The Bulletin, Norwich, Friday, July 7, 1911, VARIOUS MATTERS

Owners of boats are appreciating the cool of evening trips just now. Summer hotels at the shore are booking July guests as never before. First Friday devotions are being held in the Catholic churches today. Small boys and girls are earning their money these days, picking blackberries in the hot fields. Growers of cannas are having poorer luck than usual with them this year, for the ground is so dry. Dog days do not begin until July 25, although the hot weather evidently has been suffering through an advance season. The moon rose last evening a deep orange, yet with an encouraging circle which the weatherwise say means rain soon. The town clock is taking time off, because of the hot weather evidently, and has not been striking for a number of hours. The Norwich Art school has sent out an attractively illustrated prospectus for the year ending in September 26, 1911, to June 7, 1912. Today in the church calendar is of special interest to English residents, being the feast of the Translation of St. Thomas of Canterbury. Thursday's gusts of wind blew fine dust into windows and doors, and made trouble for motorists, although all welcomed the reviving breezes. Four new teachers have been engaged to fill the vacancies at the State normal school in Danbury, next fall. One is Miss Alice Slater of Colchester. Capt. and Mrs. Lemuel D. Dunbar will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage today at their home, No. 25 Woodbridge street, New London. Morris Taft has been elected president of the Esperanto club of Norwich. It has received a number of new members and is continuing its meetings on Sunday mornings. Next Sunday afternoon, Rev. L. W. Frink of Norwich will preach in the Chesterfield Baptist church at 3 o'clock. Rev. G. C. Chappell of Union Baptist church is absent on a vacation. Mrs. Agnes Squires has been committed by the New London probate court to the Norwich State hospital. Mrs. William C. Cole and Officer Walter accompanied the women to the hospital. Governor Baldwin Thursday approved the following bills: Mystic State hospital for the deaf, for quarter ending June 30, for $2,750; Norwich State hospital, for $4,741.44; Day-Kimball hospital, Putnam, $500. In a number of establishments working hours have been modified this week so that employees can get home at 5 or 6 o'clock in the morning, getting through so as to avoid the intense heat of the late afternoon. In the state senate Wednesday the committee on appropriations made an unfavorable report on the bill increasing the amount allowed for the maintenance of the state school to $2,500 a week. The bill was tabled. A Waterbury correspondent notes that Rev. J. H. Fitzgerald, Jr., who has come to Waterbury as curate of St. John's Episcopal church, preached his last sermon as assistant to his father in St. Peter's church, Hebron, on June 25. A military man remarked yesterday that the troops from central Connecticut were going into camp at Niantic in a day or two, which never failed to break the drouth, a drenching before the military part of each yearly encampment. From all points come the complaints of milk producers that the quality of milk is of poor grade just now, because of poor feed and because the cows are drying up, so that pasture contains far below the normal amount of nourishment. Thursday was a scorcher for the delegates starting off to the National C. C. convention at Atlantic City. The address this (Friday) afternoon will be by Judge Edgar M. Warren of Putnam, on Christian Endeavor Reaching Out to Prison. Cases are reported from about the state where horses have become so frantic from heat and thirst that they have kicked down their stalls in the effort to get out to get water. Humane officers are reminding owners not to neglect the thirsty animals. The state board of charities held its annual meeting at Hartford Wednesday. Following the reports of the various visits to state institutions, officers were elected as follows: President, Dr. Thomas F. Kane, Hartford; secretary, Charles P. Kellogg, Waterbury. It is claimed at New London that Aviator Harry Atwood has agreed to return and give an exhibition of flying which will be at the Poquonock track. It is also said he will carry any who wish to go up with him. Atdate has been fixed for his coming—if he does come. Miss May Druhan, Miss Alice Harrington and Miss Rose Cook of New London left Saturday for Danbury, where they will attend a summer normal school. The past season these young ladies taught school at Westchester, Oakland and Jewett City, respectively. Traffic rules are being enforced in New London, and two special officers have been placed on duty at the corner of Bank and State streets and at the corner of Main and State streets to guide drivers into the right channel. Autos and teams are made to keep to the right side of the road. John Brush, a native of Poland, employed at the factory of the Niantic Menhaden Oil and Guano company at East Lyme, was drowned Sunday while out swimming. The body washed ashore near the fish works Tuesday. As no one claimed the body it was buried at the expense of the town. Captain Thomas Baldwin, who had his ship at the Fairgrounds Tuesday, was praised editorially by Thursday's New York World, for his caution, after forty years' experience with hot-air balloons. Baldwin claims that the great trouble with young aviators is over-confidence. A former Norwich clergyman, Rev. James A. O'Meara, who has been transferred to St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, New London, is to be succeeded at St. Augustine's Bridgeport, by Rev. Edward T. Murphy, a native of New Haven, who was ordained by Bishop Nihan on Thursday of last week. Thursday morning a boy named...

