WESTERLY G. A. R. NECROLOGY

Since Last Memorial Day Budlong Post Has Lost Six Members—One From Hancock Post Answers Final Roll Call—Honors For Judge Burke—Masonic Burial For Capt. Charles E. Nash—Harvard Scholarship For Samuel C. Webster, Jr.

Judge Edward M. Burke of Mashantucket, Westery, was honored at the twenty-fifth annual session of the great council of Rhode Island, Improved Order of Red Men, at Hartford, Conn., and also the twenty-fifth annual session of the Westery grand council, and president of the session. He was complimented upon his successful administration and was given a most grand award, the presentation being made by Deputy Great Inchooness Henry M. Francis of Providence. He was elected grand representative to the next national wigwag gathering, which will be held in Charleston, S. C., and also great orator of the great state council. His annual report of grand assembly, made from his value to the council, was unanimously declared to be a literary gem.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: James Monroe of Providence, grand sovereign; Edward M. Burke of Westery, grand prophet; Louis J. Stevens of Valley Falls, grand chief of records; Charles C. Phillips of Providence, grand keeper of the wampum; Edward M. Burke, grand representative; Cyrus M. Wheaton of East Providence, grand scribe; Thomas L. Thayer of Providence, grand scribe; George M. Mason of Pawtucket, grand guard of wigwag; Frederick L. Mosler of Central Falls, grand master of the forest.

The reports of the officers and committees showed that the tribes in the jurisdiction were in satisfactory financial and numerical condition, with a net gain of twenty in membership during the year. There was paid for the relief of members $1,814.31, and for funeral relief $1,169.30.

The great council discussed plans for the quarterly centennial anniversary of the order in Rhode Island, to be held next spring, and continued the committee appointed a year ago to make arrangements for the observance. The celebration will be statewide and include a street parade, a mass meeting at which members of national importance will be invited to speak with a powwow in the evening with a grand ball as a feature.

Since last Memorial Day six members of Budlong post of Westery, department of Rhode Island, Grand Army of the Republic, have answered the roll call. They are: John H. Ketchick, who served in the navy, died July 7, 1911, buried at River Bend; Lieut. Courtland G. Stanton, Company G, Twenty-third Infantry, died August 19, 1911, buried at River Bend; August A. Law, navy, died September 19, 1911, buried at River Bend; Bernard Halpin, Company G, Fifth Connecticut, buried in St. Michael's cemetery, Joseph H. Smith, Company L, Third Rhode Island Heavy Artillery, died January 12, 1912, buried at River Bend; Joseph T. Saunders, Company A, Twelfth Rhode Island, died March 18, 1912, buried at Wood River Junction.

During the same period, Hancock post, department of Connecticut, lost one member by death, Leander S. Clarke. He served in the Third Rhode Island cavalry and is buried in Oak Grove cemetery, Ashaway.

From Memorial day, 1910 to 1911, Budlong post lost six members by death, and Hancock post one from the same cause, just as in the present period. Samuel C. Webster, Jr., of Westery, graduate of the Westery high school, and member of the 1912 class, Rhode Island state college at Kingston, has been honored with an award of a special university scholarship to open in the Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Science to seniors of high standing in American colleges. He is the son of Dr. Samuel Webster, and is believed to be the first Rhode Islander to receive that honor.

The body of Capt. Charles E. Nash, who died Tuesday at his home on Fishers Island, arrived in Westery from New London on the 147 train and accompanied by many friends, was conveyed to River Bend, for burial according to the Masonic ritual. The service was by Franklin Lodge, F. and

A. M. of which Captain Nash was a member. He was born in Westery 75 years ago, and resided in Fishers Island 31 years. He was the first to take command of steamers that plied regularly between New London and the island. He leaves two daughters and a brother.

Mary S. Grilla was the winner of the first prize in the prize speaking contest open to the girls of the Westery high school, and the verdict of the judges received the approval of the auditors and her schoolmates. Her selection was Villon's Answer to Budlong, by McCarthy. The second prize was awarded to Vivian A. Arnold, her selection being Captain, My Captain, by Fraser. Honorable mention was given Olive M. Danson, whose selection was the Heart of Old Hickory, by Deunsooke.

