HENRY L. EDGARTON DIES IN HARTFORD HOSPITAL.

Expert Trap Shooter Who for Several Years Held Championship of Connecticut.

Saturday afternoon news of the death of Henry L. Edgarton was received in this city.

The news of Mr. Edgarton's death came as a great surprise to his many friends as but very few knew that he was ill or that he had gone to Hartford to undergo an operation.

Mr. Edgarton was born in Baltimore, Md., March 8, 63 years ago, and came to Willimantic in 1889 and had since made his home here.

There survive a widow, Mrs. C. C. Edgarton, who went to the bedside of her husband Friday, when it was found that his condition was critical.

RUNAWAY BOY Captured by New London Police—Returned to Willimantic With His Father.

Saturday's New London Telegraph said: Howard Boyne, a 13 year old Willimantic boy, started out to see the big world he had read and heard so much about and he decided to make New York the price of a ticket to the big town with the white lights, and exclaim: "Gee, it's a beauty!"

Master Howard had planned to sleep Thursday night on the Chelsea line boat, New York bound, but in a state of nervousness he had his little red socks and once more tumbled into his own little cot in his Willimantic home.

Had read of many other runaway boys who had gone to New York and by dint of Frugality and Patience had become noted Income Tax Dodgers.

About three hours after Howard left home the police of neighboring cities and towns were notified by telephone to be on the lookout for him.

The Norwich police notified the New London police early in the evening that the boy had been traced as far as that city, and when last heard from had purchased a Chelsea line ticket for New York.

Lieutenant Jeffers detailed Patrolman Casey to be at the dock when the boat stopped here, and Howard was located and escorted to the police station.

Boyer, Sr., was telephoned to and came to this city, returning with his son to Willimantic on the late car.

Rev. Albert B. Todd Accepts Tarrington Call—Trial of Bigamist Edwards Set for Tuesday—Herbert M. Crawford's Funeral.

Rev. Albert B. Todd, for five years pastor of the Stafford Hollow Baptist church, has resigned to take charge of a much larger parish in Torrington.

Rev. Mr. Todd came here from Torrington in 1908 and has been an active, conscientious worker in the cause of religion and morality.

While his friends in Stafford congratulate him upon his promotion, there is much regret that he is to leave town. He will conclude his labors with the local church on the 30th of the present month.

Bigamist's Trial Tuesday.

The case of the state against Charles Edwards, alias Rohrbach, charged with bigamy, will come up for trial in the superior court in Rockville on Tuesday.

In June, 1909, Rohrbach, or, as he is locally known, Edwards, married Mary McCarthy of this town. Last November it was learned that he had a wife and two children living in Reading, Pa., the first woman being Carrie Kalbach, whom he married in 1892.

He was arrested in New York and brought back to Connecticut by Superintendent Egawa of the state police and has been in Tolland jail since November, awaiting trial. He has one child as the result of his second marriage.

JEWETT CITY

A Palm Sunday Snowstorm—Miss Edna Bumstead Surprised by Farewell Gift—Birthdays Celebrated.

During Saturday night snow fell to the depth of six inches, and early risers Sunday morning were treated to the unusual sight of a Palm Sunday blizzard in full action.

Farmers and weather prophets call the April snows lamb killers, while some say they are a poor man's fertilizer, as they are considered very beneficial to grass land.

Surprise Gift.

Miss Edna Bumstead has been a very faithful member of the Congregational Christian Endeavor society, and is the only charter member a resident here.

Now as she is to make her home in Pawtucket, the friends here wished to give her a remembrance. She was invited to Mrs. George W. Robinson's home Friday evening, where a number of friends began to call upon Mrs. Robinson. Miss Bumstead did not suspect what they came for, until Mrs. W. H. Gane told her they were there to bid her good-bye and gave her a surprising one, which the initials C. E. were engraved. Miss Bumstead expressed her thanks most heartily.

Refreshments of cake, fancy wafers and lemonade were served.

Mrs. Hooper and her three children and Miss Bumstead left Saturday afternoon for their new home in Pawtucket.

Dual Birthday Celebration.

Mrs. F. D. Ballou entertained a party of thirty children at her home, in Sylvandale, Saturday afternoon, to celebrate the birthdays of her children, David Sweet Ballou and Ruth Aldrich Ballou, as they come within a week of each other. The children played games, Ellen Wilcox winning the prize in pinning on the donkey's tail and William Marshall in the candy hunt.

Numerous gifts were bestowed on the small people. Refreshments were served and each child received dainty Easter baskets as souvenirs.

Notes.

John H. Murtha and Charles H. Butts are the first to find spring dandelions. Mrs. E. W. Potter entertained the Harmony club on Friday.

Mrs. O. F. Miller and Miss Josephine Miller spent Saturday in Boston.
