OBITUARY

Louis F. Vetter. At 11 o'clock Monday evening the death of Louis F. Vetter, oldest son of Policeman and Mrs. Jacob Vetter, occurred at his home, No. 25 Platt avenue, after an illness for the past year. His death will be learned with deep regret.

Louis F. Vetter was born in Norwich Nov. 16, 1872, and has always resided in this city with the exception of a year spent in Hartford. He was employed in local frame factories until his health made it necessary for him to give it up. He was a patient sufferer, making no complaint and bearing his suffering with fortitude and resignation. He was a young man of cheerful disposition, being quiet and unassuming in his manner, but kind, hearted and a favorite among a wide circle of friends. July 3, 1907, he married Eva E. Lewis.

Besides his parents he is survived by his wife, six sisters, Mrs. Louis S. Manchester, Mrs. S. J. Coit, Miss Maud E. Vetter, Mrs. William Thorp, Miss Arline Vetter, Miss Edna Vetter, Miss Daisy E. Lamphere of Boston, and two brothers, Harry and Albert Vetter, of this city. He belonged to no organization.

Miss Jerusha Hinckley. Saturday morning early the death of Miss Jerusha Hinckley occurred at the home of her brother, Edwin Hinckley, in Lebanon, in her 83d year. She had been sick but a short time, death resulting from an attack of the grip and advanced years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hinckley and always resided in Lebanon, where she was highly respected and was noted for her interest and generosity in all Christian work. She was one of the few old ladies of the town of Lebanon. She had lived at her brother's home for many years and was a member of the G. W. Congregational church in Lebanon. She was born Nov. 13, 1818, and is survived by her brother, several nieces and nephews. Two of the nephews are Charles H. Hinckley of Groton and William Hinckley of Williamstic.

Custom Receipts. By the report of the secretary of the treasury, transmitted to congress, it is shown the office of collector of customs paid C. T. Stanton at Stonington $508.77 in the past year, in commissions and salaries. The New London office paid the least of any in Connecticut. Collector T. O. Thompson receiving a total of $409.62.

New York Customs Officials to Go. New York, Jan. 23.—Collector Loeb will be given in the New York World tomorrow as authority for the statement that a high official of the port, a chief clerk in one of the departments, and ten other men drawing good salaries are to be dismissed for alleged complicity in the customs scandals of recent years.

H=O= Cream

If you haven't used it, you've failed to use the best of its kind.

Peroxide Cream is a soft, sweet, dainty uncton for beautifying the skin. It isn't the old-time greasy, sticky kind—it's the new kind, the up-to-the-minute kind, which rubs in without leaving a trace of grease and actually softens and whitens the skin.

It's cleverly perfumed and delightful to use. Cures skin troubles, chaps and rough skin.

BRIDGE JUMPING

William Moore, Aged 50, Carried Down the Shetucket and then Swam Out Into the Harbor Where He Was Rescued—Frank Petrofski Rowed Out and Caught Him as He Was About to Sink.

Bridge jumping has appealed to but few in the past several years, although some years ago as a sport it got a hold on a few of the local daredevils, and furnished plenty of excitement.

There was a reported case of it Monday afternoon about 4:15 o'clock when William Moore of No. 278 West Thames street, a papermaker, with a different object in his mind, did not go to work on the bridge into the Shetucket river, keeping afloat until nearly to the freight house and from that point to the center of the harbor was again rescued by Frank Petrofski, who rowed out to him and took him into the boat.

Many saw him in his helpless position but could do nothing, and had not Mr. Petrofski gone to his aid, which he did at a big risk, he would have gone to the bottom.

Moore had been at the almshouse where on Saturday he caused quite a little trouble while under the influence of liquor, and he was taken to the police station. He remained there until Monday morning, when he was presented by Deputy Judge Barnes in the city court. On his plea that he could get work in Montville if given a chance, he was placed on probation for the first of February and allowed to go.

He did not go to Montville and during the day had been drinking more. During the afternoon he was taken to the selectmen's office. He was told to come back later, as those in the office at that time were busy, and he went away. He must have been in the selectmen's office. He was told to come back later, as those in the office at that time were busy, and he went away.

Edward Flash of New London, formerly engineer on F. J. Fogwood's yacht Tillie, was a visitor in Norwich on Monday.

Mrs. Minnie E. Leete of Trading Cove is much improved and was able to be out Monday for the first time in six weeks.

The Misses Hildegard Cronley and Catherine Donohue of Williamstic spent Sunday with Miss Esther Cronley, who is the guest for an extended time of her aunt, Mrs. Casey of Broad street, this city.

Judge and Mrs. Lucius Brown left for Atlantic City on Monday, for a stay of two or three weeks. Judge Brown goes in the interest of his health, which has not been of the best for some time past.

HEARING ON SCHOOL TAKEN TO ALMSHOUSE.

Residents of Harbor District at New London Remonstrated to Board of Education.

There was a hearing before the school board of the Harbor school at New London Monday evening, 1911, on the condition and management of the school. It was claimed that the front doors are locked during school hours, and that the school is not open to the public during the school term.

The school is not open to the public during the school term. The school is not open to the public during the school term. The school is not open to the public during the school term.

