

RICHESON BOUGHT THE FATAL DRUG

Clergyman Told Newton Druggist That He Wanted it to Kill a Dog

UNDER ARREST ON MURDER CHARGE

Hearing Set For October 31, the Date of His Intended Marriage to Miss Edmonds—Wedding Invitations Recalled—Mother of Miss Linnell Says Her Daughter Was Engaged—Richeson Expelled From College.

Boston, Oct. 20.—A narrow stone-walled cell in Charles street jail holds the Rev. Clarence Virgil Thompson Richeson, the young pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, who was arrested today for the murder of Miss Violet Edmonds, a young woman of 20, who had been engaged to be married to a young man, to whom he had been engaged. His commitment to the jail this afternoon following his appearance in the court on Monday, when he was held without bail on a charge of first degree murder, marked a temporary end to a chain of circumstances which the police detectives have followed as astoundingly since the death of Miss Linnell last Saturday by cyanide of potassium poisoning.

Richeson Found in Bed.

"When we went up to Richeson's room, he was in bed and awake, but looked much disturbed. He resembled a man who had been through a very slight. The steamer's bow was crushed in but she returned to Kiel unaided."

Paris, Oct. 20.—The cabinet council today approved certain additional instructions to the French ambassador at Berlin, M. Cambon, relative to the French concession to Germany in French Congo.

Hamburg, Oct. 20.—Two English steamers collided in the mouth of the Elbe during fog today. One of the vessels sank and the other stranded. No details were available late this afternoon.

Hong Kong, China, Oct. 20.—The foreign banks continue large shipments of silver, including Chinese dollars, to North China, owing to the fact that Chinese paper currency is being discredited. The market is practically depleted of specie.

Richeson Found in Bed.

"When we went up to Richeson's room, he was in bed and awake, but looked much disturbed. He resembled a man who had been through a very slight. The steamer's bow was crushed in but she returned to Kiel unaided."

Paris, Oct. 20.—The cabinet council today approved certain additional instructions to the French ambassador at Berlin, M. Cambon, relative to the French concession to Germany in French Congo.

Hamburg, Oct. 20.—Two English steamers collided in the mouth of the Elbe during fog today. One of the vessels sank and the other stranded. No details were available late this afternoon.

Hong Kong, China, Oct. 20.—The foreign banks continue large shipments of silver, including Chinese dollars, to North China, owing to the fact that Chinese paper currency is being discredited. The market is practically depleted of specie.

Richeson Found in Bed.

"When we went up to Richeson's room, he was in bed and awake, but looked much disturbed. He resembled a man who had been through a very slight. The steamer's bow was crushed in but she returned to Kiel unaided."

Paris, Oct. 20.—The cabinet council today approved certain additional instructions to the French ambassador at Berlin, M. Cambon, relative to the French concession to Germany in French Congo.

Hamburg, Oct. 20.—Two English steamers collided in the mouth of the Elbe during fog today. One of the vessels sank and the other stranded. No details were available late this afternoon.

Hong Kong, China, Oct. 20.—The foreign banks continue large shipments of silver, including Chinese dollars, to North China, owing to the fact that Chinese paper currency is being discredited. The market is practically depleted of specie.

Cabled Paragraphs

Actor Charged With Murder

Put a Powder in the Coffee

Servant Testifies to Action of Mrs. Stannard.

Condensed Telegrams

The "Mother" of James J. Jeffries, the pugilist, left an estate of $90,000.

A Missionary Reports that the slave trade is again flourishing in the north of Africa.

Michael Sullivan, a Beggar in San Francisco for 35 years, left an estate of $50,000.

"Farmer" Munroe H. Klupp, twice a member of congress from Pennsylvania, is dead.

Substantial increases in both imports and exports are shown by statistics for September.

A Wind of 150 Miles an Hour wrecked 3 wireless government stations at Unalakleet, Alaska.

The Run on the Imperial Chinese bank at Shanghai continues. That city is a hotbed of revolution.

Dr. Alexander Hugh Ferguson, former president of the Red Cross, died yesterday of blood poisoning.

Former Senator Aldrich has submitted to the monetary commission a revised plan for currency and banking system.

Italy is hastening the completion of her dreadnoughts, and has ordered 4,000 tons of armor plate from an American concern.

The New England Fat Men's Club, which has a membership of nearly 4,000, opened its annual convention at New York City yesterday.

Governor Dix signed the congressional reapportionment bill, restricting New York state into 43 congressional districts, as authorized by congress.

