

Native Green Corn

- Native Tomatoes
Native Cucumbers
Native Broilers
Native Squash
Native String Beans
Native Fowl
Native Lambs
Native Veal

When You Want It GOOD GO TO SOMERS Food Specialist

GEO. A. DAVIS

We have received a splendid new line of very desirable for WEDDING and ANNIVERSARY GIFTS.

MERCHANDISE

SOME VERY CHOICE GOODS IN SOLID MAHOGANY, HANDSOME ELECTRIC LAMPS and STERLING SILVER.

GEO. A. DAVIS, 25 Broadway.

July Suit Sale!

When suits of our kind are sold at reduced prices it means more than the ordinary "Marked Down." It means more, much more, because of the recognized reliable values we offer at all times. SPRING SUITS at $8.35 $12.35 $14.75 $16.75

Straw Hats Half Price

The F. A. Wells Co. "Good Clothes Store"

Cut Glass Water Sets $3.45 and upwards

The Plaut-Cadden Co. Jewelers and Silversmiths, Established 1872, PLAUT-CADDEN BUILDING

Juice of Lemon at Rallon's

The Plunge A big "roomy" Sponge, A cake of dainty Soap, A full sized Bath Towel, A tin of Talcum Powder, one of our special Bath Sprays and there is no regret for the seashore or lake.

Here's an outfit for $2.00 that will give you a hundred dollars worth of luxuriant bathing.

LEROU, The Progressive Druggist, 289 Main Street, Opposite Chase Bank.

THE BULLETIN is the advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Saturday, July 27, 1912.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

The day's length is now 14 hours and 24 minutes.

Marshmallow roasts are popular on the beaches these nights.

Shore dinner at Kitemaug Sunday from 1 to 4 o'clock. 75 cents.-adv.

The New Haven road reports heavy week end riding, along the Shore Line particularly.

The hotelkeepers at the nearby summer resorts have nothing to complain of this season.

The annual state baby show at Lake Compounce will occur this year on Thursday, August 15.

The 1912 directory of Watch Hill includes the names of all the residents of the cottage of George H. Loring of Norwich.

A Mystic correspondent notes that lobster is not so plentiful in that neighborhood looking for shorts.

Does days began Thursday, but the weather did not indicate the fact. They end Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Williams' Root Beer is a natural health drink, sparkling and delicious. Make it yourself. Serve it all summer.-adv.

Ocean Beach needs a big modern hotel to add to its completeness as a shore resort, some of the progressives say.

The New London Kennel club is receiving a large number of entries for its second annual dog show on Thursday, August 8.

Farmers bring in word that the local corn crop is going to be a bumper. The outlook is a wonderful growth since the rains.

Blackberries are found to be quite plentiful in many localities this season, and the raspberry bushes have also borne a good crop.

The yield of peaches will be smaller this year than usual, present conditions indicate, and apples and pears will have a average yield.

At the Knickerbocker hotel, Shantie has been registered H. G. Pond of Norwich, L. F. Wardell and Charles Smith and family of Norwich.

All the cottages at Pleasant View are occupied at the present time with the exception of three or four, which are being held for the late comers.

Ocean Beach Day this year is to be postponed from midsummer until September, in order that it may profit by one more feature for the convention.

Sunday is dedicated to St. Victor, pope and martyr, in the Roman Catholic church, while next Wednesday is the feast day of St. Ignatius Loyola, confessor.

Many automobilists and more trolley riders made Stonington their destination Thursday and Friday in order to get a glimpse of the wreck or what was left of it.

Connecticut delegates are preparing to attend the 11th national convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, to be held in Louisville, Ky., August 18 to 21.

The Connecticut tobacco fields, which were in a bad way before the rains, have come up remarkably in the past few days, in order that the growers are about to begin pruning.

The Connecticut Chautauque assembly concluded its annual series of meetings Thursday night, and for the first time in its history found that its income had met expenses.

September 16-17 was set at a directors' meeting in New Haven Thursday for the annual convention of the Connecticut Employers' Mutual Benefit Association in August at the Savin Rock.

The plans are announced for a big "New York week" celebration on September 19, 20 and 21, which will be made one of the biggest affairs of the kind that New England has known.

A number of the stopping places along the line of the Norwich and Westerly trolley road have been abolished, in order that better time might be made between the points of destination.

At Andover, the friends of Mrs. Jeanette Smith have presented her with $50 in gold as a slight recognition of her completion of half a century as a member of the Congregational church choir.

