NEW LONDON VOTES TO INCREASE IN SIZE

Committee of Five to Consider Annexation of Part of Waterford—New City Hall.

The common council of New London Monday evening voted to raise a committee of five which shall take into consideration the annexation of a section of Waterford to New London, and the committee is to report to the council the result of its inquiries and suggest proceedings in the matter.

The common council had adjourned last evening when Mayor Mahan, who had vacated the chair to Alderman Perkins, entered and reconvened the council in session. He said there was one important matter that had been neglected, and announced that matter to be the proposition to enlarge the territory of New London. He said New London is a small city with a territorial extent, one of the smallest in the country. He believed it was time for the citizens to say whether they want to annex a portion of Waterford that the city may have a chance to grow.

He spoke of the original town and of the setting off of sections of Waterford, Groton, etc. He suggested that a committee should be appointed to take up the matter and present it to the next general assembly. He believed there were possibilities for the city that were not appreciated and he wanted to see them taken advantage of.

The only other action of the council of importance was the vote to authorize the mayor to call a special city meeting to vote on the proposition of a $100,000 city hall with the bond issue, which was authorized by the assembly two years ago. The mayor will call the meeting later.

SUIT FOR DEATH OF

WOMAN IN MYSTIC Was Run Into by Team and Died from Injuries—Lurie Main Gets $1,050.

The first matter to come up before Tuesday's session of the superior court was the completion of the case of H. H. Main vs. Luther Gray and others, administrators of the estate of the late Ira W. Main. Judge Case charged the jury to say whether the men had been out but fifty minutes a verdict was brought in by them, granting the sum of $1,050 and costs to the plaintiff. This was accepted by the court. Miss Main sued the estate of her brother for $5,000 for acting as his housekeeper for many years.

After the case had been disposed of, a jury was selected for the trial of the case of William Yonnan vs. Mystic, administrators of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Helen Yonnan, against Harry P. Hill, the assistant postmaster of Mystic.

The first witness was the plaintiff, but as he could not speak English good enough for Court Reporter Graham to understand, Herman Jackel was called in as the interpreter. Yonnan is suing for $5,000 on account of the death of his mother, whom it was alleged was run down and killed by a team driven by her brother.

He told of how he and his mother was visiting them at the time, were returning home with a load of goods early on the morning of January 1, and that when a short distance from home and near a street light, a single team was driven into the party. All were able to elude it except Mrs. Yonnan, who was hit by one of the wheels and knocked down. She was killed by the fall.

The case was closed when court adjourned for the day and it will be resumed this morning.

The case of Ross vs. the New Haven road, specially set for trial on Tuesday, has been settled and will be withdrawn.

Additional Counsel Retained.

GOV. HANLY STUNS LARGE AUDIENCE

Lectured on 'The Patriotism of Peace'—Fourth Number of Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Course.

Under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association Hon. J. Frank Hanly, for four years governor of Indiana, appeared at the Central Baptist church Tuesday evening and addressed to boundless enthusiasm a large and attentive audience. His masterly presentation of his famous lecture, 'The Patriotism of Peace,' expressed in every word and gesture, his sense thrilling with the intensity of his emotion, he fairly carried his audience with him in his oratorical flights and called forth repeated bursts of applause. Nothing to equal this according to opinions expressed at the conclusion of the lecture from all sides, has been heard in Norwich for a long time. Governor Hanly has the reputation, which he justly deserves, of being one of the greatest orators in this country today. His reputation which was sustained in his address last evening. While it was a wonderful address, a masterpiece of oratory, it was the children who were present could grasp the argument and understand it. The inclement weather that prevailed through the evening kept a large number at home who had made plans to attend this lecture, but notwithstanding the cold, a good sized crowd present and everyone was well repaid for having ventured out.

