Bridgeport Detective Attributes Stratford Murder to Vengeance of Chicago "White Slavers"

DECLARES THAT POLICE HAVE THE EVIDENCE

Manner of Her Death Was Decided Last Sunday Night, He Says, at Conference of Five Men—It was Also Planned to Kill Chauffeur, But This part of Programme Was Not Carried Out—Coroner Delays Burial of Woman Victim.

Bridgeport, Oct. 25.—Definite evidence has been secured by the police, Detective Capt. George H. Arnold said today, that the shooting in the death of Jennie Cavatieri, a young Italian woman at Stratford, after she had been taken from her home in an automobile by five men of her nationality in an act of vengeance executed upon her for having betrayed secrets of the "white slave traffic" in this city, was the manner of the woman's death as determined upon at a conference held in the Italian quarter of the city Sunday night.

Came to Bridgeport to Kill Woman. At the conference, the detective says, there was a heated discussion as to whether the woman should be slain with the "gun" and the "knife" or should be put to death. The latter was determined upon. The five men, Captain Arnold says, came to Bridgeport under direction from ruling spirits in the white slave traffic for the express purpose of making away with the woman, and that they were personally known to each other.

Connection with Chicago's Vice Crusade. The evidence secured, the detective says, clearly indicates that the woman had betrayed the organization code which provides that disclosure of death shall follow such action by any person who works in union with any woman who leaves the man under whose protection or with whom she has been living. He writes that the evidence tends to show a direct connection between the shooting and the "vice crusade" in Chicago and that the death was ordered by the "national organization."

Her Real Identity Not Disclosed. Captain Arnold further says that while the slain woman has been given various names since the crime was committed, her real identity has not yet been disclosed, and there are indications that she was connected more or less prominently with the "white slave traffic" in New York, New Haven, Conn., and Chicago.

Coroner Confers About Case. The name of Samuel Sabo was brought into the case today, but in what connection the police would not say, beyond saying that the name had been given to the federal authorities.

Coroner Delays Woman's Burial. Coroner Phelan this afternoon ordered a halt on the funeral arrangements, and the woman will not be buried tomorrow, which had been planned. The coroner has given no reason for his action. He developed that the Stratford undertaker removed the body from his undertaking rooms to this city without the usual permit and that a so-called speculation as to whether the authorities will take notice of the fact.

Two Men Still Missing. The detectives are still investigating in regard to the alleged white slave traffic, and the case is being developed. Nothing has been heard from the two men who were in the automobile at the time of the shooting, and who disappeared.

HOCKIN TURNS ON FELLOW DEFENDANTS. Gives Information Against Accused Dynamite Conspirators.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—Herbert S. Hockin, a defendant in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial, who succeeded John J. McNamara, the dynamiter, as secretary of the Workers' union, was identified by four witnesses today as having given information to the government against his 44 fellow defendants.

Walter Drew, New York counsel for the National Erectors' association, testified that Hockin had written him: "I know they've got me, but I don't want to be the only one."

"Another time he came to my room at a club and in the presence of J. F. Foster, a detective, arranged to let us have the key to the Workers' office so we might put a telephone in the office by which we would be able to get all the news of the trial," Hockin said.

"But when I replied: 'You haven't any brains, but only a few cunning, and we've got the goods on you,' he weakened."

DIAZ IS SENTENCED TO DEATH BY COURT-MARTIAL. Report Printed in Mexican Newspapers is Not Credited.

Mexico City, Oct. 25.—Extra editions of the newspapers here tonight gave the report that General Pablo Diaz, the leader of the recent revolt at Vera Cruz, had been sentenced to death by court-martial in Washington.

The report was received with doubt by a large part of the public, who were reluctant to believe that the commander of the federal forces at Vera Cruz had been sentenced to death by the federal judge of the first district court here, removing Diaz from the jurisdiction of the military court. Nevertheless the friends of Diaz tonight were unflinching in their efforts to secure a suspension of the sentence of death, if it has been imposed.

POSED AS DESTITUTE. LEFT $800 IN BILLS. Meriden Man Found Dead in His Boarding House.

Meriden, Oct. 25.—Fred Kowalski, aged 32, formerly of Hartford, but for the past two years a resident of this city, was found dead in a local boarding house this afternoon. Nearly $800 in bills of various denominations and several articles of jewelry were found upon his person.

