PUTNAM

State Policeman Nabs Frank E. Howarth for Carjacking Abductee—Auto Laws—Funeral of John S. Loomis—Social Club Has Perch Meeting.

Letters addressed as follows remain unclaimed at the Putnam postoffice: Henry Phaneuf, Mrs. George Bullen, Anna Poczotki, Mrs. Lela William, I. Weston of New York was in Putnam on business Tuesday.

VIOLATED AUTO LAWS.

Frank E. Howarth Paid $23.69 in City Court.

Monday and Tuesday were rather anxious days for motor car owners in Putnam and many of them had to change the position of their markers, attach their driver's numbers, and see to it that their driver's licenses were properly endorsed and their registers in town registered. The cars in strict compliance with the provisions of the Connecticut motor vehicle laws, for State Policeman Jackson, William T. H. Weston, to his sorrow, at least one local motorist has met in another city, in town, engaged in the running of round-up owners and drivers who have grown lax in their respect for the state laws and who, from a long unremitted, have forgotten that state policemen are always keen for the fee which will be paid for any violation of the licensing and driving of motor cars, no matter how insignificant or technical in its nature the violation may be.

Although Jackson had been in town sufficiently long to have seen and caught other offenders, it fell to the lot of Frank E. Howarth of this city to be the first victim Monday evening, about 6:40 o'clock, Howarth was leisurely proceeding from Front to Main streets on the "First National" bank in a small runabout. His brother Raphael, who was learning to drive, was at the wheel. Jackson, who was in the restaurant, widely waving his arms and yelling "Stop!" The lad was so frightened at this unusual spectacle that he immediately let go the steering wheel, and before the car came to a stop Jackson had jumped out of the car and directed to take the driver's seat. As Raphael was but 14 years of age, Sgt. Patrick Hayes was called and directed to take the car to the police station. There they awaited the arrival of Capt. of Police John Murray, who was able to furnish whatever information Jackson did not already possess.

Between the time they succeeded in working up what appeared to be a case in four counts against the elder Howarth and a case against the younger and both were ordered to appear in the city court at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. There Frank Howarth pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with (1) running two cars under one license, (2) not properly displaying his license, (3) not carrying the registration certificate in the car, and (4) not being at least 16 years of age to drive. No complaint was entered against Raphael in court, but he was ordered to appear in court. Mr. Howarth wished it distinctly understood that he could be prosecuted at any time.

Later it developed that there was no penalty attached to the fourth count against Howarth, that of permitting the car to be driven by a minor, and that count was nolle.

Jackson and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Bradford has nothing to say in the matter. Judge C. M. after a few other remarks, said that, while the statute permitted a fine of $100 and imprisonment for the elder Howarth, he thought a small fine would be sufficient, as this was the first offense of the kind. He ordered a fine of $23.69, together with costs, amounting to $23.69. Howarth paid the fine and was discharged.

LOST BOTH LEGS.

Paul O'Neil of Webster, Mass., was struck by a freight train here late today and both legs cut off. He attempted to jump on a moving freight train and was struck by the end of a car and thrown under the wheels. He was taken to a local hospital, where it is said he will not live. He is 29 years old and unmarried.