Woverington Rowland of Frankfort, Pa., charged August Camp, a Belgian mine owner, in a London police court, with obtaining $100 from him by a trick.

The Fertilizer Plant of Hick Mill of the Seacoast Canning company, at Eastport, Me., were entirely destroyed by fire yesterday with a loss estimated at $30,000.

Former Comptroller of the Treasury Charles C. Dawes is opposed to board representatives on the proposed central reserve association.

William R. Hearst's announcement that he was leaving the register and creating a new paper, was regarded in political circles yesterday regarding the fate of the Independence league.

Dr. Edward Payson Turner of New Bedford, a member of the last legislature of Massachusetts, died Thursday night at Stratton, Me.

Sentence of Death will be passed upon Silas N. Phelps, who was convicted of murder in the first degree for killing Deputy Sheriff Edmund P. Haskins in the town of Monroe, Mass., on June 12, 1909.

Aviator Fowler abandoned his proposed transatlantic flight yesterday. His plane was damaged and he was forced to land at Los Angeles and make a flight over the Hippodrome there Sunday, but he refused.

Frank Brasch, the Overgrown Brooklyn youth charged with assaulting Agnes Waugh for her connection with the assassination of President Lincoln, has been found guilty at Westburg, W. Va., of first degree murder.

A preliminary injunction restraining the Postmaster General Hitchcock from sending the Review of Reviews by freight, with other magazines are being sent by fast passenger mail express, was asked yesterday.

Advices to Dun's Review from leading traders in the clothing district continue to reflect growing activity in general business, although in certain directions the outlook is not so bright in providing for future requirements.

The Lines of the Shenectady Railway company are contending for a strike, following the refusal of the management to recognize the recently organized division No. 573 of the International Brotherhood of Railway Employees.

Philip B. Buzzell, 1913 of Wilmington, Mass., is the winner of the Donald Amis prize in English and German at Yale. The prize was founded in memory of Donald Amis of Detroit, Mich., who died in his sophomore year.

The Resignation of Dr. George Hutchison Denny, president of Washington and Lee university, was formalized yesterday. He will assume the duties of president of the University of Alabama at the beginning of the year.

Twelve Men Were Drowned at Hiberno, N. J., yesterday, when a blast destroyed a trolley car on the New York and Erie street railway. The car was in the ironies of the Wharton street company and let a great quantity of water flood the gallery where they were at work.

The Will of the Late J. Q. A. Ward, New York sculptor, was declared valid in the suit brought by his sister, Eleanor, of Urbana, Ohio, to set aside his disposition of his property, which was left in whole to his widow, with whom Mr. Ward boarded previously to making her his wife.

Text of Baseball.

It might be added to the good clericalism of the United States that the baseball game is a sermon that is comparatively easy to remember the text.—Ohio State Journal.

A Rude Editor.

The Hon. Frank H. Hitchcock may trust himself in an airplane if he likes, but it is a question whether any risk can be taken just yet with first-class mail packages.—New York Sun.

Aply Put.

"Daped and Delivered" is Colonel Watters' comment on the result in Canada. Alliteratively speaking, it is the best criticism we have seen.—Omaha Bee.

And a Vote of Thanks.

Should financial adversity land a knockout blow on Jack Johnson, it would be of course by the way of the championship belt.—Chicago News.

Something to Be Thankful For.

The resignation of Fingy Connors from the democratic state committee leaves a gap that can never be filled.—New York World.

An Unwelcome Period.

Every man dreams the day when people who are no kin to him will be glad to call him uncle.—Atchison Globe.

Nothing to Fear Now.

Dr. Wiley is to administer the pure food law, but heartily.—Chicago News.

REBELS WIN TWO DAYS BATTLE

Imperial Troops Forced to Retreat to Point Ten Miles From Hankow

WARSHIPS MADE A POOR SHOWING

Their Shells Fell Wide of the Mark—Victory Calculated to Strengthen Rebel Army and Demoralize Imperial Troops—Pardon to Those Who Desert Rebel Standard Offered in Proclamation—Red Cross at Work.

Peking, Oct. 20.—It is apparent here tonight that the imperial government knew the result of the battle of Hankow before the fighting began in a more than 24 hours before it became public here. Reports of the rebel victory leaked out first reaching in the day, but the first positive account of the defeat of the imperial troops was delivered to the foreign legations tonight by the Associated Press. It created a profound impression.

Will Increase Rebels' Prestige.

