STATE ATTORNEY BOUND TO CLEAN UP NORWICH State Police Again Raided the Houses of Ill-Repute at Early Hour This Morning. Determined that the houses of ill repute in this city shall be cleaned out, the state police on Wednesday night came here for the second time in a fortnight and raided several places, taking the keepers and frequenters, both men and women.

The state police, headed by Superintendent Egan and Asst. Sup. A. L. Story, numbering 15 in all, came here by the auto, following out the same plan of attack as on the previous raid April 18. They left Hartford in early evening and reached here about one o'clock, each place being visited at the same time by three of the men. The visit was a surprise in every instance, and not the least idea of another such visit was expected, nor the previous cases not having yet been disposed of, but as to come up Saturday.

The raid was conducted on the same lines as the previous ones, the charges being keeping houses of ill-fame, frequenting the same, and keeping liquor in violation of the law. All were taken to the police station by auto and held until the warrants could be made out and bail obtained. The raid occupied a period of two hours between one and three o'clock. In the meantime a doctor was called to police station to attend one of the women, who was sick, and at one of the houses one woman was ill, she could not be removed. They were practically the same women taken in this raid as on the former visit of the state police. A quantity of liquor was secured in each place. The total number arrested was 44 from five of the houses, of whom 14 were men.

From the sixth place there were taken two men and two women, making a total of 48 arrested altogether. $2,101.25 TOTAL AMOUNT FROM DOG LICENSES. 1,425 Canines Have Right to Live for Another Year—125 Names the Last Day. According to the legal limit, Town Clerk Charles S. Holbrook finished up the registration of dogs Wednesday night, May 1st, and for those that come in now their owners will have to pay a dollar extra for the right to live for the coming year. The town clerk, who was assisted in the last few days by Tyler Guy, had the office open until 9 o'clock Wednesday night and when the total was figured up it was found that 1,425 dogs had been registered this year, which is more than a year ago; 125 dogs were registered the last day. In the list registered were 59 females, 1,345 males and spayed. The total receipts for registration were $2,101.25. Of the 200 dogs registered last year whose names do not appear so far in the year's list, Clerk Holbrook will make a list to be handed to Dog Warden George H. Stanton.

FUNERALS. Mrs. Charles F. Brown. The funeral of Eunice B. Brown, wife of the late Charles F. Brown, was held at her late home, on Scott Hill, in Colchester, at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. THE HEWITTS IN TAXES

Thomas B. Hewitt of New York has appealed from Board of Relief. Two lawsuits over taxes that excited considerable interest in the legal fraternity and among property owners and town authorities, when they were first reported, have now been decided by the board of relief on the taxes of Thomas B. Hewitt of New York.

On the levy of 1908, Mr. Hewitt's valuation was $12,890, to which the board of relief added ten per cent. for failure to hand in his return of $1,778. On the levy the next year his valuation was $11,352, which with the ten per cent. added by the board of relief amounted to $12,487. Mr. Hewitt instituted two suits, both appeals from the board of relief, in which demurrers have been decided both ways. Now the withdrawal of the suit and the consent by the town to receive the lists without additions is a victory for Mr. Hewitt.