Edwards fell down stairs in Thames street, breaking his thigh. He is two years old and was taken to the Backus hospital, where the fracture was reduced. The lower end of Snetucket street along the railroad track back of the warehouses was diked on Thursday. This has been a very dusty spot, with a cloud constantly stirred up by the heavy traffic there. PERSONAL Miss Ruth E. Dodd of West Mystic is visiting friends in Norwich. William Henderson of West Mystic spent the Fourth in Norwich. Mr. and Mrs. James Dutton have returned from their wedding trip. Miss Elizabeth Lane is passing several days with friends in Noank. Graywacz of Hartford is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Hill of Broad street. James Lamont, who has been the guest of friends in New York, has returned to his home in Groton. Mrs. J. Hunt Sterry and Miss Ruth Sterry of New London are at the old Whiteley home in Salem. Oliver Greenwood has returned to Boston after spending the fourth with his mother at No. 31 Franklin street. Master Donald Mills of Providence is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kampf of Division street. James O'Sullivan, superintendent of delivery in the Philadelphia postoffice, has been spending the past week in this city. Mr. and Mrs. W. DeMars returned to their home in Newark on Thursday after a visit here at the home of Mrs. L. S. Young. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dzombka, with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abendroth spent the Fourth in New York, returning here Wednesday morning. Dr. John King, who has been located in Waterbury and then in Baltimore, has sold out his dental business there and will be located in this city. Mrs. Clarence Boynton and her daughter, Miss Helen Boynton of Norwich, arrived at their summer home at Snetickets Cove the last week in June. BONDS OF COMPANY ARE UNDER SCRUTINY. Affairs of Gilbert Transportation Company Still Unsettled. Validity of the bonds of the Gilbert Transportation company of Noank are now in question, and a hearing was held in New Haven Thursday on the matter. The hearing was held in the United States court room before Samuel Park of Hartford, who had been named by Judge Platt to act. Quite a number of stockholders and bondholders of the company have appeared. An assessment ordered by Frank S. Butterworth of New Haven, the receiver, about $296,000 of bonds are outstanding. The property of the company was mortgaged to the Thames Loan and Trust company of Norwich for the benefit of the bondholders. This company brought an action after the receiver was appointed for the foreclosure of the mortgage, and it was said that practically all of the property under the mortgage was sold, subject to maritime liens on some of the vessels which the transportation company had a title to. It has not been determined how much these liens are, and the claims of the stock and bondholders are subject to the maritime claims, and the bondholders can scarcely expect to receive more than fifteen per cent. on their holdings. The general creditors will probably get nothing. The evidence which had been introduced up to noon was of a technical nature, and only four witnesses were called. The claim of two individual bondholders who held disputed bonds testified, and the order of the court was that the bonds be placed on the stand. The bookkeeper of the transportation company occupied the stand most of the time, testifying on the accounts of the stock and bondholders. FORTH OF JULY PART. A family outing was held July 4 by the Valley party and friends at the residence of Henry Dolbear, on Dolbear hill, Montville. Among those who took part in the day's fun were Mrs. J. H. Vallet, Mr. and Mrs. William Vallet and daughter Marion of Westchester, Frank Baker, Michael Maynard, Mrs. Fanny Norbury, Mrs. Harry Holmes of Plainfield and Mr. Dolbear and family. VACATION DAYS Are With Us Again, and whether you are going to spend them at the seashore, in the mountains, in the country, or right here in town, there is hardly a more wanted toilet preparation than a good cold cream, and to this we might add that there is no more satisfaction enjoyed than to know where to get it. You are desirous of getting a cold cream of merit, and we recommend you our cold cream—SMITH'S VELVET. It helps withstand the strong sun, and after being sunburned there is nothing that gives quite the prompt relief that cold cream does. We manufacture the cold cream ourselves. It is made of the purest ingredients. Price 25c a Jar. SMITH'S VELVET STORE Franklin Square, Norwich.