The success of the revolution has been considered here to hinge upon the result of the first encounter, as its moral effect will be far reaching. In China, as probably nowhere else would be the case, when the fugitive imperialists reach the main army, which is mobilizing near Sin-Yang-Chow, the news of the repulse, it is believed, will utterly demoralize the troops.

Provinces Likely to Secede.

The foreign legations here believe that today's news from Hankow and Yunnan will mean that the provinces north of the Yangtze and also some on the north side of the river soon or later will secede. The government acknowledges that there is serious situation in Chang-Sha, province of Hunan, which it is believed in Peking means that Chang-Sha has joined the rebels.

Pardon for Rebels Who Desert.

Foreigners whose business it is to study China, think that the northern provinces, if they are to be added, will force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Poor Gunners on Warships.

The loyalist infantry made a faint showing of resistance, while the gunboats threw a few shells ineffectively. The shots from the warships fell wide of the mark, and consequently the rebel field gun, which had been made the special object of attack. When the rebels advanced to the point ten miles north of Hankow, the loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

Rebels Burn Huts.

When the fighting began on Wednesday evening the revolutionists took up a strong position. Reinforcements for the rebels arrived during the night and early in the morning. A force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Money for Distressed People

An edict expresses compassion for the people in the provinces which are suffering from the Red Cross rebellion, and orders 200,000 taels from the late empress dowager's hoard to be paid to the Red Cross, who will arrange for its distribution among the distressed people.

Chinese as Red Cross Workers

Hankow, Oct. 20.—During Wednesday's battle the Red Cross of the first time in history, put Chinese workers into the field. The Red Cross has not yet obtained recognition by the imperial troops and consequently many of their wounded who were left on the field were killed and mutilated by Chinese who are in sympathy with the revolt.

TWO DAYS' BATTLE

Imperial Troops Forced to Retreat from Hankow.

Hankow, Oct. 19 (delayed in transmission).—A two days' battle between the government forces in the north and the revolutionists ended in a victory for the latter. The rebels forced the imperial troops to retreat to a point ten miles north of Hankow. The loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

Rebels Burn Huts.

When the fighting began on Wednesday evening the revolutionists took up a strong position. Reinforcements for the rebels arrived during the night and early in the morning. A force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Poor Gunners on Warships.

The loyalist infantry made a faint showing of resistance, while the gunboats threw a few shells ineffectively. The shots from the warships fell wide of the mark, and consequently the rebel field gun, which had been made the special object of attack. When the rebels advanced to the point ten miles north of Hankow, the loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

Rebels Burn Huts.

When the fighting began on Wednesday evening the revolutionists took up a strong position. Reinforcements for the rebels arrived during the night and early in the morning. A force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Poor Gunners on Warships.

The loyalist infantry made a faint showing of resistance, while the gunboats threw a few shells ineffectively. The shots from the warships fell wide of the mark, and consequently the rebel field gun, which had been made the special object of attack. When the rebels advanced to the point ten miles north of Hankow, the loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

Rebels Burn Huts.

When the fighting began on Wednesday evening the revolutionists took up a strong position. Reinforcements for the rebels arrived during the night and early in the morning. A force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Poor Gunners on Warships.

The loyalist infantry made a faint showing of resistance, while the gunboats threw a few shells ineffectively. The shots from the warships fell wide of the mark, and consequently the rebel field gun, which had been made the special object of attack. When the rebels advanced to the point ten miles north of Hankow, the loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

Rebels Burn Huts.

When the fighting began on Wednesday evening the revolutionists took up a strong position. Reinforcements for the rebels arrived during the night and early in the morning. A force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Poor Gunners on Warships.

The loyalist infantry made a faint showing of resistance, while the gunboats threw a few shells ineffectively. The shots from the warships fell wide of the mark, and consequently the rebel field gun, which had been made the special object of attack. When the rebels advanced to the point ten miles north of Hankow, the loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

Rebels Burn Huts.

When the fighting began on Wednesday evening the revolutionists took up a strong position. Reinforcements for the rebels arrived during the night and early in the morning. A force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Poor Gunners on Warships.

The loyalist infantry made a faint showing of resistance, while the gunboats threw a few shells ineffectively. The shots from the warships fell wide of the mark, and consequently the rebel field gun, which had been made the special object of attack. When the rebels advanced to the point ten miles north of Hankow, the loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

Rebels Burn Huts.