The 18th anniversary of St. James' Episcopal church and the dedication of a $20,000 parish house at Great Barrington, Mass., Thursday the dedicatory address was by Bishop Thomas F. Davies, formerly of Norwich.

The Telephone Bulletin appears this month in a new form, its new shape making it more convenient to read and carry. Its cover scheme is also new and the improvements increase distinctly the value of the Bulletin.

At Watch Hill this afternoon the Connecticut women are going to carry the suffrage campaign into Rhode Island. Mrs. Carlos F. Stoddard of New Haven, which city she now is a member of the movement, is the principal speaker.

The old frigate Constitution, famous for her deeds during the war with France and the war of 1812, recently threatened with abandonment in the waters of Chesapeake bay, is allowed to remain in service at Newport, R. I.

The Portunula indulgence may be gained in all the churches of the Hartford diocese from next Thursday noon till midnight August 2, or from noon Saturday till midnight of Sunday, August 5, at the choice of pastors of the respective churches.

"The Immigrants' Guide," the book prepared under the direction of the Connecticut D. A. R. for the education of foreigners in citizenship, has already been published in Italian, English, Polish and Yiddish, the last two being just off the press.

You have money idle in savings banks at 4 per cent, when shore lots are increasing 20 per cent, yearly in value. Investigate Groton Long Point, the new beach with new opportunities. Plois on your own terms. Jas. Jay Smith Co., Shannondigm.-adv.

Between the 40 degrees to which the mercury was down this week in a number of places in this locality and the 95 and 98 degree temperatures of the week before, there is enough difference to bear out the traditional unreliability of New England weather.

Ocean Beach Wednesday closes the suffrage campaign for this summer, and the suffragists will go back to Hartford to prepare to meet the legislators on the fall. They have now completed their tour of the county in the state and have leagues in all the larger cities.

The first year's work of the Industrial Bureau of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and the Boston and Maine railroad shows that 25 concerns, employing 1,800 men, having property worth over $1,000,000, have been located in various sections of New England.

The office force and draughtsmen of the New London Ship and Engine Company, Croton, are going about 50, are to have an outing at Kitemaug today.

Mrs. G. P. Thresher of this city, won second prize in a state kitchen economy contest which a large packing house is conducting. She contributed a recipe for stewed tripe a la Macy.

James Boland has returned from a visit in Hartford and Springfield.

Henry Christian is spending several days with friends at Gardner Lake.

Walter Peck and Raymond Wolf were recent visitors at Block Island.

John Carroll and John Bowman leave today for a visit with friends in New York.

Miss Irene Maynard of Springfield is the guest of her uncle, Michael Trembly, of Lafayette street.

Miss Ruth Crawford has returned from a two weeks' visit at Miss Blanche Hall at Fisher's Island.

George L. Yeomans of 21 Lafayette street, but as a caller, on Wednesday, Rev. Jason Thompson of Griswold.

Miss Belle Spaulding and Mrs. Bertha Wilbur spent Thursday in Wauregan as the guests of the Misses Tracy.

Miss Florence E. Tracy of Broad street left town Friday for a three weeks' stay with friends in Lewiston, Me.

Channing Huntington, Charles and Russell Hopkins have returned from a two weeks' stay at Best View on the Thames.

Mrs. Rose Schwartz, with her three daughters, Freda, Lillie and Sylvia, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Blinderman.

Mrs. Jennie Zippor and daughter Margaret of Elizabeth, N. J., are visiting at the home of Ruby Blinderman on Forest street.

Abraham Cohen of New York is visiting at his home on the West Side. He has been employed in the metropolis for four years now.

Miss Estella Davis and Master Myrtle Blinderman are the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Blinderman, of High street.

C. F. Roswell of Mansfield Center has been doing some detective work in Scotland this week. From there he goes to New York state.

Max Fefferman and Benjamin Fefferman are among the guests here from Bath Beach, Brooklyn, N. Y., to attend the Goldfarb-Gordon wedding.

REPORTERS' GRATUITIES CASE.

Supreme Court Upholds Lower Court in Declaring State Officers Not in Contempt.

The supreme court of errors for the state of Connecticut on Friday handed down a decision upholding the superior court for its action in the contempt proceedings in the case of reporters' gratuities case. This was the case of Clarence Deming and others against Thomas D. Bradstreet and others, asking the state Treasurer, Costello Lippitt and State Controller Bradstreet should not be held in contempt for paying gratuities of $360 to 11 newspaper reporters. The opinion, finding no error in the part of the lower court, was written by Chief Justice Hall.

