PUTNAM Half of 450 Employees at Mechanicville Mill on Strike—Mechanics of I. W. W. Fostering Dissatisfaction—Agent C. F. Waterman's Statement—D. A. R. Decorate Graves.

On Thursday, the employees who have thrown up their work in the mill of the French River Textile company at Mechanicville, came on strike during the afternoon and held a get-together meeting in Foresters' hall.

Between 150 and 200 men and women were present. The talking done at the meeting was by Grover C. Perry, a chauffeur, and an organizer of the I. W. W. with whose body all those on strike are affiliated, having been organized during the early part of April, was stated by one of the strikers after the meeting.

The outcome of the meeting was, apparently, a crystallization of the determination of the strikers to remain until their grievances are adjusted. What they had to say about staying on strike, taken with what could be learned relative to what they are likely to be granted in the way of concessions would indicate that the difference between the strikers and the management, as a whole, look for a long siege.

This morning the last meal will be served to nearly 100 strikers who live at the company boarding house at Mechanicville, the model French River Inn. After that it will be up to the strikers to find some place where they can live in the village.

It is understood that one of the objects of this meeting will be the plan for the organization of those employees of the French River mill who have not come out on strike. About half of the 450 employees of the plant are on strike, the majority of them from the weaving department, with some fixers and winders also out.

The cause of the strike was the inflicting of a fine of fifty cents upon one weaver for having made a hole in the cloth through which, for a length of 50 yards, a flat or loose thread ran, making an imperfection. This is according to the system of the mill, in vogue at the mill, as in all other textile factories. Various strikers stated that they would not be fined.

In the sewing department, which was imposed upon the strikers, the fine was not in accord with the system of the mill, in vogue at the mill, as in all other textile factories. Various strikers stated that they would not be fined.

What Agent Waterman Says. Thursday afternoon Frederick Waterman, agent of the French River Textile company, denied that the company had entered into any agreement with the strikers. He said that he should not be inflicted upon them after they had left the weaving department, excepting at length how such an arrangement would be in the interest of the company.

It is understood that a trolley express service would be inaugurated by the Connecticut company between Putnam and Norwich, were it not for the fact that the Adams Express company has an exclusive right to carry express over that part of the line—Central Village to Taffville—over which both steam and electric cars are run.

Mr. C. E. Pratt of Bradley street has been spending a few days with relatives in Willimantic. Mrs. Nellie Seaver of Willimantic, formerly of Putnam, has been visiting with friends here this week.

Putnam attorneys are at Willimantic today (Friday) attending a short casual session of the superior court. Mrs. C. H. Kelley is visiting friends in Centerville, R. I.

Charles Lennox, proprietor of the Hotel Dewitt in Webster, where he died suddenly this week, had many friends in this city. Misses Carrie and Harriet Sweet of Springfield, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Rafferty.

Frank Weatherhead of Grove street has gone to Detroit for a visit with his daughter. George C. Flower of Providence will attend a meeting in Putnam Thursday.

Hope to Start Monday. It was said by Silas M. Wheelock of the Putnam Woolen company that the hope was to get the plant running again by Monday. An accident to machinery in the wheelock has kept the mill closed for more than a week in the busy part of the year.

TWENTY-SIX GRAVES Of Revolutionary Soldiers Decorated by D. A. R.—Memorial to Miss Larned. Members of Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A. R., are to meet at 10:15 Sunday morning in the primary room at the Baptist church for exercises attending the Memorial Sunday exercises.

Ancient Aryans Their Manners, Customs and Beverages. Thousands of years ago, the Aryans lived in the high plateaus of Central Asia. Later they spread easterly into India and the Occident and later still, westerly, into Europe where they became the forefathers of the European nations of today. Their earliest known beverage "Soma" was made from the juice of the moon plant. The stalks were crushed between stones and the juice carefully gathered and strained. It is not known whether "Soma" was fermented. Several passages in the Vedas—the ancient sacred books—seem to show that "Soma" was mixed with milk and butter and used warm. A later drink—Sura, was made from a kind of millet, mixed with water, honey, curd butter and barley. This Sura was a stronger drink than Soma and became much more popular. The Veda calls Soma "medhu" meaning "honey" or "sweet." This word later became changed into "mead" which was used generally in ancient writing to signify any alcoholic beverage. Imagine the delight of an Ancient Aryan if he could have tasted the perfect brewing product of modern times: THE JAMES HANLEY BREWING COMPANY PROVIDENCE, - - R. I.
