The fact that the town council took no action in regard to the protest given on hearing Wednesday night relative to issuance of license to the Bliven Opera House for the Johnson-Jeffries fight pictures left the matter in doubt.

The clerk took authority to issue the license and that would have been done in this particular case had not President Clarke of the town council notified the ministers of the town and filed a protest against the fight pictures being exhibited in Westeryly.

The lack of action of the council left the matter just as if there was no protest and no meeting of the council for consideration of the subject, and it was claimed the clerk could issue the license under the circumstances.

The clerk took a different view, declaring that the matter of issuing the license was put up direct to the council, and as they refused to vote in favor of or against the license, he would take a like stand and issue no license. It was hinted that the fight pictures would be given and the courts would be called upon to decide upon the right to refuse license under the circumstances, application having been made in the customary way.

The issue was decided, however, at a special meeting of the directors of the Bliven Opera House company. There was a warm session of the directors, which lasted for three hours, and there was some very plain talk, during which unfavorable reference was made to some of those who protested against the license and who declared they represented the best sentiment in the town. It was finally voted by a majority of the directors that application for the fight pictures be withdrawn and there will be no such exhibition for the present.

A Noteworthy Report.

A notable victory has been won by the advocates of the popular election of senators; the senate committee on judiciary has decided in favor of a resolution authorizing the submission of a constitutional amendment for such elections to the states.

The significance of this action lies in the fact that heretofore the upper chamber of congress has refused to endorse such a proposal; whether it will do so now remains to be seen, but an important step forward has been taken in the judiciary committee's favorable report.

On four occasions, in 1894, 1898, 1900 and 1902, the house has voted to submit a similar amendment, but without further result.

The New York Tribune, deprecating hasty action in the matter, says

Over a Million a Year.

Now that the governor has signed the bill appropriating $150,000 a year for permanent improvements to Vermont highways it is figured that over a million dollars will be expended on the roads of the state in 1911. This aggregate will include: Highway appropriation, $150,000; towns which take advantage of state aid, $120,000; automobiles, $50,000; state 5 per cent. tax, $114,000; towns will raise, $468,500; total, $1,002,500. Certainly a better investment of the money could not be made.—Rutland News.
