VARIOUS MATTERS

Tomorrow is Whitsunday. The first of the crimson ramblers are blooming. Soft shell crabs today. Powers—adv. In a number of country districts the school year ended on Friday. Today, the vigil of Pentecost, is a fasting day of obligation in the Catholic church. This week's rain has pleased the tobacco growers in towns north, who have begun transplanting. The changes in the time table of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad become effective tomorrow, June 4. Little neck clams and oysters today. Powers—adv. School pupils have been utilizing the books in the library in preparation of compositions and for recitations on Flag day. The contractor expects to have the stone tower of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, New London, completed by July 4. June has furnished two beautiful summer days, which have encouraged scores to take outings to park or country or shore. At the Memorial day exercises in the park at Rockville, the address was delivered by the Rev. M. H. May, formerly of Colchester. Live and boiled lobsters today. Powers—adv. The D. R. memorial fountain on the Little Plain is proving even more popular than last year, attracting the thirsty at all hours of the day. The street department is still engaged in oiling streets. Park street having been added to the list where the dust has been effectively laid. An exchange says: Norwich has a hustling schoolmaster in Principal Turrell, who is going about addressing schools on the proposed charter. Silas Whipple, the farmer, of Left-fingwell, was in town Friday with a half-dozen boxes of native strawberries, which he had picked June 1. Dr. T. A. Crowley has removed his dental office to the McGroarty building, rooms three and four.—adv. New London papers note that Mrs. Arthur Keefe gave a large tea on Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. John Gallagher, now of Brooklyn, N.Y. The wife of the City of Lawrence, which went ashore at Black rock, off Eastern Point, July 2, 1907, has nearly all been removed by the Scott company. The changes in the demurrage laws at New Haven roads' freight cards will not go into effect until August 31, according to announcement made by freight agents. The June White Ribbon Banner announces in the state treasurer's report free-will offerings, Mystic $7, Mansfield Center $2.50, Ellington $5.95. From ten unions $35.94. At the state meeting of the Society of Colonial Wars, at Hartford, Thursday, in the necrology tribute was paid Rev. Samuel T. Jarvis, D.D., of Brooklyn, who died October 24, 1910. The twelfth annual exhibition of the work by the students of the New York art school and the Academy will be held at Converse art gallery June 9 from 8 to 10 in the evening. John Donovan, deputy highway commissioner, was in Westbury Thursday. He also visited about 13 years ago at the college of pharmacy, and has been lately employed by the Mulford company, manufacturing chemicals in Philadelphia. Mr. Donovan is a prescription specialist with a high rating, who will prove a valuable assistant to Manager James M. Donovan, who has been in charge of him an excellent man for the job, which always has the best. OBITUARY Mrs. John Donahue. About 2 o'clock this morning the death of Margaret Bell, wife of John Donahue of No. 28 Baltic street, occurred at the Backus hospital, where she has been for about a week for treatment for a complication of nervous troubles with which she had suffered for the past five months. Mrs. Donahue, who was the last of her family, was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, having come to this country when she was about 13 years old and was about 45 at the time of her death. She was married in this city 25 years ago to John Donahue, a native of Baltic, who survives her with their eight children—Daniel, John, Margaret, Rose, Mary, Cornelius, Julia and Patrick. She was an affectionate wife and a loving mother, who will be greatly missed in the home circle and also leaves many other friends to mourn her loss. Change in Timetable. Sunday morning the change in timetable goes into effect on the New Haven road. The Portland express is taken off from this line and there is no Bar Harbor this year. There is but little change in the trains on the Norwich branch, the greatest change being five minutes. The train arriving formerly at 11:42 now arrives at 11:46, from the north, leaving at 11:45, while in the evening the train arrives at 7:05 and leaves at 7:07 instead of 7:10. The five-minute change comes in the afternoon, when the train arrives at 2:05, instead of 2:05, north at 4:47, arriving at 4:43. Joseph C. Worth, Jr., Injured. On Thursday afternoon, while standing in a wagon in Market street in front of Worth & Co.'s, Joseph C. Worth, Jr., was thrown violently into the street when the horse started suddenly. He landed on his head and suffered from concussion of the brain. He was reported as much improved on Friday, as his many friends will be pleased to learn. Mrs. Lena Becker of New London has brought suit against the city of New London for $1,000 damages for injuries received by a fall on a walk in Bradley street March 8, 1911. She received a sprained ankle and ruptured ligaments of her right leg. Among those appointed by Gov. Simon E. Baldwin as a delegation from this state to the annual conference of the national conference of charities and corrections at Boston, June 7 to 14, are Mrs. Martha C. Mitchell of Norwich and Dr. Donald L. Ross of Mansfield. The case of the Singer Sewing Machine company vs. John J. Ryan, which was scheduled to have been heard in the court of common pleas today, has been postponed for two weeks. The suit is brought to recover for sewing machines which were bought by Mr. Ryan. The Moosup Journal says: Mrs. Mary Evelyn Longhorn of Central Village, who was in the Moosup trolley accident last December, was examined Friday at her home by Dr. Hartman of Norwich, who found that she was more seriously injured than reported. At the Connecticut agricultural college, Storrs, efforts are being made to secure funds for painting the picture of Willie Nicholas Hawley of the class of '98, who died during the Spanish-American war. Professor Wheeler states that about $100 has been received so far. At the meeting of the state board of charities at Hartford Thursday, Mrs. F. A. Mitchell of Norwich reported visits to the industrial school for girls, the state hospital at Middletown and county homes. Dr. E. J. Dowd reported a visit to the hospital for the insane at Norwich. On Friday David Lepper was taken to the school at Deep River from which he had escaped. He was seen about the streets on Thursday by Policeman Maloney and, not being able to give a good account of himself, was taken to police station, where he said he had run away from the school. The supplies for the Yale crews are being ordered in this city, as usual this year, arrangements having been made to that effect. Somers, Bros., for many years past, will furnish the provisions. The Harvard supplies will be purchased in New London. The Froehlichkeit Singing society is to have an outing on Sunday, going to the farm of Louis Haack, Jr., at Trailing Cove. The Plainfield Brass band is expected to furnish the music. PERSONAL Henry Giddings of North Franklin is assisting I. H. Stoddard & Son at Lords Point. Mrs. Harris Hymon of Groton has returned from Norwich, where she visited relatives. Miss Ruth Patter Clark of Fremont street, New London, has been in Norwich, the guest of friends. Incidents in Society