The lower court found the two state officers not in contempt in making the payments.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY.

Telephone Employees Will Hold Outing at Savin Rock.

The annual field day of the Telephone Employees Mutual Benefit association will be held on the third Tuesday in August at the Savin Rock. Local employees look forward to the event with much pleasure. There will be a shore dinner and an interesting program of athletic events arranged. Among those on the committee or arrangements are T. Sargent and H. J. Pond of this city.

CAPTAIN BRANT HERE.

Succeeds Envoy French in Charge of Local Salvation Army Work.

Captain C. H. Brant of Ansonia is town and will take up the work of the Salvation Army here succeeding Envoy French who has been removed to Hartford. Captain Brant has been engaged in the work for the past 23 years, 13 years in Canada, and later in Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. He is accompanied by his wife and seven year old son.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Charles T. Smith.

The death of Helena A. Bacon, wife of Charles T. Smith, occurred at her home, 55 Fairmount street, Friday morning at 11 o'clock, after an illness of seven months. She was the daughter of Harrison and Elizabeth Bidwell Bacon, and was born in Norwich 35 years ago. She was united in marriage with Charles T. Smith on January 24, 1883, by the Rev. Leader T. Chamberlain. Mrs. Smith was a member of the Universalist church, the Daughters of Liberty and Norwich commandery, No. 647, U. O. G. T. A sister, Miss N. A. Bacon, also survives. Mrs. Smith had a large number of true friends, who respected her highly. She was a loving wife, kind mother, and found pleasure in doing good where ever she was able.

William P. Williams.

William Pierpont Williams died in New York city, at 550 Park avenue Thursday, July 25, at the age of 54 years. His body will arrive here on Sunday and will be buried in the city cemetery. He was the son of William P. M. Williams. Both his parents are buried in the cemetery on Hickory street.

Christened Norwich Boat.

The Norwich colony at Fisher's Island, participated in a jovial occasion on Thursday, when the finely constructed power boat, built by H. M. Taft of this city, and christened "The Alice C." by his daughter, was successfully launched there amid the cheering of all who were fortunate enough to witness it.

Versailles vs. Boarscats.

After a week's layoff on account of the weather, Versailles tackles the Boarscats on Wednesday, July 26, and one of the hardest games of the season is expected. Willimantic has lost one game this season, while Versailles has yet to meet defeat.

The First State Convention of the Vermont progressive party was held at Burlington yesterday with 70 delegates present. A platform of principles was adopted and presidential electors and delegates to national progressive convention at Chicago were chosen.

Bagdad has opened bids for installing an electric lighting plant, and the army post is considering a telephone system for the whole city.

PERSONAL.

James Boland has returned from a visit in Hartford and Springfield.

Henry Christian is spending several days with friends at Gardner Lake.

Walter Peck and Raymond Wolf were recent visitors at Block Island.

John Carroll and John Bowman leave today for a visit with friends in New York.

Miss Irene Maynard of Springfield is the guest of her uncle, Michael Trembly, of Lafayette street.

Miss Ruth Crawford has returned from a two weeks' visit at Miss Blanche Hall at Fisher's Island.

George L. Yeomans of 21 Lafayette street, but as a caller, on Wednesday, Rev. Jason Thompson of Griswold.

Miss Belle Spaulding and Mrs. Bertha Wilbur spent Thursday in Wauregan as the guests of the Misses Tracy.

Miss Florence E. Tracy of Broad street left town Friday for a three weeks' stay with friends in Lewiston, Me.

Channing Huntington, Charles and Russell Hopkins have returned from a two weeks' stay at Best View on the Thames.

Mrs. Rose Schwartz, with her three daughters, Freda, Lillie and Sylvia, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Blinderman.

Mrs. Jennie Zippor and daughter Margaret of Elizabeth, N. J., are visiting at the home of Ruby Blinderman on Forest street.

Abraham Cohen of New York is visiting at his home on the West Side. He has been employed in the metropolis for four years now.

Miss Estella Davis and Master Myrtle Blinderman are the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Blinderman, of High street.

C. F. Roswell of Mansfield Center has been doing some detective work in Scotland this week. From there he goes to New York state.

Max Fefferman and Benjamin Fefferman are among the guests here from Bath Beach, Brooklyn, N. Y., to attend the Goldfarb-Gordon wedding.

