DANIELSON

Remored Starting Up of Cotton Mill—104 Deaths During 1911—New Telephone System Working Well—Mrs. C. C. Young Entertains at Cards.

Mrs. W. A. Whipple is spending a few days with relatives in Providence.

At State Grange Meeting. Sheriff Freston F. Sibley and Representative Charles S. Hyde of Canterbury were among those from eastern Windham county who attended the session of the state grange at Bridgeport this week.

Mrs. M. S. Warren will have the members of the Ladies' Art club at her home for a meeting Wednesday afternoon. The subject will be Panama.

The members of the board of relief for the town of Killingly have caused to be signed the usual notices announcing that they will commence their work on Feb. 1.

Comment was heard Friday that no weather of the present winter has been so severe as to cause a one-session day in the schools, which is something unusual in the punishing weather of this present week.

Sunday School Officers. The following are the newly elected officers of the Pentecostal Sunday School: Superintendent, Kent A. Barbee; first assistant, George Miner; second assistant, Julius Rainville; third assistant, Mrs. Annie Lloyd; secretary, Phiney Aldrich; treasurer, Rodney Lloyd; librarian, Miss Bertha Shipley; organist, Mrs. William Mason.

Runner That Cotton Mill Will Resume. At the end of this week all of the machinery at the Danielson Cotton company is stopped, the few employees who have been at work there in the past few weeks being laid off. It is reported, however, that the plant will soon resume operations, which development will be very welcome to business interests.

FUNERAL

Mrs. Hartley Kennedy. Relatives to this family were at Mootup Valley Friday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Hartley Kennedy, who passed away Tuesday. The deceased is survived by a husband and two daughters. Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director in charge. Burial was in the Pine Grove cemetery.

New System Satisfactory. A final inspection of the Danielson division of the S. N. E. T. company is to be made following the installation of the new battery service system, replacing the magneto system that had been in use here from the beginning of telephone service. The new system is giving excellent service and is much appreciated by the subscribers.

Expect Revenue from Motorists. Those Danielson people who look into the future see a source of revenue that will flow into this town when the new state highway is built next summer, giving an all-around route from Hartford to Providence, and from Danielson to the latter city. This revenue is expected to come principally from the constantly growing number of automobiles touring, always at a good speed. The new route, Providence to Hartford, will bring them to the Danielson, which is a very natural point for rest and supplies.

1911 Mortality. Records on file in the office of the town clerk show that there were 194 deaths in the town during 1911. These deaths were distributed throughout the months of the year as follows: January 9, February 12, March 9, April 15, May 9, June 4, July 4, August 3, September 2, October 9, November 13, December 6.

Day.

A Day of Sins and Falls. A man led a horse toward a blacksmith shop in Danielson during the storm of Friday. Covering each foot of the horse and the animal's head were pieces of burian. This was to prevent the smooth horse from slipping on the ice. A man looked at the horse and laughed. Then he started to walk away and fell. The moral is that tramp would have been a mighty wise precaution for many persons to have taken Friday. When the snow covered the ice the walking became more dangerous than during any of the days of a winter week, and there were many more falls than at any other time. The prospects are, however, that good sleighing is in sight, which will be some recompense for what has been endured this week.

Have Thief Spotted. While Albert Spinoza and the local police have an apparently well-founded theory as to who broke into the store on School street and into Mr.

Death of Mrs. George Benway. Mrs. George Benway died at her home on Main street Saturday night after a few days' illness with pneumonia. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at All Hallows' church in Moosup. Burial was at Watrous cemetery. As the procession was going down the long hill near the Congregational church in that village, one of the horses hitched to a survey fell on the ice, breaking the shafts. Soon another one of the horses with another survey fell. The undertaker who had hoarse did not dare stop to investigate the ice hill. Those in the carriages which were damaged did not go to the funeral, which was a great pity, but went to the trolley station which was near and returned here, while the rest of the funeral party went to the cemetery.

AN OLD WILL OF SINGER PRODUCED. Defense Claims It Refutes the Idea of Undue Influence.

New York, Jan. 12.—A will executed by John A. Singer, the inventor of the sewing machine manufacturer, was introduced before Surrogate Cohan at today's hearing in the contest over his estate. This will, attorneys for the estate told the surrogate, might have been lost in the Equitable building fire last Thursday had they not needed a promissory note and removed it from a depository in the building the day before the fire.

Counsel for the estate maintained that inasmuch as the older will contained the same legacies, with the exception of Mr. Singer's fourth wife, who was then alive and to whom was left the bulk of the estate, it refuted the charge by the contestants that Mr. Singer was unduly influenced in making his will in 1911, since he had six years previously that he intended to cut off his children, Mrs. Charlotte T. Donnelly, Mr. Singer's niece, and Mrs. Singer in the last will. Decision was reserved.
