ROOSEVELT MEN IN HAPPIER MOOD

Professed to Be Highly Elated Over Seating of the Missouri Delegates-at-Large

SECRETARY NAGEL LEFT TAFT MEN IN THE LURCH

Left Chicago on Eve of Missouri Contest Hearing and Nobly Championed Cause of Taft Delegates—Roosevelt contingent Decides on Senator Borah to Preside at Convention—Hughes Won't Permit the Use of His Name.

Chicago, June 13.—The Missouri compromise decision and the quick following and ardently expected adjournment of the republican national committee this afternoon brought about a situation full of uncertainty and conflicting rumors, which hastened throughout the evening and refused to crystallize into any definite form.

STATUS OF DELEGATES.

Table with columns: State, Delegates, Total. Rows include Missouri, North Carolina, etc.

Expectations traversed a long and varied scale, all the while from the statement that the compromise and sudden adjournment presaged a general getting together of the Taft and Roosevelt factions, to the naive theory that it was to give the convention carpenters a chance to finish their hammering and sawing in the neighborhood of the committee room.

Taft Supporters Needed the Time. The explanation which best fits the various known facts is that the Taft supporters were glad to take advantage of the three or four hours of time saved by the compromise on the Missouri cause to take account of stock and prepare for the contest expected over the Texas and the Washington contests.

Roosevelt Forces Pleaded. Roosevelt supporters professed to be greatly elated over the seating of their delegation at large from Missouri and asserted that the outcome in the whole Missouri business would be a matter of mere suspense. The Taft people, on the other hand, seemed to take the outcome completely as a matter of course, and their claims on that account.

Secretary Nagel Criticized. National Committee Chairman Charles Nagel of Missouri, Mr. Taft's secretary of committee, was the center of attention yesterday on the eve of the Missouri contest hearing, which he had been counted upon to present, came in for considerable criticism from the committee action marked the first important concession of the fight to Roosevelt.

Taft Men Left in Lurch. Several members of the committee had been notified that Mr. Nagel would argue the case. Late last night, when news was received that he had left town, some of the Taft members of the committee determined to stand by the Hadley-Roosevelt delegates. To-day absolutely no word was heard to challenge Governor Hadley's presentation of the case, and the Taft leaders said there was nothing for them to do but surrender.

Governor Hadley Commends Committee. Governor Hadley in a public statement declared that the committee had done its duty and that the result was the best possible. He commended the committee and the result, and said that he was satisfied with the outcome.

Texas Next Big Fight. The next big fight is expected to center about the Texas delegates. The Missouri contest has been a prelude to the larger contest which will be fought in Texas.

No Compromise by Roosevelt. The Roosevelt managers declared no compromise would be considered with regard to Texas. The Taft managers asserted they would fight for all the contested Texas delegates.

McHarg Claims 30 Texas Delegates. Rumors of compromise and concession in the remaining contested rights were denied by the press on both sides. It is expected that the Virginia contests in which the Roosevelt forces charge that the Taft delegates have been elected by fraud will be the next big fight.

Borah for Presiding Officer. Both sides continued to claim ultimate control of the convention and in this connection the Roosevelt forces announced their intention to oppose on the floor the selection of Senator Borah as a temporary chairman.

Taft Leaders Confer. After several conferences at the Taft headquarters tonight, in which Senators Penrose and Crane, Chairman McKinley and other Taft leaders took part, the decision to put forward Senator Newell Sanders of Tennessee as chairman of the committee on permanent organization was confirmed.

Senator Reed Expected. Gossip of the planned fight against Senator Root awakened interest in his expected arrival.

expected arrival. He had been expected today and rooms were in readiness for him. Mr. Root, however, had not reached here at a late hour, and inquiries failed to reveal his whereabouts.

ROOSEVELT SECURES 12. Colonel Fares Well at Contest Hearing—Eighteen for Taft.

Chicago, June 13.—Twelve delegates for Colonel Roosevelt and 18 for President Taft marked the day's gains of the two chief rivals and the republican presidential nomination from the decision of contested cases by the republican national committee. In addition to the delegates from Missouri, between rival Roosevelt factions in two districts of North Carolina, thus clearing the column's title to votes from those sections.

Compromised on Missouri. It was a day of Roosevelt victories, but victories achieved with the full acquiescence of the Taft majority on the national committee. Missouri's contests, which threatened another battle between the Taft and Roosevelt factions, in which the lines would be closely drawn, were compromised so effectively that the committee was unanimous in giving Roosevelt eight delegates and Taft two from Missouri.

The Contests Decided. The decisions today were: For Taft, two each from the second, third, fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth Missouri districts, two each from the third, seventh and fourteenth Missouri districts, and two from the first and eighth North Carolina districts. Total 32.

North Carolina Fight Settled. At the end of a week of constant work over the contested delegations, the committee has given Missouri Taft a total of 159 delegates and Colonel Roosevelt a total of 133.

