MARKED HIS GRAVE BEFORE GOING TO HOSPITAL. John W. L. Coit Climbed Over Wall and Drove Pole in the Spot.

The body of John W. L. Coit will be interred today in the City cemetery in the grave which Mr. Coit marked himself the day before he was taken to the Backus hospital, where his death occurred on Friday morning. Evidently fearing a fatal termination of his illness, Mr. Coit told friends around the Del-Hoff hotel that he was going to mark his grave in the family lot in the City cemetery. This he did on Monday, going up to the cemetery with a curtain pole which he drove into the ground in the place in the family plot where he intended his grave should be.

In his entangled condition Mr. Coit took the shortest way to the cemetery, coming up from Franklin street and climbing over the wall, where he was observed by neighbors as he entered and left the grounds.

The next day his condition was so much worse as to warrant taking him to the hospital, where he died on Friday.

RAMAGE FAMILY REUNION. Fourth Annual Gathering Held in Montville Sunday With Delightful Result.

TWO MISSING PEOPLE LOCATED

Llewellyn Nicolai Disappeared From Home at Poquetanuck Friday Night and Not Found Until Sunday Afternoon—Two and One-Half-Year-Old Kenneth Strickland Passed Night in Woods Safely.

After having threatened on several occasions to do away with himself, on account of family troubles, it is stated, Llewellyn Nicolai, 24 years old, disappeared Friday night, about 8:45 o'clock, and for 48 hours relatives were anxiously seeking for him in that vicinity. The affair reached a climax when the pond of B. Lucas & company at Poquetanuck was dynamited and the termination to the suspense came when Nicolai was discovered in a small room, with the door locked on the inside, it was said, at the open air theater at Lincoln park. Sisters of the young man located him, and rather unwillingly he went back home with them. He had had nothing to eat since Friday, it was said, and it is believed that he was making an attempt to starve himself to death.

Mr. Nicolai is the son of Theodore Nicolai of Poquetanuck and it is hinted that there have been dissensions in the family, and a number of times the young man has seemed despondent. When he left home Friday and did not return his people began to think that perhaps he had really made up his mind to carry out some of his previously uttered threats. He did not return on Saturday and there was no trace of him anywhere and the pond there at Poquetanuck was regarded as offering a favorable means for suicide. To see if they could discover his body there, his people decided to use dynamite, and they secured the services of Contractor of Fitchville, who set off three charges, two of six pounds and one of seven pounds, at different spots in the pond about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The explosion brought up about everything in the pond, but no body appeared, and the relatives of the missing man were assured that he had not drowned.

Nicolai has a position as fireman at the city, where he has a salary of $100 a month, and he is accompanied by his two sisters, with a companion, went up to Lincoln park looking for him, and there in a small room, formerly used by the directors at the open air theater they found him, apparently trying to starve himself to death. He did not want to go back with them, but finally he submitted.

Nicolai is a native of Fitchville, at the B. Lucas & company plant and has an excellent record. Friends believe it is possible that he may be somewhat demoralized.

CHILD FOUND AT MOHEGAN. New London Youngster Strayed Away from Home and Then Fell Asleep.

Standing up out in the sunshine to warm himself, Kenneth Strickland, the two and a half year old New London boy who disappeared in Mohegan Friday night at supper time and was searched for by frantic mother and relatives all day Saturday, was found absolutely unharmed Saturday morning about 6 o'clock. The boy was in the woods belonging to Olin Browning at Mohegan and the find was made by Mr. Browning, who was out early helping in the anxious search. The place was about half a mile away from the Fowler home from which the youngster had strayed.

The boy evidently wandered off just before supper time, and his footprints were followed for a considerable distance, showing where he had crawled through a pair of bars. Shortly after they disappeared, and all efforts to locate the missing child by securing the vicinity seemed to be in vain. Up to the early hours of Saturday morning a large party of friends were out looking everywhere and when they at last gave it up to wait for daylight the mother of the boy and other of the terror stricken relatives still pressed on. A fire was kept going as a possibility of the child being seen by some one else as he lay on the ground. The solution of the matter is probably that he had not had his usual afternoon nap, that he had wandered off, had become drowsy and went to sleep in real Indian fashion, the way the former inhabitants of Mohegan did more than once. He slept nearly all night apparently and had not been up long when Mr. Browning found him. Soon after the Mohegan church bell began to ring merrily and peace fell upon the Strickland family and there was rejoicing in the valley. The youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Strickland of 141 Park avenue, New London, and Mrs. Strickland came to Mohegan Friday the visit Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fowler.

MOTORMAN WILLIAM A. CARD BUYS PLAINFIELD HOMESTEAD. Ends Long Term on Norwich Trolley for Quiet Life of the Farm.

After a period of 13 years as motorman on the trolleys of the Connecticut company around Norwich, William A. Card of Fourteenth street, Greenville, is to give up active service on the cars owing to ill-health. Mr. Card has purchased the old Card homestead at Plainfield and has just moved up there from this city. Without relinquishing his position with the trolley company, yet, Mr. Card plans to devote considerable of his time to farming, but may run on the cars for part of the time this winter.

Mr. Card is one of the best known and most popular men in the city of the oldest motormen on the Norwich lines and he has run on all the routes and has a highly creditable record during his connection with the trolley company. For some time of late he has been suffering from nervous troubles, and his many friends are hoping that the country air and the quiet life of the farm may restore his former health.