Presented by Dr. Kaufman. Rev. M. S. Kaufman, D. D., pastor of Trinity M. E. church, introduced the speaker. He congratulated the Y. M. C. A. for being able to present such a splendid program as this. There is no danger whatever lurking in this direction. There are foes, however, that we need to fear. These foes are not our enemies at home, but our very midst, and chief among them are these—Greed, avarice and love of gain. They have done more during the past two years to obstruct our very fair country of ours than anything else. The speaker briefly referred to how such things as these had brought ruin to our country at home and to our large cities, and pointed out what had happened in San Francisco, New York, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and Springfield, to substantiate his claims.

The speaker declared that he was no pessimist, but an optimist, and he had the highest hopes for the future success and greatness of this country. What we need most, however, is a consecrated citizenship, and we must have this citizenship of affairs in existence all over the land for 25 years we would find that the world would have come near to the ideal we have for it than ever before.

Doesn't Fear War With Japan. Governor Hanly stated that he differed from Congressman Hobson of Alabama and did not think we were in any danger of going to war with Japan. He said that we were in no danger whatever lurking in this direction. There are foes, however, that we need to fear. These foes are not our enemies at home, but our very midst, and chief among them are these—Greed, avarice and love of gain. They have done more during the past two years to obstruct our very fair country of ours than anything else. LESTER & WASLEY PLANT WILL REMAIN. Percival W. Chapman, Who Has Charge of Mr. Wasley's Estate, Will Be the Manager.

Following the death of Frederick R. Wasley, who had had about thirty years assumed the ownership of the Lester & Wasley machine shop, there was some question as to what would become of the property. It was finally decided that the business should be continued and that it will remain in this city and will probably be carried on in the same building.

As manager of the plant Percival W. Chapman, who has charge of Mr. Wasley's estate, will be the manager. He has been in charge of the business since the death of Mr. Wasley.

Erastus S. Geer. Erastus S. Geer died at his home in Lebanon Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock. Mr. Geer had been in poor health for some time, but was seriously ill for the last few days. He was a well-to-do farmer and dairyman of the town of Lebanon, and was a representative of the county in more ways than one. He was one of the early settlers of the county. He was active in the agricultural development of his section, alive to her moral and educational needs, and was directly in promoting good government, and in fact assisted in almost every one of the enterprises that have advanced the general good and advancement.

He was born March 6, 1845, in Goshen society, the son of David and Lovina Smith Geer, and was the oldest of three children. He received his education in the district school and at a select school at Lebanon. He was brought up on a farm and resided at home until his marriage in 1872 to Miss Grace E. Sherman of Colchester, when he moved to the farm which he occupied at the time of his death.

Mr. Geer was always actively interested in public affairs. He served in the legislature in 1877, when he was on the committee on assessors of votes for justice of the peace. He served as chairman of the board of selectmen of Lebanon, and also as an assessor. His political sympathies were given to the republican party. Mr. Geer was one of the directors of the Jonathan Trumbull association of Lebanon. He always took an active part in the affairs of the Goshen Congregational church, being Sunday school superintendent.

THEY GROW Good Humor and Cheerfulness from Right Food and Drink.

Anything that interferes with good health is apt to keep cheerfulness and good humor in the background. A Washington lady found that letting coffee alone made things bright for her.

"Four years ago I was practically given up by my doctor and was not expected to live long. My nervous system was in bad condition."

"But I was young and did not want to die so I began to look about for a cure of my chronic trouble. I used all kinds of nervous rest, which would exhaust me, and after each spell it would take me days before I could sit up."

"I became convinced my trouble was caused by coffee. I decided to stop it and bought some Postum. The first cup I drank was according to directions, had a soothing effect on my nerves and I liked the taste. For a time I nearly lived on Postum and ate Postum besides. I am today a healthy woman."

"My family and relatives wonder if I am the same person I was four years ago, when I could do no work on account of nervousness. Now I am doing my own housework, take care of my own family, and do other things. I don't feel any better than I did four months ago. I am so busy that I hardly get time to write a letter, yet I do it all with the cheerfulness and good humor that comes from enjoying good health."

"I tell my friends it is to Postum I owe my life today."
