MRS. PATTERSON ACCUSED BY JURY

Verdict Greeted With Cheers and the Woman Overwhelmed With Congratulations

MANY WOMEN STROVE TO KISS HER IN COURT

Round of Cheers by Prisoners as Mrs. Patterson Stepped From Jail Rotunda—Says She Won't Go Into Vaudeville But Might Join First-Class Theatrical Company—'A Traveisty on Justice,' Only Comment of Prosecutor.

Denver, Col., Nov. 29.—Gertrude Gibson Patterson, accused of the murder of her husband, today was declared not guilty by a jury in the district court. As the clerk finished reading the verdict, Mrs. Patterson sprang from her seat and caught the outstretched hand of her attorney.

Verdict Causes Cheering. From outside the court room came a roar of cheering. Inside the room the crowd was quiet. But as court adjourned and Mrs. Patterson stepped forward to thank the jurors, the crowd overwhelmed her with congratulations. Her efforts to reach the jurors were vain. Later, four of the jurors called on her as she was making ready to leave the jail.

Women Strive to Kiss Her. The space between the courtroom and the jail was packed with a cheering crowd. On the arm of her attorney Mrs. Patterson walked through the throng, while the men tried to shake her hand and women strove to kiss her.

Prisoners Cheer Her. As Mrs. Patterson stepped from the jail rotunda, a group of prisoners called for a round of cheers. At no time in the deliberations of the jury were there more than two votes for conviction.

Fourth Ballot Brought Acquittal. The second ballot was taken soon after the jury returned from breakfast, resulting as the first. An hour's discussion followed and the third ballot was taken.

Verdict a Disgrace to Denver. Mrs. C. Patterson, mother of the slain man, said she was glad to see the verdict in silence. As she left the courtroom she put her hands to her eyes and shut out the cheers of the crowd.

Steel Trust Head Would Deprive Him of Privilege of Aspiring to Re-election

IT WOULD BE A GREAT BENEFIT TO BUSINESS. Judge Gary Tells Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce That Coming National Election is Already Disturbing Business—Advocates a Trade Commission to Regulate Affairs of the Big Corporations—Gary Dinner.

Commission Would Become Complicated. Judge Gary promised to appear again before the committee next week. 'How would the commission know what an agreement among steel men to fix the price of rails at $28 was "restraint of trade"?' asked Senator Cummins.

He said unrestricted competition meant the ruin of competition in affairs of concern and the gradual strengthening of the natural monopoly of the lawyer. As opposed to this, he urged that the government recognize the need of partial agreement between corporations and individuals in order that actual competition might still be maintained that would be fair and free to all interests.

The Famous Gary Dinner. 'Is there any particular thing now clearly forbidden by the Sherman law that would be permitted if the Sherman law were amended?' asked Senator Cummins.

Mr. Gary thought not, but he said the Sherman law was not even drafted beforehand what amounted to a "restraint of trade." The famous "Gary dinner" where the steel men gathered to discuss their affairs, were not the prices, but to disclose their business condition to each other, he said, was the real purpose of the dinner.

Coming Election Disturbing Business. The coming election is already disturbing business, he added. He said that the coming election is already disturbing business, he added. He said that the coming election is already disturbing business, he added.

Fewer Elections Would Help Business. Mr. Gary dwelt at length upon the political situation. He said he had no particular opinion in mind; but that he believed fewer elections and less frequent changes in their office would support for political purposes would aid greatly in keeping business at a level that would be beneficial to the country.

THANKSGIVING

LOVE TELLS US SO

Two vacant places at the feast? Not so; for both are there. Grandma, with smiles upon her face, Grandpa in his Thanksgiving place Each in the favorite chair. You can not see, but well we know That they are there—love tells us so.

One sleeps beneath Nebraska soil, 'Neath Oklahoma's one; The stalwart father, mother true—The best that children ever knew—Their life's work long since done. But they are here today, we know, To sit with us—love tells us so.

We feel their hands in soft caress As in the days of yore. We hear their prayers our lives to bless And give us strength for all life's stress. You can not see, but well we know They sit with us—love tells us so.
