Three Men Arrested as a Result of Visit of Police to Brick Row and Arnold's Lane.

On warrants issued by Prosecuting Agent A. J. Greenleaf of Hampton, the police Sunday morning raided three places, 52 and 47 Brick row, and 25 Arnold's lane, and as a result found and confiscated a considerable quantity of liquor and arrested these men: Charles Mazzio, 52 Brick row, Vincenzo Alfano, 25 Arnold's lane, and Michele Mazzio, 47 Brick row, and lodged all three in the station house at 10.45 o'clock a. m.

The three were released on bail about an hour later and will be arraigned in police court this (Monday) morning. The charge against them is violating liquor law.

The raid resulted from complaints from the people living in the neighborhood of Sunday carousing and drunkenness that has prevailed thereabouts for the past few weeks.

The liquor seized by the raiding squad comprised 15 quart bottles of wine, 4 pint bottles of wine, 4 gallon jugs of wine, 37 bottles of beer and a keg of beer as well as a tin dinner plate that was hanging from the spigot. The party was evidently just engaged in drawing beer as drags are still in the pail. The raid was quietly conducted and no trouble resulted. The liquor was placed in the desk room at the station house and a evidence in sufficient quantity to effect the convictions upon the charge against the three men arrested.

CHAPLIN SCHOOL DISTRICT Again in the Liminal—Parents Fined for Not Sending Children to School.

The Chaplin school question was still further aired when, as a result of the investigations by Agent Henry J. Wadsworth of Woodstock of the state board of education, the heads of several families with children attending the South Chaplin school were arraigned in police court Saturday forenoon in the Chaplin town hall before Justice of the Peace Clarence E. Chester.

The charge was "Children not sent to school according to the provisions of the law." The only witness for the state was the teacher, Miss Viola Lewis, who submitted the register containing the attendance record of the children in question.

The first case called was that of Joseph Bolduk, father of Ezab. Six counts were alleged against him. He was found guilty on the third count and fine $3 and costs amounting to $11.12. He was let go on the fifth and sixth counts, and judgment was suspended on the first, second and fourth, according to a provision of the statute.

The next case was that of Mrs. Bertha Hites, charged with six counts for the same offense. She pleaded guilty to the sixth count and was fined $3 and costs, amounting to $9.32. She was adjudged suspended in the other five. Attorney P. J. Danahy appeared for Bolduk and Mrs. Haas.

The third case was that against Rutherford Upton. He was also charged with being an offender on six counts. He pleaded guilty to all six counts and was fined $10 and costs. He was also charged with being an offender on six counts. He pleaded guilty to all six counts and was fined $10 and costs.

Richard A. Turner. Richard A. Turner died Friday evening at 9.30 o'clock at the Springfield city hospital following an operation for appendicitis performed Monday afternoon of last week. The news of his death came as a great surprise and shock to his relatives and friends in this city and vicinity. He had been enjoying good health but was taken ill suddenly last Monday morning and the physician in attendance pronounced the case one of aggravated appendicitis and an immediate operation that appeared to be successful, as the patient continued to improve for two days thereafter, but a turn for the worse set in Thursday and he failed gradually until the end.

Mr. Turner was born in Willimantic 38 years ago and was married to Mary I. Turner, and spent the greater part of his life here. He was a graduate of the Natchaug school, Windham high school and attended university, studying at the latter place for his profession, that of an electrician.

After finishing his course he worked at several places and for five years was engaged by the Fred T. Lay Construction company of Springfield, Mass., in equipping electric trolley lines. During the past year he had been engaged in business for himself and was notably successful.

There survive his wife, Mrs. Leona A. (Adams) Turner, three children, Catherine, Frederick and Richard, living in Springfield, Mass., his mother, Mrs. Mary I. Turner of South Windham, a brother, Fred E. Turner, and two sisters, Mrs. William J. Turner, Mrs. Gertrude Turner, all of South Windham. The body was brought to Willimantic on the 4 o'clock train on Sunday afternoon and taken to the funeral home of E. J. Egan and Sons, 100 Main street, where the funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Wheels Caught in Tracks. Frederick Goodrich of 454 Peck street, as he was driving his team across the trolley tracks on Main street Sunday morning, the wheels of the wagon became caught in the tracks and in becoming freed therefrom a shaft was broken. Mr. Goodrich stopped in front of Chesbro's to repair the damage temporarily.

Defeated by Bulkeley. The Windham high school baseball nine suffered a bad defeat Saturday afternoon on Windham field at the hands of the Bulkeley high school nine of New London by the score of 10 to 1. For some time the pastor, Rev. Edward A. Flannery, has had a sore throat and a severe attack, painting and redecorating the church edifice, and the work is completed. The church is a mission one, connected with the Hazardville parsonage, and in appearance and furnishings will compare favorably with any in the Hartford diocese. A pleasing feature connected with the improvements is that Rev. Father Flannery had no occasion to take up a special collection for the payment of the work. The outlay of nearly $1,500 will be met by funds already in the church treasury.

