

Wireless Station Near Westery

New England Navigation Company to Have Tall Pole at Pleasant View—Leander Clark's Son Summoned to New York Hospital—County Medical Society Hears Paper by Doctors F. I. Payne and Howard Morgan.

Delegates from the committee of the Westery fire department attended the meeting of the State Firemen's League, held at the Union company, and were hospitably entertained. The league has its headquarters at the headquarters of the firemen's association, and is now pending in the general assembly.

Under the auspices of the Rhode Island Citizens' Historical Association there will be observation of the two hundred and fifty anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence at the residence of Samuel Ward, an ancestor of Rhode Island, in 1762. The exercises will be held in Bliven opera house, May 17, Governor Ward was a resident of Westery when he became governor, which is the reason for holding the celebration here.

The active work of constructing a wireless telegraph station near Pleasant View, to be owned and maintained by the New England Navigation Company, has been commenced by the National Electric Signal company with the H. T. Kanyon company as sub-contractor.

The station will be located on a small on the farm of B. Frank Clarke, on the shore road, the site being considered the most advantageous in that section.

This will be the first wireless telegraph station to be erected in the town of Westery and will be a part of the system to be established by the navigation company to be in close touch with its fleet of steamships and to be of service to other vessels in case of distress.

Leander Clark of Westery, who has been employed as a carpenter in New York, recently underwent a surgical operation in a hospital in that city, and a letter received by his son, Walter Charles, Thursday morning, brought the information that the operation was successful and the prospects good for the early recovery of the patient. A few hours later Mr. Clark received a telegram to go at once to New York, as his father was in a critical condition and he left Westery on the noon train for the metropolis. Alfred Charles is brother of Milo M. and Joshua W. Westery, and Daniel W. Clarke of New London.

Mrs. Joseph L. Peacock of Westery was re-elected vice president at the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Branch of the Women's American Baptist Home Missionary Society. Mrs. George W. Rigler of Lonsdale, formerly of Westery, was chosen second vice president, Mrs. Henry H. Stark, Jr., corresponding secretary, reported increased interest in missions and that there were fourteen regular organized young people's missionary societies in the state. The report of the treasurer, Miss Elizabeth H. Snow, gave the receipts as $23.14 and a balance of $22.81. Mrs. G. W. Rigler, state director in her annual report, referred to the progress of the work as a whole and reported the formation of three new circles among the young people, four among the men and the addition of two baby bands. The appointment of the state amounting to $4,000 have been nearly met, the deficit being only $53.88.

At the afternoon session, Miss Mary Houston, secretary of the New England branch, told an interesting story of the Crow Indians, setting forth their need of the gospel to help them

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair.

A hairless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden sage and sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies, for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color. In a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out, but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Do not neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give you money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance. Special agents, Lee & Osgood Co., 121 Main street.

Charles McAlevy, as state deputy of the Knights of Columbus of Rhode Island, for the past two years, the state officers and district deputies tendered him a complimentary banquet in Providence Wednesday night. Judge John W. Sweeney of Westery, state advocate, was one of the speakers.