HIGH TENSION LINE CUT OFF, Electrical Storm North of City Crippled Electric Lines, Much Rain at Yantic and Taftville.

The local trolley line from Baltic through to Willimantic and South Coventry, which is the section supplied with high tension lines from the Thamesville powerhouse, was paralyzed Thursday night by the sudden storm which circled around this city, cutting the high tension line somewhere in its cross-country course to the north of Norwich. Further up in the state damage to the trolley service was also wrought by the electrical service and cars were reported stalled at Putnam, Rutland, Danielson and Waterbury. When the high tension line was cut by the electricity, all the power that could reach the section above Baltic was what came over the Norwich city lines, and this was so weak that it did little more than light the cars. One car bound for Norwich from Willimantic was a considerable distance on the line until it managed to crawl up the hills and work along south by coasting the wheels on the rails. It had not reached Williamstown by midnight, but was working its way along slowly as best it could. At the lake at South Coventry there was a big smash Thursday evening, and on this line the power was weaker than anywhere else, because it got its juice through the broken line, and the lake above it before midnight, and there was no telling how long it would be before it would reach Williamstown. About midnight the trouble started out to look for the cut in the high tension line. They expected to find a cross-country search before they succeeded in locating the break. There was no trouble about the power in the city division, as that supplied independently of the high tension line. The rain that fell here about 9 o'clock amounted to nothing more than wetting the pavements, but at Yantic and Taftville a considerable rainfall and puddles standing in the car tracks. From the direction of New London a fair amount of rain was also reported.

The picnic was held at Richards' Grove at 9.15, and left there to return at 5 o'clock. There were several races, prizes being taken at the 100 yard, 200 yard, 400 yard, 800 yard, 1 mile, 2 mile, 4 mile, 8 mile, 12 mile, 16 mile, 20 mile, 24 mile, 28 mile, 32 mile, 36 mile, 40 mile, 44 mile, 48 mile, 52 mile, 56 mile, 60 mile, 64 mile, 68 mile, 72 mile, 76 mile, 80 mile, 84 mile, 88 mile, 92 mile, 96 mile, 100 mile. The prizes were awarded to Miss Alice Parsons, second going to the child of Mr. and Mrs. James Busey. There were many who took the chance to go boating and swimming, and the swings were in constant use. It was a happy picnic, and the refreshments were furnished by the school. A delightful time was enjoyed, despite the heat. In charge of the games were Miss Marion Swan and Miss Eleanor Gehring, who acted for the committee. The members of the Universalist Sunday school were present. The committee included Dr. L. E. Walker, chairman, Richard Raymond, J. Oliver Blyden, Wm. H. Hiscox, John Jenkins, Carlisle Avery, Herbert Lawrence and William Johnson.

COMMITTEE MEETS WITH AUTO AND ENGINE MEN, Further Discussion of the Proposition and a Definite Start is Expected to Be Made Soon.