Mrs. E. D. Marden of Constantinople is the guest of Mrs. Peter Wright of Slater avenue. Miss Marguerite Bayre of Newark, N. J., is the guest of Mrs. Rush W. Kimball of Broadway. Mrs. Horace I. Briggs of Providence is at her former home in this city for a stay of several days. Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Yerrington of West Northfield, Mass., are visiting their son, H. L. Yerrington, of Washington street. Mrs. William C. Osgood of East Town street returned Thursday after a visit in Pittsfield, Mass., where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gamwell. Miss Frances R. Whitney of the faculty of the Catherine Alken school, Stamford, returned Friday evening to her home here after the close of the school year. Miss Emily Beckwith, a teacher in the Walnut Lane school, Germantown, Pa., reaches her home on West Town street today (Saturday) for the summer vacation. Virginia Tracy Williams was one of the three candidates of the Council chosen to serve until 1914, at the annual meeting of the Connecticut Society of Colonial Wars, in Hartford, on Thursday. Mrs. F. B. Dove of Summer Street left on Friday for a visit to her daughter, Miss Amy Dove, in Philadelphia. Miss Dove sails on June 9th from Philadelphia on the steamer M. M. of the Red Star line to spend the summer in France and Switzerland. If exhausted by heat, cool the head with ice. Give a cool bath, a good bed and plenty of air at night. Keep bearing places of collar and harness clean. Remove friction from galls by cupping the collar. Wash harness sores with cool water and castile soap. Avoid high checks; and check reasonably, but at all times. Protect your horse from torment in fly-time. Proper shoeing protects the feet from hot pavements. Apply wet clay or water compress to forehead at night. Try the virtue of a bran mash or green grass water on the ground. Let the poorer horse of the team set the pace. Good care at night will make up for a hard day. These humane suggestions are made in the interest of the horse, but do not forget that he is your property, and the value of many horses is depreciated by their treatment in hot weather. Episcopical Rector Resigns. Rev. Frank H. Bigelow, who for the past seven years has been in charge of the chapel of St. John's Episcopal church in Stamford, has sent in his resignation to become effective on July 1 next. Dr. Bigelow has accepted the associate pastorship in St. John's Episcopal church in Bridgeport, of which Rev. William H. Lewis is rector. To Exempt Plainville Camp Grounds. A petition has been presented in the senate at Hartford which asks that the Plainville Methodist camp grounds be exempt from taxation on the ground that they are used for religious purposes.

Incidents in Society

Mrs. E. D. Marden of Constantinople is the guest of Mrs. Peter Wright of Slater avenue. Miss Marguerite Bayre of Newark, N. J., is the guest of Mrs. Rush W. Kimball of Broadway. Mrs. Horace I. Briggs of Providence is at her former home in this city for a stay of several days. Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Yerrington of West Northfield, Mass., are visiting their son, H. L. Yerrington, of Washington street. Mrs. William C. Osgood of East Town street returned Thursday after a visit in Pittsfield, Mass., where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gamwell. Miss Frances R. Whitney of the faculty of the Catherine Alken school, Stamford, returned Friday evening to her home here after the close of the school year. Miss Emily Beckwith, a teacher in the Walnut Lane school, Germantown, Pa., reaches her home on West Town street today (Saturday) for the summer vacation. Virginia Tracy Williams was one of the three candidates of the Council chosen to serve until 1914, at the annual meeting of the Connecticut Society of Colonial Wars, in Hartford, on Thursday. Mrs. F. B. Dove of Summer Street left on Friday for a visit to her daughter, Miss Amy Dove, in Philadelphia. Miss Dove sails on June 9th from Philadelphia on the steamer M. M. of the Red Star line to spend the summer in France and Switzerland. If exhausted by heat, cool the head with ice. Give a cool bath, a good bed and plenty of air at night. Keep bearing places of collar and harness clean. Remove friction from galls by cupping the collar. Wash harness sores with cool water and castile soap. Avoid high checks; and check reasonably, but at all times. Protect your horse from torment in fly-time. Proper shoeing protects the feet from hot pavements. Apply wet clay or water compress to forehead at night. Try the virtue of a bran mash or green grass water on the ground. Let the poorer horse of the team set the pace. Good care at night will make up for a hard day. These humane suggestions are made in the interest of the horse, but do not forget that he is your property, and the value of many horses is depreciated by their treatment in hot weather. Episcopical Rector Resigns. Rev. Frank H. Bigelow, who for the past seven years has been in charge of the chapel of St. John's Episcopal church in Stamford, has sent in his resignation to become effective on July 1 next. Dr. Bigelow has accepted the associate pastorship in St. John's Episcopal church in Bridgeport, of which Rev. William H. Lewis is rector. To Exempt Plainville Camp Grounds. A petition has been presented in the senate at Hartford which asks that the Plainville Methodist camp grounds be exempt from taxation on the ground that they are used for religious purposes.
