NO LONGER STRIKE, BUT CIVIL WAR

Rabid Strike Leader Says Lawrence is in a State of Rebellion.

JOHN GOLDEN BITTERLY ATTACKED

Prominent Textile Labor Leader Accused by Industrial Workers' Organizer of Being in League with the Mill Owners—Effort to Secure Eitor's Release on Bail Fails—Manufacturers Issue Statement Regarding Wages.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 6.—Rivalry between labor organizations over the conduct of the textile workers' strike was accentuated tonight when leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World issued a statement asserting that the entrance of the American Federation of Labor into the situation is an effort by capitalists to divide the workers. The statement, which is in answer to a proclamation issued last week by John Golden of Fall River, president of the United Textile Workers of America, and other members of the American Federation of Labor, is signed by William E. Trautmann of Chicago, national organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, and three members of the strikers' committee.

Haywood Collects $81.

William H. Haywood returned here today and reported to the general strike committee that he had collected $81 at Fall River last night, and that at the meeting there of 1,200 operatives resolutions condemning Governor Foss for ordering the militia to Lawrence were passed. Haywood announced that he would speak in the following order: New Bedford tonight, Brockton, Wednesday night, Lynn, Thursday night, Somerville, Friday night, and that next Sunday he would speak in the interests of the Lawrence strikers.

Haywood Against Settling Strike.

In discussing the situation, Haywood declared to the members of the strike committee that he would not accept any proposition from the mill owners toward a settlement as long as the proposition was rendered "on the end of a bayonet dripping with the blood of his fellow workers." The strike committee was organized by the Lawrence strikers, and the meeting was adjourned to another hall, but this was also declared unsafe and another meeting place will have to be found.

State of Rebellion Threatened.

Just before the meeting adjourned, Haywood delivered a tirade against John Golden and the American Federation of Labor, declaring that Golden and his agents were not here for the purpose of organizing, but that they are here to assist the mill owners in their efforts to break the strike. He declared that a state of rebellion will exist in Lawrence until Joseph Z. Eitor is released.

Not a Strike but Civil War.

"If the court shall refuse to issue a writ of habeas corpus," he said, "it will assume that Lawrence is in a state of rebellion and that this is no longer a strike but civil war." As Haywood has stated, it is apparent that thinking justice loving men in the nation think that another meeting place will have to be found.

LITTLE HEADWAY IN BOMB MURDER CASE.

Police Admit That Case Against Dickinson is Not Strong.

New York, Feb. 6.—The mystery surrounding the murder of Helen Taylor, who was killed by the explosion of a bomb in her apartment last Saturday night, grew deeper tonight with the disclosure that the package containing the dynamite was not actually sent by mail, but was being delivered by messenger, as had been supposed.

The police and coroner Feinberg both admitted today that their case against Charles M. Dickinson, who was with the woman when the explosion took place, and who will be arraigned by the coroner tomorrow on the charge of homicide, had many weak points. It was intimated that any tangible evidence comes to light meantime Dickinson would be discharged.

The accused man did not possess the technical knowledge to manufacture the electrical infernal machine, and that the typewriting on the package in which it was sent did not correspond to that of any typewriter in the office where Dickinson was employed, were two facts disclosed today which shook the confidence of the police in the strength of the circumstantial case which they announced they had established against Dickinson yesterday.