By arrangement with Messrs. Merritt and Keeney, there was a meeting of the special committee appointed by the board of trade to study the industrial committee of the board of trade, on Thursday morning, and in the afternoon the committee met them and there was a discussion of the proposition. Mr. Allen had a number of suggestions for the reduction of the costs of operating the plant, the costs of manufacture, and the method of assuring the local investors in the proposition. Nothing was done on Thursday, but there will be a meeting of the special committee this afternoon. His heat will take the matter up and decide what will be done. The proposition is that many who have looked into it very favorably, and this committee will be the one to go ahead with the securing of the necessary funds. Mr. Keeney returned from New York on Thursday, and Mr. Merritt has remained here since last week.

FIRE IN HALLWAY OF ROATH STREET HOUSE, Thought to Have Been Started by Children Who Were Left Alone for a Short Time.

An alarm from box 71 called the fire department to No. 71 Roath street at 5.30 o'clock Thursday afternoon for a fire in the stairway on the second floor. A man from Indianapolis, accompanied by John Deane, the tenant occupied by James Wallis and six children, Mr. Wallis was out at the time. He thought the fire was in some way started by the children, but none of them was hurt. It was necessary to cut away two doors and the casings before the fire was put out. A call man named Moody belonging to Chemical No. 2 lives there, and did extensive work until the companies arrived. About 3 o'clock Chemical No. 1 was called to Laurel Hill avenue, at the top of the hill for a fire in the grass and brush on the railroad embankment. A line of boxes was laid and the fire quickly put out. Fire was discovered on the Greenville bridge, and the engine was called. The fire was put out before the firemen got there, the blaze having been put out with pails of water.

ONE PROSTRATION FROM THE HEAT ON TUESDAY, Five Degrees Hotter Than on Wednesday, Though There Was Some Breeze.

The highest point reached by the thermometer at Sevin's on Thursday was 98, which was five degrees hotter than on Wednesday at the same point. There was better air during the day and many thought it was not so warm but all looked for relief from the shower in the evening, but failed to get it in the desired amount, for directly after it had passed it was much hotter than ever. The heat claimed the backache of the hot spell is broken, however. There was one prostration from the heat on Thursday when Miss Agnes Sullivan of Pine street was overcome in the Boston store, where she is employed in the book department. She was taken to her home. The heat kept many shop employees from going to work at all on Thursday and the shops which started closed at noon. The Hopkins & Allen and the Crescent firearms factories closed at noon for the rest of the week because of the heat. Albert Crumb of Groton overcome by the heat and fell while leaving the ferryboat reaching Groton at 10.30. He incurred several bad cuts on his face and for a time it was believed that he had succumbed to the influences of the hot wave and the shock. He was picked up and taken to the ferry waiting room on the Groton side of the river, where he was ultimately revived. For ten minutes or thereabouts after Mr. Crumb was stricken it seemed as though he would not rally. His heat action was very feeble and he was physically and mentally helpless. His left wrist was swollen and a cut was made on the right wrist where he fell forward in leaving the ferryboat. composed of manufacturers of foods and drugs, has for several months been sending letters to newspapers, jobbers, members of congress, asking that steps be taken to have Dr. Wiley removed from his position for his alleged "vicious and uncalled for assaults on foods, beverages and drugs, greatly to their injury." They claim that the doctor reads into the law what congress never intended to put into it, and that which no court or jury can find in the law. They threaten to take the matter to court. Dr. Wiley the first thing after inauguration next year and refuse to support any that will not pledge himself to oust Dr. Wiley from the first thing after inauguration. They intimate that there is "graft" behind most of his official actions. The association have hired a box, No. 2,124, in the New York postoffice, and although the box soon filled with mail matter, no one has yet come to claim it. The contents of the box was taken possession of by the postal officials and they intend to put them, also the members of congress.

Dr. Wiley has a collection of these letters in his office. All the papers in the city were called them, also the members of congress.