When the fighting began on Wednesday evening the revolutionists took up a strong position. Reinforcements for the rebels arrived during the night and early in the morning. A force fully 5,000 strong began an advance on the imperial encampment. This was conducted cautiously. On the march the rebels burned hundreds of huts, fearing an ambush.

Poor Gunners on Warships.

The loyalist infantry made a faint showing of resistance, while the gunboats threw a few shells ineffectively. The shots from the warships fell wide of the mark, and consequently the rebel field gun, which had been made the special object of attack. When the rebels advanced to the point ten miles north of Hankow, the loyalist gunboats dropped anchor several miles down the river.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS

WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Grounds on Which the Stonington Tangle Will Be Taken Up Again.

New London, Oct. 20.—Mayor Thayer before the board of county commissioners. He states that the grounds on which the voters in the recent town election to vote on license, he claims that the entire vote was void. There are a number of points involved, making of the claim quite an intricate legal tangle, but the substance of Mayor Thayer's contention is that the vote was unconstitutional and that the assessor should be allowed to return county jail at Johnston's late tonight.

Known in Gloversville.

Gloversville, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Albert De Mears, of Chester De Mar, who he was known in Gloversville and Johnston, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff G. J. Miller early tonight. The arrest was made by direction of Chief of Police Smith of this city. Chief Smith and Under Sheriff Chapman left for Epratah at once, expecting to lodge their prisoner in the Fulton county jail at Johnston's late tonight.

Abandoned the Girl.

De Mears, or De Mar, appeared in Johnston in January of last year with the "Gang Some" theatrical company. While here, he became acquainted with a Johnstown girl named Maggie Miller. She was a native of Johnston, but shortly returned, and De Mears said they had been married in Auburn.

Claims They Are Not in Contempt of Court.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Attorney General John Light made answer in the superior court today to order of contempt issued by Judge Denning and others of New Haven calling upon Comptroller Thomas D. Bradstreet to appear before the court. Bradstreet and others who reported the proceedings of the last general assembly in the fact that they had not appeared before the court, and that they had refused to pay the costs of the proceedings.

BALTIMORE COUPLE OBSERVE 55TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Solemn High Mass at Immaculate Conception Church.

Runaway Girl Arrested.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Miss Julia Riccio, 17 years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is alleged to have run away from her home in that city, was arrested here tonight and will be held until her parents arrive to take her back.

Wreck at Balchertown.

New London, Oct. 21.—Word was received in this city tonight concerning a wreck at Balchertown on Central Vermont road, where a heavy engine running alone crashed into the northbound boat train and eight men were killed and injured, four being from New London.

In Great Demand.

When Senator Stephenson became a member of the legislature, he was in other parts of the country who will welcome him with open arms.—Cleveland Leader.

Among the Best Sellers.

The tariff used to be regarded as a dull statistical topic. Now it holds its own side by side with the love story and the detective romance.—Washington Star.

Can Sympathize With the Parrot.

Don Jorge Wickersham now appreciates the sensation which comes with the cold, gray print of the morning paper.—Washington Post.

Nothing Really Left.

Sometimes man's explaining problems to his children does not hold them very much more about them.—New York Press.

A Self-important Dog.

No doubt the spotted coach-dog trotting beneath the carriage believes it is carrying the load.—Atchison Globe.

Great Scoop is Scored.

In the course of a day the world bares its every spot to a glimpse of the sun.—Shreveport Times.

In Same Boat.

The man who doesn't own an automobile also spends about all he makes.—Galveston News.

Nothing to Fear Now.

Dr. Wiley is to administer the pure food law, but heartily.—Chicago News.

ACTOR CHARGED WITH MURDER

Albert De Mears Arrested for Woman's Death.

Captured at Epratah, N. Y.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Albert De Mears, wanted in connection with the murder of Catherine Brophy of Albany, was captured today at Epratah, Fulton county, and placed in the county jail at Johnston.

Crime Occurred on Lonely Road.

Miss Brophy was murdered Monday night on a lonely road near Savannah, and the police had been working on the theory that robbery was the motive.

Known in Gloversville.

Gloversville, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Albert De Mears, of Chester De Mar, who he was known in Gloversville and Johnston, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff G. J. Miller early tonight.

Abandoned the Girl.

De Mears, or De Mar, appeared in Johnston in January of last year with the "Gang Some" theatrical company. While here, he became acquainted with a Johnstown girl named Maggie Miller. She was a native of Johnston, but shortly returned, and De Mears said they had been married in Auburn.

