

WILL OF WESTERLY ORCED WIFE

Leaves Property to Mother and Provides for Children in Orphanage—Husband of Margaret F. Stillman Said to be Married Again in Connecticut—"Larry the Dog" Barks Once Too Often—Schwaner Market Appraisal—Death of Simon P. White of Laurel Glen.

Judge Edward M. Burke held a special session of the Westernly probate court Tuesday afternoon. Henry Burdick represented the estate of Margaret F. Stillman, who died November 15, 1911. Her will was admitted to probate and Mr. Burdick was confirmed as executor. All real and personal property is left to the mother of the testatrix, St. Mary's orphanage, by its board of trustees, in named as guardian of two minor children, under fourteen years of age, who have been at the institution in Providence for the past two years. The master of appointing testamentary guardian to children was deferred, pending the business of notice of hearing, to give opportunity for the father, who is said to be married and living in Connecticut, having previous divorce and his wife, now deceased, to be heard in the matter of guardianship. This action was deferred, pending the business of notice of hearing, to give opportunity for the father, who is said to be married and living in Connecticut, having previous divorce and his wife, now deceased, to be heard in the matter of guardianship.

Helps of Eunice A. Burdick who died December 12, 1911, intestate, were held at Judge John W. Sweeney, or some other suitable person, be appointed administrator of the estate, and personal property valuation being placed between $2,500 and $5,000. Judge Sweeney was appointed administrator and the bond fixed at $2,000. Charles E. Roche, James V. Burke and Charles J. Butler were appointed appraisers.

The will of Giuseppe Purpuro, who died December 4, 1911, was submitted for admission to probate. All personal and real estate is bequeathed to his wife, Antoinette Purpuro. The personal property is valued at $200. Bond was fixed at $500, without surety, and Mrs. Purpuro confirmed as executrix. Appraisers, Eugene H. Pendleton and James V. Burke were appointed appraisers.

Rev. Arthur P. Wedge, former pastor of a Baptist church in Lowell, who has been appointed special representative of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions to the United States Indian schools by the Society for Propagating the Gospel Among the Indians, was formerly a resident of this city for many years ago. Brightman, patriotic instructor; Charles H. Holmstrom, quartermaster; James A. Randall, officer of the day; James A. Sheldon, officer of the guard; Horace Smith, sergeant major; Stephen W. Quinn, quartermaster.

The session of Michael McCarthy on the White Rock road was entered and ruled, after midnight, on Saturday preceding Christmas, and cigars, tobacco and cigars of the value of $20 were taken from the car by Mr. McCarthy, made an unsuccessful search for Columbus in Providence. Subsequently Chief Brown sent out a circular letter describing a Coleman to the police of the manufacturing centers of New England. In addition to the personal description the circular letter stated that Larry Coleman's home was in Troy, N. Y., and that by reason of his close intimacy with the gangster, Harry Campbell, a dog, which exhibited to him was assigned to giving in evidence, he was known on his circuit as Larry the Dog.

New Year's night, Officers Lewis and Marston of 34th Street heard Larry Coleman in a vehicle in that city, and as he failed to give the correct description sent out by Chief Brown, the officers arrested Larry and held him upon the charges of drunkenness. Chief Brown was notified and he went to 34th Street Tuesday morning and returned late at night with Coleman, extra-duties being waived. The prisoner admitted his guilt to the chief and stated that he alone committed the crime, and that there was no participation to the effect that he had an accomplice.

Wednesday evening, Coleman was arraigned before Judge O. H. Williams in the Third district court, charged with drunkenness.
