CONNECTICUT MEN ARGUE AGAINST RECIPROcity BILL

Washington, May 11.—A. Healey of the wool growers' association, Connecticut state grange, appeared before the senate finance committee yesterday in opposition to the reciprocity bill. He was accompanied by C. R. Potter of Woodstock and J. A. Sherwood of Long Hill, state lecturer.

RECIPROcity CEASED BY FARMERS

Mr. Healey said that since he appeared before the committee in the last congress this reciprocity bill had been discussed by the organization and the result had been to have it dropped. He said he had received hundreds of letters from members congratulating him on the stand taken and only one letter saying he was wrong.

IMPORTANT TO FARMING INDUSTRY

He said they had come down here to see the bill and to see the men who were interested in it. He said they were interested in a question which they believed is of the most vital importance to the farming industry. He said that although Connecticut was called a manufacturing state, it was also true that it was a farming state.

NEARLY ALL FARMERS OPPOSED

Mr. Healey was followed by J. A. Sherwood who after proposing that the master had said, said: "I wish to say that I bring to you the feeling and expression of the agricultural people of this state. I am sure that I know that they are all opposed to this bill."

WANT BOYS AND GIRLS TO STAY ON FARM

"We desire to keep the young men on our farms, and we believe that unless we can educate and train up these young men, we cannot induce them to stay here. We want the boys and girls to stay on the farms and not to go to the large centers."

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST FARMER

"Now, as has already been expressed to you, and as I said before, it is the feeling that if this bill is passed, it will be a discrimination against the agricultural interest, not only of our state, but of the entire country."

LOOKING FORWARD TO FUTURE

"We have, and our ancestors have, labored for the past years, and in the past, and we are looking forward to the future when we trust our children will be able to support themselves and to till these farms."

DON'T ASK FOR CLASS LEGISLATION

"We do not ask for any special legislation, but we ask that you will do with us just as you would do with any other class of people; give us the same protection, we do not ask for any special legislation. We are a quiet, peaceful class of people laboring, some of us, from 12 to 17 hours a day."

NEW CAR BARN

To Be Built by the Connecticut Company at Derby.

The Connecticut company has had plans drawn and is preparing bids for a car barn that it is to have erected on the meadow land south of Main street, when we see that large number of these who have had the knowledge of this United States, a nation that grows from infancy to be one of the most powerful nations of the world.

The proposed car barn is to be placed on this tract about two hundred feet from Main street and almost a year ago the Dowling property. The building is to be 100 by 30 feet and will be set on piers of concrete, which will rest upon piles. The piers will be spanned by beams of re-enforced concrete, and a concrete wall will rise from these beams as high as the window sills. Above this the building will be of iron metal. The capacity of the car barn will be 100 cars