Claims They Are Not in Contempt of Court.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Attorney General John Light made answer in the superior court today to order of contempt issued by Judge Denning and others of New Haven calling upon Comptroller Thomas D. Bradstreet to appear before the court.

BALTIMORE COUPLE OBSERVE 55TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Solemn High Mass at Immaculate Conception Church.

Runaway Girl Arrested.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Miss Julia Riccio, 17 years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is alleged to have run away from her home in that city, was arrested here tonight and will be held until her parents arrive to take her back.

Wreck at Balchertown.

New London, Oct. 21.—Word was received in this city tonight concerning a wreck at Balchertown on Central Vermont road, where a heavy engine running alone crashed into the northbound boat train and eight men were killed and injured, four being from New London.

In Great Demand.

When Senator Stephenson became a member of the legislature, he was in other parts of the country who will welcome him with open arms.—Cleveland Leader.

Among the Best Sellers.

The tariff used to be regarded as a dull statistical topic. Now it holds its own side by side with the love story and the detective romance.—Washington Star.

Can Sympathize With the Parrot.

Don Jorge Wickersham now appreciates the sensation which comes with the cold, gray print of the morning paper.—Washington Post.

Nothing Really Left.

Sometimes man's explaining problems to his children does not hold them very much more about them.—New York Press.

A Self-important Dog.

No doubt the spotted coach-dog trotting beneath the carriage believes it is carrying the load.—Atchison Globe.

Great Scoop is Scored.

In the course of a day the world bares its every spot to a glimpse of the sun.—Shreveport Times.

In Same Boat.

The man who doesn't own an automobile also spends about all he makes.—Galveston News.

Nothing to Fear Now.

Dr. Wiley is to administer the pure food law, but heartily.—Chicago News.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS

WAS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Grounds on Which the Stonington Tangle Will Be Taken Up Again.

New London, Oct. 20.—Mayor Thayer before the board of county commissioners. He states that the grounds on which the voters in the recent town election to vote on license, he claims that the entire vote was void. There are a number of points involved, making of the claim quite an intricate legal tangle, but the substance of Mayor Thayer's contention is that the vote was unconstitutional and that the assessor should be allowed to return county jail at Johnston's late tonight.

Known in Gloversville.

Gloversville, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Albert De Mears, of Chester De Mar, who he was known in Gloversville and Johnston, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff G. J. Miller early tonight.

Abandoned the Girl.

De Mears, or De Mar, appeared in Johnston in January of last year with the "Gang Some" theatrical company. While here, he became acquainted with a Johnstown girl named Maggie Miller. She was a native of Johnston, but shortly returned, and De Mears said they had been married in Auburn.

Claims They Are Not in Contempt of Court.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Attorney General John Light made answer in the superior court today to order of contempt issued by Judge Denning and others of New Haven calling upon Comptroller Thomas D. Bradstreet to appear before the court.

BALTIMORE COUPLE OBSERVE 55TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Solemn High Mass at Immaculate Conception Church.

Runaway Girl Arrested.

Hartford, Oct. 20.—Miss Julia Riccio, 17 years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is alleged to have run away from her home in that city, was arrested here tonight and will be held until her parents arrive to take her back.

Wreck at Balchertown.

New London, Oct. 21.—Word was received in this city tonight concerning a wreck at Balchertown on Central Vermont road, where a heavy engine running alone crashed into the northbound boat train and eight men were killed and injured, four being from New London.

In Great Demand.

When Senator Stephenson became a member of the legislature, he was in other parts of the country who will welcome him with open arms.—Cleveland Leader.

Among the Best Sellers.

The tariff used to be regarded as a dull statistical topic. Now it holds its own side by side with the love story and the detective romance.—Washington Star.

Can Sympathize With the Parrot.

Don Jorge Wickersham now appreciates the sensation which comes with the cold, gray print of the morning paper.—Washington Post.

Nothing Really Left.

Sometimes man's explaining problems to his children does not hold them very much more about them.—New York Press.

A Self-important Dog.

No doubt the spotted coach-dog trotting beneath the carriage believes it is carrying the load.—Atchison Globe.

Great Scoop is Scored.

In the course of a day the world bares its every spot to a glimpse of the sun.—Shreveport Times.

In Same Boat.

The man who doesn't own an automobile also spends about all he makes.—Galveston News.

Nothing to Fear Now.

Dr. Wiley is to administer the pure food law, but heartily.—Chicago News.