

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE

Declare Women Should Not Be in Active Politics—New Haven Man Hissed by Suffrage Advocates—Asserted That Mothers Did Not Want Suffrage, But It is the Pleasantry of Women Who Have Tired of Dog and Horse Shows and Want to Swell Colony at Reno.

Hartford, Conn., April 6.—Some eloquent arguments against equal suffrage were made in the house chamber this afternoon when the legislative committee on women's suffrage concluded its hearings on this subject. The specific bill discussed was the granting of municipal suffrage to women, the executive committee listening to pleas on the bill for giving women a vote on the liquor question.

The audience was not so large as yesterday, but there were no seats to spare, and much of the standing room at points of view was taken.

"All Are Equal," says Bingham.

The bill for municipal suffrage for women is in charge of Representative Bingham of Naugatuck, who first made a plea based on the principle enunciated by the founders of the country that all are equal, he claiming that in the grant of the vote, man applied to women, and therefore women should have every right that man has.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Bacon, president of the state association, spoke for general suffrage, recalling many incidents in her long service in the interest of equal suffrage, and she has attended the legislative hearings.

"We Want Full Suffrage."

Upon the conclusion of her address, Senator McNeill asked Mrs. Bacon if she would prefer the bill for municipal suffrage to that for full suffrage. "We want full suffrage," said Mrs. Bacon. "That is what we have been working for. We will take municipal suffrage in preference to no suffrage."

The reply created enthusiasm. Mrs. Catherine Lent Stevenson of Boston, recently from her globe-circling trip in the interests of the Woman's Temperance association, said that she was present to give testimony as the arguments of yesterday fully covered the subject. She told of what suffrage had done for women in Australia and New Zealand.

She closed with the wish that the free state of Connecticut may not be above taking a lesson from the countries she had mentioned and that the mothers and wives may help in making the legislation of the future.

Opposed by New York Woman.

Mrs. Arthur Dodge, president of the New York Anti-Suffrage association, spoke in opposition. She appeared, she said, because "the women of New York who opposed equal suffrage had not the confidence to appear. In Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut the campaign for equal rights had been waged, but it had been losing fight. Rhode Island killing the measure in committee and Massachusetts voting it down. It seemed rather serious that the full strength of the suffragists had been centered on Connecticut. She asked the committee to kill the proposition in committee. She claimed the argument for equal rights had lost ground. The once potent argument that women were entitled to the ballot because of inherent right had been dropped. She did not have anything very practical, she said. One speaker that went back into her mother's time and the other dragged in foreign countries to show what Connecticut should do.

Women Should Not Be in Politics.

We do not believe women should be in active politics. Active politics means the holding of office. There can be no disguise of the fact that those who have the ballot want to have office. We consider that we have more direct influence, more far-reaching influence, than if we had the ballot. After this year we will find strong opposition to suffrage and it will not be necessary for the women of Connecticut to go outside the state to get someone to speak for them.

Spirit of Democracy is Fulfilled.

Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, also in opposition, said the high tide of suffrage had been reached in this country. The highest point was reached when the negro was given the ballot. The claim that to withhold the ballot from women is contrary to the spirit of democracy is untenable, said Miss Chittenden. The spirit of democracy was fulfilled when the ballot was given to the negro for since then no family or household of an American citizen has been excluded from the exercise of suffrage.

Movement Fifty Years Behind Times.

The rapid changes in economic development in this country the past half century have forced many women into industrial life," she said. "There are no absolute facts to prove that the ballot will help the working women." Miss Chittenden touched upon economic questions and statistics and the character of legislation affecting women. She said the movement was fifty years behind the times. Men have found that social reform could be brought about by other ways than merely voting on election day.

Will Mean Deterioration of Women.

"Conservation is the watchword of the hour," said Miss Chittenden. "If women should take the responsibilities and duties of political life it must do a man's work in addition to her own—it will mean a diffusion of her own natural forces and energies—and we shall have deterioration and not progress."

New Haven Man Hissed.