Local Laetionics. Union dispensary parade and inspection next Saturday. Mrs. Max of New London is visiting her son, Dr. John L. May, in Westery. No cases were tried at Friday's session of the Third district court in Westery.

Six Aldermen James P. Sullivan and Victor Goldsmith of New London were in Westery Friday.

Rev. E. C. A. Jones will give an illustrated Memorial day sermon in the Calvary Baptist, Sunday evening. The members of the Westery Catholic club will receive holy communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass Sunday, in the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Charles W. Barber, age 82, is the oldest civil war veteran residing in Westery. He is a member of Budlong post, Col. Thomas D. Shufield is the oldest member of Hancock post.

Deacon Ethan Wilcox led the meeting at the People's Mission, Sunday evening. He will speak before the members of the Westery Baptist church (colored) Sunday evening in Murphy's hall.

Dr. J. Howard Morgan and daughter Miss Dorothy Morgan, returned Thursday evening from a visit in the north, going over the grounds in which were interred by the doctor as a soldier in the civil war.

The postoffice employees at New London have arranged for a banquet and entertainment this (Saturday) evening, and have invited all special guests employees of the postoffice in Westery, Norwich, Stonington, Mystic and Willimantic.

Mrs. Annie Broadfoot, while leaving the house of a friend, where she had been attending a sewing circle, made a misstep and fell, striking on the back of a chair and breaking two ribs in her right side. Her son William accidentally shot himself in the calf of the right leg a week ago while out for revolver target practice.

The Colchester Clock & Suit Co. which has been located in the old shoe shop, has rented the large building on South Main street belonging to P. A. Lawley, lately vacated by John Condon, the second story of which has been used by P. A. Lawley & Son as their show room, will be fitted up for manufacturing purposes and the first floor will be used as a store. The company consists of several Colchester people who organized the company nearly a year ago and have been doing a good business.

Memorial Sunday. The memorial services will be held in the Congregational church Sunday morning at 10:45. Rev. H. A. Blake, the pastor, will deliver the address. The members of the G. A. R. will meet at their post room and march to the church in a body.

There will be no service at the Baptist church Sunday morning. The evening service at 7 o'clock will be in charge of the young people, and a programme of songs, recitations and short addresses, commemorative of the day, will be heard.

Norwich Academy Cancelled Game. The Norwich Free Academy ball team cancelled the game with the Boys' club team, which was to have been played Friday afternoon on the park.

The Boy's club team will play the Windham high team in Willimantic this (Saturday) afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Langway of Pine Hill farm, Hebron, was the guest of friends in town Thursday.

Harry Wickwire was visiting friends in East Hampton Friday.

Mrs. Ernest Bump of Hebron was at her home on Myrtle avenue Thursday. John Hewitt and party of Hebron were callers here Friday in Mr. Hewitt's touring car.

Jacob Stockman of New York is the great relative in town.

George T. Clark of Willimantic was in town Friday in his touring car. John Bradshaw of Willimantic was a Colchester caller Friday.

Repairing Park Walks. The work of repairing the walks in the park was begun Thursday under the supervision of L. C. Brown. Several loads of spars or cinders have been secured from the railroad company and are being put in the low places.

George A. Mills of Exeter was in town Thursday in his touring car. Nathan Hall and party of East Hampton were in town Thursday, trout fishing, and caught a good string.

James Purcell, Jr., was in Norwich Friday, returning in his touring car, which has been at one of the garages in that city during the winter.

Miss Addie May Wickwire returned to New York Thursday morning.

A Story of Perfidy. The Ohio double header will carry the president all over the state, and the tale he has to tell of Roosevelt duplicity and failure to abide by the quiet deal will be recited as convincingly as in the states where it has already been unfolded. No more condemning narrative has ever been given regarding the inside facts of Roosevelt's attack upon him—Baltimore American.