Putnam has the finest bridge in Windham county—there is no question about that. The new structure across the Quinebaug at Bridge street is a handsome piece of work and a credit to the town. It is not only attractive to the eye, but a solid, substantial structure, capable of withstanding the heaviest kind of traffic to test its great strength. Pedestrians are now crossing, but the roadway is not quite ready.

Grange Maps Distributed. Quinebaug Pomona grange, No. 2, is giving away road maps showing all the roads in Windham county and the location of the various subordinate granges. The maps are being sought after by automobilists and others who desire to familiarize themselves with county roads.

After June 17 the train that has been run down from Fitchburg to Putnam, arriving here at 5.10 p. m., to connect with the express for New York, will be discontinued, as will be the train now leaving here for Worcester at 4.10 p. m.

Members of various Windham county granges were at Sturbridge, Mass., where on Saturday Quinebaug Pomona grange, No. 2, was invited to attend the meeting of Worcester Southwicks Pomona. The meeting was a very interesting one, and was presided over by C. A. Wheeler of Storrs read a paper.

NEW YORK DOG Sent by Rev. Mr. McClelland to Block Island, Comes in with the Tide, Much Battered, but Will Live. The residents of Block Island are unable to account for the arrival of a strange dog on the rocks, that swam ashore during a heavy blow Thursday night, says a dispatch to the New York Sunday World. The dog's collar plate bears the name "Rev. T. C. McClelland, New York. License No. 18801E."

The collie was exhausted and badly bruised by the rocks, but has revived. Block Island is thirteen miles from the nearest mainland.

The Rev. Mr. McClelland is pastor of a Presbyterian church in New York. Mrs. McClelland at her home, No. 55 Seventh avenue, Brooklyn, said Saturday night that the dog was sent to her niece, Mrs. William D. Smith, at Mohegan cottage, Block Island, several days ago. She believes the animal lost its way on the rocks along the Anty Drudge Gives the Conductor Pointers.

Conductor—"Beg pardon, ma'am, for dropping the nickel; I'll get it for you right away. Those gloves make my hands so clumsy, but if I didn't wear them my hands would be as dirty as my linen. What with handling money, and the pushing and shoving, my things get so dirty, my wife doesn't like to wash 'em."

Anty Drudge—"Well, that's a sad state of affairs. Get her to try Fels-Naptha and she shall complain no more about washing your clothes. No backaches from Fels-Naptha, or hard work either. Your wife can do a day's washing before noon if she uses it."

When Fels-Naptha soap is used the hanging out is the hardest part of the washing. No boiling, either winter or summer. No fire to keep red hot; no tiring and tedious rub-a-dub on the washboard.

No Fels-Naptha itself does the hardest part of the washday work—loosening the dirt. All the human aid necessary is a few rubs, a quick rinsing and the clothes are ready for wringing.

Out they go on the line, sweeter and whiter than if a whole day were spent trying to grind out the dirt on a washboard.

John and Edward Blake and Chester Stafford Burned—Experiment in Street Oiling—Sunday in the Churches.

John and Edward Blake, boys of 14 and 8 years, sons of John Blake, boss spinner at Slater's mill, were burned about the head Saturday afternoon. They were told to burn some rubbish in the furnace and poured on so much kerosene oil that when the match was applied an explosion followed. John Blake's face in one place, the inside of his mouth and nose being burned also, but his eyes escaped. The young boy was burned about the head and neck, but not so severely. Chester Stafford, their cousin, a boy about 7, was burned too, but not badly.

Crude Oil Settles Dust. The street department is experimenting with oil on Main street. There is a large amount of crude oil left at the electric light plant since the installation of the new service, and two men have by wheeling five gallons at a time, and using one watering can, covered the street from the Congregational church to a M. Clark's store. This kind of oil does not track into the houses as the tar oil does, and the street thus far is dustless.

Memorial Flowers. The decorations in the Congregational church Sunday were in memory of Mrs. Lily Downing. The woodruff of Norwich was the guest Sunday of Donald Bliss. A number from Jewett City attended a pineapple supper given at the chapel in Pachaug Friday evening.

Visiting Preacher Heard. Rev. Mr. Chamberlain of Bethel spoke in the Methodist church Sunday. Rev. Elliott F. Talmadge, pastor of the Wauregan Congregational church, preached at the local Congregational church Sunday morning.

O. E. Ryther, associate secretary of the Connecticut Temperance union, occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday morning, and in the evening addressed the union temperance meeting at that church.