J. J. Spahn of New Haven made a plea against suffrage and once was hissed by some of the audience. He called the movement an effort of tacticians and a man's work in addition to her own—it will mean a diffusion of her own natural forces and energies—and we shall have deterioration and not progress."

He said that it took courage to oppose the question, especially in the presence of such a bouquet of beautiful femininity and fragrance through these legislative halls. He had listened to the arguments of the suffragists and "suffragettes" and realized the dangers to political ambitions. He tendered his sympathy to the committee and said he entered upon a discussion whereon a politician fears to tread. He had no political ambition. He opposed the granting of another petal on the plant of motherhood.

Plies the Man Who Has Not Loved.

"It is a new gospel that is being proclaimed in this twentieth century," he said. "The gospel that women are men's equal. We have looked upon women as infinitely our superior. We know how to pity a man into whose soul has not come the love of women. Nothing is so desolate as the home of a bachelor."

Mr. Spahn addressed himself to the bachelors on the committee, and laughter. "Or," he added, "the deserted boudoir of the maiden into whose ear came no word of man."

Keep Women on Her Throne.

But from those foolish visions of hope and despair we will draw the veil. We will look at the scheme of the Divine Maker and place women on the throne where she had been enshrined in all the world's sacred activities. It is the woman from this throne. Who would pull her down into the mire of political strife? Who would drag down from their saintly heights of the Marys and Marthas of sacred activity the throne the Carrie Nations, the Dr. Walkers and the Emily Pankhursts? Who will bring forth this spectre of domestic strife?

Mothers Don't Want the Ballot.

Not the women who find motherhood the sacred mission of creation. Not the man who exalts the home and exalts womanhood. Not the womanly woman or the womanly man who would jump the social hurdles to fulfill their ambition, or the man who would play upon the emotions of women as the player plays upon the strings of a harp. These are the men who are shy, resentful and have personal ends to gain. In New York the movement has been taken up as a plaything of the moment by the women who have tired of their dog and horse shows and who are anxious to swell the colony at Reno.

The most convincing argument for the ballot that I have heard was that of Mrs. Pierson, who said: "We want the ballot when we want it." Mrs. Pierson wanted the forbidden apple, and she got it, and the world has been in trouble ever since. Mr. Elder said yesterday—and then the women hissed, and Senator McNeill rapped her order. Mr. Spahn's time being up, he sat down with the closing words: "They say that women will not vote on license questions, but where the hounds of prohibition run there you will find the trail of the suffragettes."

Robert J. Woodruff, prosecuting attorney in the New Haven court of common pleas, rose in opposition to say he opposed the measure ten years ago. There is no need of equal suffrage, he said.

Said Mr. Woodruff: The ladies are crying out about a calamity that has never occurred. I say to you ladies that everything is all right. Where are the senators and representatives who are speaking in behalf of their constituents for woman suffrage? It proves that women in general don't wish it. If the heart of Connecticut were beating in sympathy with the suffragettes there would be an enthusiasm throughout the state. I don't believe the ballot will help women.

Can Rock the Cradle and Vote, Too.

E. W. Hooker of Hartford was the first speaker in rebuttal. "The question divides itself into two parts," he said. "Is it right and is it expedient to give a woman the ballot? It is a label on womanhood to say she can rock the cradle and vote. They would rock the cradle as gently and be as lovely as they are now, and the community would be better for their living in it were they allowed to vote."

Mrs. Hepburn said: "It is very necessary in order to have a movement successful for objections to be raised to it."

"Submit it to the People."

Among other things she said: "The American Federation of Labor has endorsed woman suffrage, because it believes it will help the wives of workmen."

Miss Emily Pierson of Cromwell, state organizer for the Connecticut Woman's Suffrage association, the last speaker, said: "I ask you gentlemen if women are on a pedestal." In closing Miss Pierson referred to the recent shirtwaist factory fire in New York, saying that 143 were killed. They had lost their lives, she said, and never had a chance to better conditions with the ballot.

