ANNOUNCEMENTS

Everybody's booming St. Nicholas ball, April 8th.
The annual meeting of the First Universalist society will be held on Monday, April 1st, at 7:30 p. m. See adv.

The special preacher Palm Sunday evening at St. Patrick's church is to be Rev. Joseph A. Heenan, O. P., of New Haven.

BREED THEATER.

Under Burning Skies, the Thrilling Biograph Story of the Great American Desert.

A superbly accurate portrayal of the dangers of the great American desert is to be seen in the splendid Biograph drama at the Broad today, entitled "Under Burning Skies." A pretty little town from a small western town has promised a cowboy that she would marry him if he would give up drinking, but his appetite for drink was so great that he could not keep his promise, and his antics while under the influence of liquor were so malicious that the town was known as "The Man of San Fernando." Later a young man from across the desert meets little Emily, and before long she consents to marry him. The man learns of this and sends a message to the new sweetheart that he will shoot him on sight. Emily, being fearful that he might carry out the threat, hastily marries the young man, and then flees for safety across the desert. Joe the bad man follows, and while the young couple are crossing the burning sands their drinking water is lost by bursting of the water sack, and Joe overhauls them on the desert dying of thirst. He ghosts over their misfortune and leaves them to die. Later his better self awakens and not being able to forget the appeals of little Emily, he returns to them, arriving just in time to save their lives.

For Monday and Tuesday only, the Broad will show another of their great Irish dramatic successes, entitled "The Road to Dublin." This drama has been taken both in Ireland and America. This is one of the biggest productions ever put upon one reel of film, and is remarkable for its beautiful story and splendid acting.

The Deserter is the title of the fourth number of the Brien two-reel feature pictures which are shown here every Monday and Tuesday. This feature is somewhat different from those seen here in the past, and is being a very exciting, dramatic military story, but was taken on the Miller Road 101 Ranch, the scene as it is presented and lacks none of the beautiful scenic effects, which were so highly complimented in the others. It depicts much wonderful horseback riding, during the war, and the whole is considered the best picture of the series thus far.

The vaudeville programme will be headed by Clayton and White, the eccentric comedians, who do a little of everything in the comedy line and promise to be a big hit.
Willard Brown and Grace Clinton will offer a new comedy and singing act on Monday's bill entitled "Schoolmates." A dainty comedienne is Florence LaVere, who will sing and dance her way into the audience, and will introduce several pretty costume changes. With other feature pictures are the show named "Amateur night" and the Auditorium should have a first class show for the first three days of next week.

POLY'S THEATER.

Notwithstanding the heavy rain, a good sized crowd greeted the amateurs at Poly's last night. While some of the numbers were highly entertaining and displayed genuine talent, and others were more or less otherwise, as a whole the first amateur night at the big house was a success, and was notable for the order that was maintained as well as for the fact that all the performers were genuinely amateur and were natives of Norwich.
The pictures were all up to the high standard established by the new management, and the singing of Raymond O'Neil, in "The Hat My Father Wore," was a splendid one. Amateur night will be held each Friday, three cash prizes being offered for the best performance, and will be strictly amateur, and so far as possible be restricted to residents of Norwich.
