ENTIRE FAMILY FOUND MURDERED. Bodies Found Under Floor of Barn—A Farmhand Missing.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 13.—The naked bodies of Mrs. Conrad Morner, her son Arthur, aged 26, and two daughters, about 20 years old, were found hidden under the floor of the barn on the farm near Lefferts, tonight by neighbors.

The Morner family had been seen no one about the place since last Monday. The whole family had been murdered, and the police are searching for an Italian farmhand.

The Morner family had worked the farm since the death of Conrad Morner, the father, about two years ago, and are said to have been rich. Arthur usually brought milk to the grocery store every night, and when he failed to come to the city Monday it was thought strange. A neighbor, who is miles east of Albany, tonight by neighbors.

TRIP FROM STONINGTON

Described in Composition of School-girl of Sixty Years Ago.

Mrs. Annie Trumbull Slosson writes to the Hartford Courant from New York city:

In looking over some old papers of mine I find a composition which tells of an adventurous journey of mine. It was a long and trying trip, from Stonington to Hartford and back again, and was taken in the summer of 1851, when I was 13. I was a scholar at Mrs. Woodbridge's school in Stonington, where I then lived. No one in my class had ever taken so long a journey or seen so many wonders, so I was to do, for my father, Mother and two brothers and myself was to start for Hartford, one of the Capitals of our great state of Connecticut.

My father was to be closed while we were away. At 10 o'clock about 25 of us were on the train which we landed in New London. I did not see much of the city for we started very soon on the train which was bound for Willimantic. It was a pleasant ride but pretty hot. I did not see much of Willimantic, but think it is a nice place. We did not go out of the depot, my little brother wanted to but father said the train would be going north. We arrived at Hartford at 2:30 o'clock about. My brother Henry, met us at the depot and took us in a carriage with two horses to the house where by brother James works. It is just opposite about the hotel we were boarding at. I had heard a great deal from my father and brothers about the house but I did not think it would be so grand. I suppose it is the finest building in the United States. It is the finest one I ever saw, but I have not seen them all. The Wadsworth mansion in Stonington is a splendid building, but the State-house beats it. I think it looks something like a castle. I have never seen a castle but I think they look something like this one. The State-house is named Mr. Mather, and is a very nice man. I was acquainted with him before for he had visited at our home last summer. While we were there, my brother came in. He is a very nice man and asked me if I went to school. I told him that I had been at Mrs. Woodbridge's school. Then we came away for it was almost tea time at the hotel. I am very glad I have seen the State-house. Books say that there are many fine buildings in Europe and other lands, but I cannot believe there are any much finer anywhere than this one in my own native land.

Reasonable Restraint. With 500 cases ahead of them the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States have decided to limit the time of attorney's who argue cases before the court. That is a "reasonable" restraint of hot air that will be approved by all the arguing attorneys.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A Telephone Snipe. A "telephone snipe" is a man who habitually uses some other man's telephone at no other expense to himself than a "thank you," he flourishes, perhaps, because he is not a game bird.—Chicago Tribune.

Too Expensive a Theft. A New York hotel clerk is accused of stealing a steak. If he'd only stuck to inexpensive things like silverware, all might have been forgiven.—New York Press.

Idle Money. That is to say any money that is earning you nothing should be placed where it will be producing something. Every spare dollar should be working for you.

Considered Case of Allen, Admr. vs. J. W. Bishop Co. For Two and a Half Hours and are Excused Until This Morning For Further Deliberation.

Wednesday was the third day spent in the civil superior court here before Judge Wheeler and today in the trial of the case of Frank H. Allen, admr. vs. the J. W. Bishop company. The matter is in the hands of the jury, which has reported no verdict.

The jury wrestled with the matter for two and a half hours and a half, reporting at 5:45, through Foreman Everett P. Barnes, that they had not reached a verdict. Judge Wheeler told them that he hoped they would agree on a verdict as the case has been well tried and there is no reason why they should not agree.

In view of the lateness of the hour, however, he stated that he would excuse them for the night, but in the morning at 10 o'clock, when they will resume their consideration of the matter. No instructions were asked of the court. The jury made no report until they came in and reported a disagreement. Judge Wheeler had considered calling them in shortly after 5:30 to excuse them for the night, but in the absence of Attorney Thayer and the inability of Attorney James to reach him it was decided to allow them more time, and soon after that they reported.