"Don't delay this question for the sake of sentiment," she said. "Submit it to the people, I say, with all the emphasis that I can command."

THE NEW SENATE.

Our Senators and Congressmen.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, April 6.—When congress was called to order at noon Tuesday the members of the Connecticut delegation were in their seats.

It was a strange looking senate that crowds of spectators in the galleries gazed down upon when the vice-president called that body to order at the opening of the first session of the Sixty-second congress.

The changes were so numerous as to be astonishing to one accustomed to see the senate as it has existed for many years. Many of the old, familiar faces and figures were gone. In their places were new men, sometimes of the opposite political party.

The most striking feature of the scene presented by the senate was the strength of the democratic side. The senate now numbers fifty republicans and forty-one democrats, not seat being vacant. The democratic side of the chamber was solidly filled with members of that party, with the single exception of Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, who still occupies his old seat on the democratic side. An additional seat was found necessary on the democratic side to accommodate Senator O'Gorman of New York.

With their strength increased to a point most equal to that of the republicans, the democrats are entering a more confident air than in years past, and it is easy to perceive that they contemplate taking a more active interest in legislation than they have done for several sessions.

Senator Brandegee will retain the same suite of rooms in the office building, but will have in addition the committee room of inter-oceanic canal, located in the capitol building, of which committee he will be made the chairman. He will retain the same clerical assistance he has had heretofore.

Senator McLean has not yet received any committee assignments. He has located in suite 404, on the top floor of the senate office building, facing the capitol. He has appointed C. B. Kilbourn of Southington as his secretary and W. H. Sault of Waterbury as his messenger. Mr. Kilbourn was for years stenographer to Senator Bulkeley, and will prove a useful assistant to the new senator. Mr. Sault came to Washington with the late Governor Litley, since whose retirement from congress he has been in the service of Congressman St. Lawrence Tilson. Major Tilson, congressman-at-large, is located in room 308 of the house.

Mr. Kelley, the new member from the second district, is the only one of the Connecticut delegation who has been assigned to any committee. He is a member of committee on post-office and post-roads, and committee on coinage, weights and measures. He is located in room 177, house office building. In the drawing for seats Mr. Kelley drew seat 245, the only one in the office building. He will retain the same clerk he has had for the past ten years.

Mr. Higgins still occupies his old quarters in the office building and expects to retain his place on the judiciary committee. He is located in room 177, house office building. In the drawing for seats Mr. Higgins drew seat 245, the only one in the office building. He will retain the same clerk he has had for the past ten years.

Mr. Hill has moved from his committee room in the capitol building to room 202. He retains the services of C. S. Greenwood as his clerk. He will, undoubtedly, be one of the minority members of the ways and means committee.

There was no attempt in either house to do any business except organization.

A Good Word for Congressman Sperry.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, April 6.—A local paper has this to say of the late member from the second district: "Neilamiah Sperry, who entered congress as he reached three score and ten, and remained until the weight of his 84 years made retirement imperative, is another legislative landmark that the galleries looked for in vain today. If Mr. Sperry had run perhaps it would have been different, but as it is a democrat, Thomas L. Bailey comes from the Connecticut district which Mr. Sperry so long represented. Bailey is a newspaper man."

Personal.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, April 6.—R. M. Blakeslee and wife have been in Washington to attend the opening of congress. Mr. Blakeslee is the publisher of the Bridgeport Post.

Prof. Harry B. March and twenty-three pupils, the graduating class of the Rockville High school, are in this city. They visited both the house and senate in session and were photographed on the capitol steps.

Case of Coffee Poisoning.

Mrs. Angela Farmacone, a resident of Bridgeport, was transferred from her home to St. Vincent's hospital, suffering from coffee poisoning. It is a rare case. Dr. Benjamin I. Hart found Mrs. Farmacone in a state of coma, and suffering from poison. The woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

Sheriff Hawley Thanks Test.

