

GULLEN STOLE WESTERLY TOOLS

Property Found in Possession of "Newport Red" Belonged to Antonio Astoch—Chief Brown to Collect Articles Thief had Sold—Archibald Meikle in Driving Accident—Town Solicitor Quashes Clothing Clubs—Norwich Men Sell Westerly Real Estate.

William Gullen, the notorious burglar and sneak thief, who has served eight terms in Rhode Island prisons, and who is known as Newport Red and Red Gullen, is also a cheater. This fellow committed thefts in the Pierce street section recently and within two hours after the thefts were reported to Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown the thief was in quod. He gave the name of John Collins and was not known to the Westerly police until his identity was made known by the officials of the Providence county jail to Policeman Frederick T. Mitchell, who took the prisoner from the Third district court to that institution. Gullen pleaded guilty before Judge Williams to the charges of carrying a concealed weapon and to the theft of a clock, watch, ring and other articles from a Pierce street tenement. For these offenses he was sentenced to 11 months in jail and to pay fines of $250 and costs.

Chief Brown recovered the stolen articles mentioned and also a diamond suit case and a lot of machinist's tools that Gullen had peddled out at low prices. When questioned in court, Gullen said he took the suit case and tools from a roommate in Attleboro and added that he had never stolen anything before and that it was the first time he had ever been arrested.

Chief Brown has been making unsuccessful effort to trace the ownership of the suit case and tools and learned that no such articles were reported as missing from any lodging house in Attleboro. Tuesday morning Antonio Astoch called at the police station and identified the case and tools as his property. He said he was a machinist, worked in Attleboro and resided on the second floor of 73 Pierce street. He had heard of the thefts committed by Gullen, but never suspected that he had lost anything until Monday afternoon. He wanted a pipe wrench to use on a frozen water pipe, went to his room for the tool and for the first time discovered that his suit case of tools were missing.

Astoch says he always keeps the door of his room locked and that Gullen must have gained entrance by means of a key which was hanging on the door upon his departure. Now that

SAGE AND SULPHUR

Gives Color Luster to Faded and Gray Hair.

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp troubles. Almost everyone knows the value of such a combination for keeping the hair a good even color, for curing dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, and for promoting the growth of the hair. Years ago the only way to get a Hair Tonic of this kind was to make it in the home, which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost any up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully prepared in perfectly equipped laboratories.

An ideal preparation of this sort is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color or coming out. After using this remedy for a few days, you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better, the dandruff will soon be gone, and in less than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair.

Don't neglect your hair if it is full of dandruff, losing its color or coming out. Get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and see what a few days' treatment will do for you. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Special agent, The Lee & Osgood Co., 151 Main street.