The next case on the list of assignments is between Garlington vs. the Hillsville Mills company.

SENT TO JAIL FOR STEALING FROM MILL. Thamesville Men Given Ten Days and Costs—One Wanted to Go There as He Was Out of Work.

In the city court on Wednesday morning William Washock and M. Gudeki were presented, charged with theft of goods from the Unions paper mill at Thamesville. Upon being found guilty, they were sent to jail for ten days and taxed the costs. When Attorney James said, "No free, no eat, no work. Go to jail now where get fire get eat, but no work." The judge, however, came to a surprise to them, as they were prepared to pay their fines and costs, and one did not want to go to jail.

Washock was charged with breach of the peace upon complaint of another citizen of an assault upon him. The man arrested claimed the other was intoxicated and was into his house, and he took a club to him. He was allowed to settle his case by paying costs of $2.51.

GOLDEN WEDDING Will Be Observed by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Ketchum of Mystic, Friday.

Fifty years of married life is the record that is held by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Ketchum of Pearl street, Mystic, and the date for their golden wedding anniversary takes place Friday. Outside of entertaining a few friends on that date, Mr. and Mrs. Ketchum do not intend to make any formal affair of the anniversary.

Both have been long time residents of Mystic, Mr. Ketchum having been born there, while Mr. Ketchum was born in Ansonia. The marriage of Miss Sarah Lester to Mr. R. S. Ketchum was performed December 15, 1861, at Mystic Bridge by the Rev. Walter R. Long, pastor of the Congregational church of Mystic. Both are well known there, where they have a list of friends whom they would like to meet at their home Friday.

ADD VMS. Rev. C. Wilson Harrison has been requested to continue the work of the church choir at the Episcopal church, Neck Union chapel by a delegation from his Port Point church.

NOT A GOOD RECORD. Before the Board of Pardons T'is Week.

Harry Wilson, 28, convicted of carrying a knife, under 16 years of age in the town of Colchester in September, 1907, wanted to be released from the State Prison. His name is Ross Berman. Wilson's sister and relatives and parents of the girl supposed to be the wife of Wilson, who is now in the State Prison, have been petitioned. Major Hull, state's attorney for New London county, opposed the pardon. Wilson's real name is Nathan Palmer since he had it Anglicized by the court from the Polish. The parents of Palmer and the girl were all before the board. Palmer Perkins of this city appeared for Palmer. Warden Garner said that Palmer's record was not good, as he has ten reports.

CHELSEA STILL AGROUND. No Effort Made Last Night to Get Her Off the Rocks.

No effort was made Wednesday night to move the Chelsea from the mud flats at Sunken Meadows, the Bronx, New York. The task will probably be resumed today.

It was thought an attempt would be made to float her late in the afternoon after the freight had been removed. The Chelsea is a tug to get her from her position on the rocks.

Delegates Return from Convention. P. St. Onge and Aime Gordon, members of the Chelsea council, No. 207, who were delegates to the two-day congress of L'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique in Providence, returned on Wednesday. The delegates returned in a complete victory for the party which has been criticizing the management of financial affairs by the supreme officers. The insurgent wing elected a complete new set of officers, among whom was Dr. Omer Larue of Putnam as first vice president.

Norwich Attendants. Miss Maud E. Merritt and Albert W. Staab were married at the home of the bride, 20 Lincoln avenue, New London, on Wednesday, December 13, at 7 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Carlyle and sons, David and Rodney, of 97 Cliff street, attended the wedding. Mrs. Staab being Mrs. Carlyle's niece.

Elks' Social Session. The Elks' house committee has made arrangements for a rabbit supper at the home tonight, and following it there will be a social session. Music will be made and, if the committee is not mistaken in their anticipation, there will be a grand time.

Painters and Decorators Nominates. The Painters and Decorators' union met on Wednesday evening in Carpenter's hall, nominating its officers for the coming year. The insurgent wing has taken up the voluntary plan of contribution among its members for the tuberculosis sanatorium fund.
