Putnam stable and his action is a mystery to the family. Mrs. Olsen says she has eight children, most of them grown up and away from home. He owns a little farm which his wife and younger children are looking after in his absence.

CAUGHT IN BELT.

Peter Ethier, 30, an employe at Dudley's silk mill, was whirled around Monday night at the plant Saturday morning when he became entangled in a belt of which a measurement was to be taken. The young man became so human pinwheel and his body circled through the air about fifteen times before the machinery could be stopped. Forty times he went over the shaft, his feet and legs crashed against the ceiling which bears the marks of the contact, but he was not as badly hurt as might be imagined, although he suffered a double fracture of the right forearm. He was taken to the Day Kimball hospital. The machinery of the entire plant was stopped in order that Ethier might be released.
