VALUES TREE AT $500.

Judge Andrew J. Bowen Sues Gas & Electric Co. for Damage to Shade Tree.

Judge Andrew J. Bowen has instituted a suit against the Willimantic Gas & Electric Co. in which he seeks to recover $500 for damage to a tree in front of his property on Prospect street. The claim is that wires containing electric current, through the negligence of the defendant company, were allowed to damage the tree. The claim is that the killing of the tree damages the property and that the loss of a large ornamental shade tree is considerable, breaking up the general appearance and symmetry of the row of fine trees. The tree in question caught fire Tuesday evening and Fire Chief Thomas P. Foley was called to attend to it.

The action is returnable to the superior court for Windham county on the 6th Tuesday in May. Papers were served by Deputy Sheriff Addison J. Greenleaf.

Very well, thank you—except for a sore throat.

OFFHAND indifference to "only a sore throat" very often ends in much more serious trouble. Sore throat is a serious ailment in itself. And it doesn't always stop at being just sore throat—Tonsillitis, Laryngitis, Influenza, Quinzy, LaGrippe, even Diphtheria—all very easily follow.

If you even suspect a throat affection, it is your duty to forestall trouble. The use of a gargle will not do it—it is superficial aid at best.

Formamint THE GERM-KILLING THROAT TABLET

obviates every objection to a gargle. The germicidal factor in Formamint reaches every niche and nook in the germ-laden throat—dissolving in the saliva—bathing the throat membrane continuously.

Convenience itself, Formamint can be taken any time—any place—a gargle cannot be used often enough to be effective. Formamint is pleasant to the taste. Sucked in the mouth like candy.

Formamint prevents and destroys germ-infection—other throat tablets may give relief for the moment—but they lack the one great asset of Formamint—ability to kill germs.

50 Tablets for 50 cents. Seriously consider whether you can afford the risk of not using Formamint. Let us send you a trial tube. Two cents to defray postage and postage will bring it to you.