More Compromises Looked For. When adjournment was taken at 5:15 o'clock, the committee was still in session. It is expected that the Virginia contests in which the Roosevelt forces charge that the Taft delegates have been elected by fraud will be the next big fight.

MACK DELIGHTED. Expresses Great Satisfaction With the Convention Hall at Baltimore.

Baltimore, June 13.—National Chairman Mack came to Baltimore tonight and after officially opening the headquarters of the democratic national committee at the Bellevue made an inspection of the convention hall.

New York, June 13.—Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States supreme court, with his family, passed through this city on his way to the Adirondacks, where he will pass the summer.

To his friends who spoke to him of the reports from Chicago in which he had been mentioned as a possible compromise nominee for the presidency, Justice Hughes said that he was completely out of politics and would not permit the use of his name under any circumstances. He gave his friends clear notice that he would not consent to his name being used.

MAY GO TO CHICAGO. Roosevelt Says His Supporters Desire His Presence There.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 13.—After talking for several hours tonight with Senator Dixon over the telephone wire, Colonel Roosevelt said that he might go to Chicago. His presence at the republican national convention, however, still remains in abeyance.

Colonel Roosevelt said that the delegates who were supporting him were indignant at the trend of affairs in Chicago. He was told tonight that they regarded the situation as being "a cynical open attempt on the part of the national committee to defraud the people of the victory they have won."

It was the intention of the national committee, the colonel continued, to nominate for president the man who he said, had been repudiated by the rank and file of the republican party. The result, as Colonel Roosevelt put it, has been a very intense feeling leading to a strong demand from the Roosevelt delegates, especially those from the western states, that he go to Chicago.

The colonel explained that he had been told that his supporters wished his presence, not because he is a candidate, but because they regarded him as the man who had kept the party at the moment leading the fight for the people as a whole.

Colonel Roosevelt will go to New York in the morning. Whether he will leave for Chicago later in the day or return to Oyster Bay tomorrow night he did not say.

"I don't know what I shall do," said he. "It depends upon what I learn in the morning."

General Wood Seems Doomed

HIS FATE NOW IN HANDS OF PRESIDENT TAFT.

CHARGES OF INTRIGUE

Washington, June 13.—Startling charges of an intrigue against Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, begun by the late Senator Marcus A. Hanna and kept alive by friends, were only part of a series of sensations which attended the adoption by the house today of the army appropriation bill conference report.

Personal References Made. References to a western senator whose son-in-law, Brigadier General Pennington, would have been one of the first officers in line for appointments to General Wood's office, if President Taft signed the bill which carries an amendment to decrease the chief of staff, allusions to Major General Charles F. Humphrey as "the agent for the podor trust," and to Senator Taft's former connection with the powder business, furnished other incidents in what perhaps was an stormy afternoon as the house had seen in many a day.

Wood Appears Doomed. Nevertheless, in spite of a vain fight led by Representatives Prince, Cooper and Miller, the bill was passed, and it is said he will, General Wood will be removed from his office on March 4, 1913, and the retention of a disposal of many army posts which the war department has characterized as useless will be left to a commission.

GOVERNMENT CASH IN WALL STREET

United States Treasury Loaned It to Banks and Banks Loaned it to Stock Exchange

ECHO OF 1907 PANIC AT THE PUJO HEARING

Evidence Drawn From Roosevelt's Secretary of the Treasury at Money Trust Investigation—J. Pierpont Morgan Generally Credited With Supplying the Money—Morgan's Partner Admits Banks Made Loans—Cortelyou Evasive.

New York, June 13.—Evidence introduced to show that the $25,000,000 which J. P. Morgan has been generally credited with placing upon the New York stock exchange during the panic of 1907 was really supplied by the treasury of the United States was introduced today at the hearing of the Pujo committee of the house of representatives which is investigating the so-called money trust.

Money Lended by Government. Samuel Undermyer, counsel for the committee obtained from George B. Cortelyou, secretary of the treasury under the Roosevelt administration, who came to New York during the panic, the assertion that the money loaned by the government to the banks at that time was to be used on the stock exchange.

Morgan Banks Received Deposits. Mr. Undermyer was trying to bring out that some of the so-called Morgan banks received the deposits. The list furnished by Mr. Undermyer included the First National, the National City, the Hanover National, the National Bank of Commerce and others which Mr. Undermyer pencilled as having Morgan affiliations.

The record from the two lists compares showing that on Oct. 4, 1907, the First National had received $13,000,000 in government deposits, had "agreed to loan" to the stock exchange $4,000,000, and had actually loaned $5,000,000, and had actually loaned $5,000,000.

Banks Loaned to Stock Exchange. From Charles Veale, a partner of J. P. Morgan, he obtained a statement to the effect that the government loan to the stock exchange on that day.

The total amount "agreed to" was $23,000,000. The actual amount actually loaned, according to the statement, was $18,945,000. All these banks, the sub-treasurer statement showed, had previously received deposits of government money.