A dispatch from Washington, Saturday, states that Sidney B. Hawley, U. S. marshal for Connecticut, and William E. Burnham, were the guests of Senator Brandegee, and that the latter took them to the White house and presented them to President Taft. U. S. Marshal Hawley took the occasion to thank the president for his appointment. The two later visited Attorney General Wickersham at the department of justice. Both Sheriff Hawley and Mr. Burnham will continue their stay in the south for some time.—Bridgeport Telegram.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Mr. Kelley, the new member from the second district, is the only one of the Connecticut delegation who has been assigned to any committee. He is a member of committee on post-office and post-roads, and committee on coinage, weights and measures. He is located in room 177, house office building. In the drawing for seats Mr. Kelley drew seat 245, the only one in the office building. He will retain the same clerk he has had for the past ten years.

Mr. Higgins still occupies his old quarters in the office building and expects to retain his place on the judiciary committee. He is located in room 177, house office building. In the drawing for seats Mr. Higgins drew seat 245, the only one in the office building. He will retain the same clerk he has had for the past ten years.

Mr. Hill has moved from his committee room in the capitol building to room 202. He retains the services of C. S. Greenwood as his clerk. He will, undoubtedly, be one of the minority members of the ways and means committee.

There was no attempt in either house to do any business except organization.

A Good Word for Congressman Sperry.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, April 6.—A local paper has this to say of the late member from the second district: "Neilamiah Sperry, who entered congress as he reached three score and ten, and remained until the weight of his 84 years made retirement imperative, is another legislative landmark that the galleries looked for in vain today. If Mr. Sperry had run perhaps it would have been different, but as it is a democrat, Thomas L. Bailey comes from the Connecticut district which Mr. Sperry so long represented. Bailey is a newspaper man."

Personal.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Washington, April 6.—R. M. Blakeslee and wife have been in Washington to attend the opening of congress. Mr. Blakeslee is the publisher of the Bridgeport Post.

Prof. Harry B. March and twenty-three pupils, the graduating class of the Rockville High school, are in this city. They visited both the house and senate in session and were photographed on the capitol steps.

Case of Coffee Poisoning.

Mrs. Angela Farmacone, a resident of Bridgeport, was transferred from her home to St. Vincent's hospital, suffering from coffee poisoning. It is a rare case. Dr. Benjamin I. Hart found Mrs. Farmacone in a state of coma, and suffering from poison. The woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

Sheriff Hawley Thanks Test.

A dispatch from Washington, Saturday, states that Sidney B. Hawley, U. S. marshal for Connecticut, and William E. Burnham, were the guests of Senator Brandegee, and that the latter took them to the White house and presented them to President Taft. U. S. Marshal Hawley took the occasion to thank the president for his appointment. The two later visited Attorney General Wickersham at the department of justice. Both Sheriff Hawley and Mr. Burnham will continue their stay in the south for some time.—Bridgeport Telegram.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Woman had been suffering from insomnia for some time. The woman was advised by a neighbor to drink some extract of coffee to produce sleep. About half a pound of coffee was put in a pan and allowed to stew in very little water. It made a good strong extract, and this stuff the woman took to get her to sleep. It came near doing it, too, and but for the doctor there might have been no awakening. He found the woman suffering from caffeine poisoning. There is a good deal of caffeine in coffee. The doctor worked over the woman for some time and decided to send her to St. Vincent's hospital for observation. Mrs. Farmacone is in a hopeful condition.

It is said that all the barracks of the New York hotels are owned by the "tipping trust."

Mr. Kelley, the new member from the second district, is the only one of the Connecticut delegation who has been assigned to any committee. He is a member of committee on post-office and post-roads, and committee on coinage, weights and measures. He is located in room 177, house office building. In the drawing for seats Mr. Kelley drew seat 245, the only one in the office building. He will retain the same clerk he has had for the past ten years.

Mr. Higgins still occupies his old quarters in the office building and expects to retain his place on the judiciary committee. He is located in room 177, house office building. In the drawing for seats Mr. Higgins drew seat 245, the only one in the office building. He will retain the