John D. and Benjamin H. Stanton. The double funeral of John D. Stanton and his nephew, Benjamin H. Stanton, was held Sunday afternoon at Pine Neck farm, the uncle's former home. The services were conducted by Rev. C. M. Reed, assisted by Rev. Charles R. McNeely. In honor of the memory of the elder Mr. Stanton, Warren council of the United American Mechanics, attended and sent a floral piece. In respect to the memory of the younger Mr. Stanton, the board of trustees of the Burley school young men and their teachers.

The bearers of the body of John D. Stanton were Henry Chase, John J. Comstock, Charles E. Briggs and Charles Cross. The body of Benjamin H. Stanton was borne to the grave by the class of 1910. They were Morgan B. Haven, Donald M. Marvin, S. Victor Prince, John O'Neil, John Taylor and Gilbert Parker. These young men were selected by Benjamin Stanton himself, when he was told that he could not live. Mr. Stanton, who died the day after he was 18 years old and the day before his uncle's demise, looked upon his imminent death calmly.

COLONIAL CLUB WHIST.

First Night in a Series of Four—18 Tables of Players.

The first of four whists to be given by the Colonial club was held Monday evening at the club house. There were 18 tables of players and a most enjoyable time resulted. Play continued for two hours.

The next three whists will be held on Monday evenings and on the fourth night prizes will be awarded and reported in the Bulletin. The management committee had the affair in charge.

AT POLI'S. Paid in Full.

The presentation of Eugene Walter's powerful play of American life, entitled Paid in Full, was given a capital presentation by Poli's Players at Poquonock Monday afternoon and evening. The four acts were well staged, the settings being excellent and adding much to the success of the production.

Gertrude Perry, as the wife of Joe Brooks, played the role in a most effective manner. Particularly fine was she in the scene at Captain Williams' quarters, while equally strong was her work in the closing scene when she laid before her husband the faults and failures. S. F. Cairns as Captain Williams was fitted for the role and his work was excellent throughout. Miss Laurence Dumber as Jimmy was likewise clever as a friend of the family. J. A. Robb as the servant made a good impression, while Edward Haynes as Mrs. Harris and Sue Fisher as Beth Harris, were much favored.

Between the acts entertaining novelties were shown. There has been recent change in the leadership of the orchestra. H. M. LaMotte, violinist, being the leader now, with Fred Geer at the piano.

How to Cure Rheumatism

Prominent Doctor's Best Prescription—It is Easily Mixed.

This is a very simple and harmless formula but it has worked wonders for all who have tried it, quickly curing chronic and acute rheumatism and backache. Get one ounce of syrup of Saragatol composed of one ounce of Toria compound. Then get half a pint of good whiskey and put the other ingredients into it. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal and at bedtime. Shake the bottle before using. Results are felt the first day. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand. It is a wholesale house. Anyone can mix them.

place on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the home of his parents, No. 456 Main street, where there was a large attendance of sorrowing relatives and friends. There was a wealth of beautiful floral tokens, showing the sympathy felt for the afflicted family.

Rev. P. C. Wright conducted the service and the bearers were two close friends of the deceased. Burial was in Yantic cemetery, Rev. Mr. Wright conducting a committal service.

The little boy passed away Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock after an illness of two weeks with pneumonia. He was born in New London 5 years and 13 days ago, and his bright, happy disposition endeared him to all who knew him. He was buried by his parents and one brother, Reginald Moore Yeomans.

Mrs. Henry Bennett. At 3 o'clock Monday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Henry Bennett was held from the home of her son, No. 32 Williams street. There was a large number of relatives and friends in attendance, those from out of town being in West Thames street, where his wife's relatives resided.

There were many choice floral remembrances showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by his friends. Rev. C. W. Gale, Calvin H. Frisbie, S. Alpheus Gilbert and W. F. Maine, burial was in Yantic cemetery, Rev. Mr. Wright conducting the service. Church & Allen had charge of the arrangements.

MORE FREIGHT BUSINESS FOR PROPELLER COMPANY.

Proposed Idea of Taking the Freight From and To the Groton and Stonington Line at Groton.

The merchants along the line of the Groton and Stonington trolley road are planning to have a freight line, and the project is being advanced by the trolley company and has received the support of the Norwich and New York propeller line, which is to have a freight service as a business for the freight steamers three times as large as they are now getting.

At present there is a working plan between the Groton and Stonington trolley and the propeller line of freight express. All the freight to and from New York is handled on a 50 per cent basis, but there are drawbacks to the methods that have to be employed.

This freight is landed at the dock of the Propeller line at the foot of Federal street, and has to be trucked to the ferry boat and then transferred there if the dock is a bull. As many as five double loads are carried each day and besides being an inconvenience, the expense of trucking amounts to a large item.

In view of this extra expense the G. and S. trolley line has advanced the plan of building a dock on the Groton side of the river, the dock to be erected on the Susan (Morse) property, alongside of Captain Chipman's fish market. The plan meets with the approval of the Norwich and New York line, which has expressed its willingness to load and unload freight there if the dock is a bull.

The freight boat is carrying from 15 to 25 tons of freight each day for the trolley express, and if this can be increased to 40 or 75 tons a day, the project will undoubtedly go through.

For some time past the G. and S. officials have been making soundings of the premises of freight for this line from the merchants and manufacturers, and it is generally understood that the efforts have been very successful that it is said the Groton dock is about to be built.

In the winter the Propeller line runs but one boat in summer two. Should the deal go through two boats will be used all the year around.

Incidents in Society