EDSON F. GALLAUDET.

manageable. The monoplane, which was named the Bullet, was probably the fastest machine ever built and was expected to attain a speed of considerably over 110 miles an hour.

George W. Beatty, a well known aviator, who was on the field at the time, estimated the speed of the Bullet at 115 miles an hour.

Gallaudet Had Handled Slower Machines.

Mr. Gallaudet was a capable operator but his experience had not been with machines of nearly so high power. He made a number of flights in the Newport, owned by the Aero club at Hempstead, and all his flights were most successful. The Bullet was built for speed and was intended to compete for the Gordon Bennett cup at Chicago in September. A disadvantage of the machine was that the motor has no range of control—must either be running at top speed or shut off entirely. The motor is of the Gnome type and is rated at 100 h. p. The 14 cylinders of the machine revolve about a stationary shaft. The weight of the Bullet is 530 pounds.

Wing Spread of 32 Feet.

The fuselage or body of the machine is torpedo shaped, having a section four feet through at the point where the aviator sits and tapering sharply to a point in the front and more gradually in the rear. The nose of the machine is made of sheet aluminum having a series of holes stamped in it to permit of efficient cooling of the motor which it encloses. The main planes attach to the center of the fuselage just behind the motor, while at the rear of the fuselage are the vertical rudder. At the extreme rear is a three-bladed propeller. The general dimensions of the machine are as follows: Length over all, 26 feet 6 inches; spread, 32 feet; width of wings, 3 feet at body and tapering slightly towards the tips. The machine engine is a small triangular shaped motor designed and built by Gallaudet himself. The machine was built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life.

First Built Here.

The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger.

THE "BULLET" IN WHICH GALLAUDET FELL.

GALLAUDET'S BULLET WORLD BEATER

Was Making 115 Miles An Hour on Its First Flight—Dazzling Speed Was Too Much For the Intrepid Aviator—He is Recovering Well From His Injuries—Will Without Doubt, Continue Flying.

Local relatives of Edson F. Gallaudet, who was severely injured in a fall in his speed monoplane at Hempstead, N. Y., on Wednesday, received word Friday that the injured man was doing nicely and will probably be able to be about within a short time. His wounds, while of a very painful nature, were not dangerous.

Terrific Speed Made It Unmanageable. The accident occurred on the initial flight of the machine, which had been in the air probably not more than two minutes before it with its operator fell a distance of something over 100 feet. Experienced aviators who witnessed the accident ascribed the unfortunate occurrence to the unusual speed of the machine, which rendered it unmanageable. The monoplane, which was named the Bullet, was probably the fastest machine ever built and was expected to attain a speed of considerably over 110 miles an hour. George W. Beatty, a well known aviator, who was on the field at the time, estimated the speed of the Bullet at 115 miles an hour.

EDSON F. GALLAUDET.

Gallaudet Had Handled Slower Machines. Mr. Gallaudet was a capable operator but his experience had not been with machines of nearly so high power. He made a number of flights in the Newport, owned by the Aero club at Hempstead, and all his flights were most successful. The Bullet was built for speed and was intended to compete for the Gordon Bennett cup at Chicago in September. A disadvantage of the machine was that the motor has no range of control—must either be running at top speed or shut off entirely. The motor is of the Gnome type and is rated at 100 h. p. The 14 cylinders of the machine revolve about a stationary shaft. The weight of the Bullet is 530 pounds. Wing Spread of 32 Feet. The fuselage or body of the machine is torpedo shaped, having a section four feet through at the point where the aviator sits and tapering sharply to a point in the front and more gradually in the rear. The nose of the machine is made of sheet aluminum having a series of holes stamped in it to permit of efficient cooling of the motor which it encloses. The main planes attach to the center of the fuselage just behind the motor, while at the rear of the fuselage are the vertical rudder. At the extreme rear is a three-bladed propeller. The general dimensions of the machine are as follows: Length over all, 26 feet 6 inches; spread, 32 feet; width of wings, 3 feet at body and tapering slightly towards the tips. The machine engine is a small triangular shaped motor designed and built by Gallaudet himself. The machine was built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.

New Design Made Much Stronger. Following the show, the machine was entirely rebuilt, the wings being practically all that remained of the Norwich machine. In its new design the machine was very much stronger and to this added strength is probably due Mr. Gallaudet's life. First Built Here. The machine was first built in this city and in April was taken to New York. Following a slight accident, the machine was repaired and returned to the city and exhibited at the New York Aero show, where it attracted much attention and much favorable comment.