During his two years residence here he posed as a poor man and he owned large debts to two boarding house mistresses some years ago his wife and four children left him because he failed to provide for them. About a week ago he was taken ill with pneumonia and he died in the hospital. Finally a physician was summoned and advised his removal to a hospital. The wife refused, and when the physician left he arose and went out and secured another boarding place. This afternoon one of the boarders heard heavy fall and rushing up stairs discovered Kowalski's body.

THOUGHT HE HAD FOUND MISSING GIRL. Rochester Man Then Telephoned to Dorothy Arnold's Mother.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Faf a few minutes tonight a Rochester man thought he had found Dorothy Arnold, who disappeared two years ago. A woman, who was a waitress in a boarding house, led him to visit newspaper office in search of photographs of the missing New York heiress.

He thought he detected a resemblance between the boarder and a photograph of Miss Arnold, so he called up the East 73rd street home of the Arnold family in New York City. "Your daughter will be at my home at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning," he told Mrs. Arnold.

When he described the girl, the color of eyes was wrong and the identification failed in other particulars. Mrs. Arnold said she would pay the telephone tolls of $12.20.

MANY THREATS AGAINST ROOSEVELT

Cranks of Country, Stirred Up by the Shooting, Are Sending Letters to the Colonel at Oyster Bay

ANOTHER STRANGE MAN DEMANDS ADMITTANCE

Visitor Attired as Westerner Persisted in Efforts to See Colonel

Until Ordered Away—Man Who Sought Him at Hospital Had Threatened His Life on Previous Occasions—Decision Reached to Provide Guard Until End of Campaign.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 25.—On account of numbers of threatening letters received by Colonel Roosevelt and the presence in Oyster Bay of a stranger who attempted today to make his way into the colonel's home, steps were taken tonight to guard the life of the ex-president. A tentative decision was reached to engage one or two men to protect the colonel in the remainder of the campaign and for a time thereafter, if the colonel had not recovered sufficiently by election day to be able to defend himself. Colonel Roosevelt's condition continued to improve today and his physicians said that he would be able to speak at the Madison Square Garden meeting in New York on Wednesday night if no unforeseen complications arise. But they said that he would be unable to do any further campaigning.

Appeared to Be Westerner. The man who attempted to see Colonel Roosevelt arrived in Oyster Bay this afternoon and set out on foot for Sagamore Hill. He was met at the door by the colonel's secretary and insisted that he must see the ex-president, although told that no visitors were being received. He was a tall, well dressed man, wearing a hat, a mustache and a sash, which gave him the appearance of a westerner. He would give no reason for asking to see the colonel, but he persisted in his demands until he was cut off sharply and told to leave Sagamore Hill.

Wrote a Rambling Letter. He then asked to see Mrs. Roosevelt. The colonel's secretary finally persuaded him that it was useless and he went away.

There was nothing about the man's manner to suggest that he would attempt violence and he was described by those who saw him as being apparently harmless.

The stranger returned to the village and wrote a long rambling letter in which he threatened to assassinate the colonel, but he persisted in his demands until he was cut off sharply and told to leave Sagamore Hill.

Many Threatening Letters. The attempt on Colonel Roosevelt's life was said by Dr. George W. Fuller of Oyster Bay, one of the colonel's physicians, to be responsible for the letters which Colonel Roosevelt has received since his return to Oyster Bay. Dr. Fuller said that he has been made against Colonel Roosevelt, and it was decided that the danger of another attempt to assassinate was sufficient to make it necessary to guard him.

The colonel's physicians wish to get him out of the hospital as soon as possible, believing that he will be benefited greatly by doing so, but they are unwilling to risk the chance of another attack. It is believed that Colonel Roosevelt will be kept in the hospital until adequate protection has been provided.

ROOSEVELT'S NURSES WANTED FOR WIVES. Two Young Women Receive Many Proposals of Marriage.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Miss Margaret "Bigger" and Miss Helen Walters, the nurses who attended Colonel Roosevelt while he was a patient in a hospital here, have been granted a vacation.

The young women complained of being tired. Their weariness, they said, was due to the fact that they had been in the care of the colonel, but to the large number of letters they have received, many of them from men who have made proposals of marriage.

"You are the girl for me," wrote one man to Miss Fitzgerald. "I've loved you since I saw you in the hospital. I fell in love with your picture. Marry me and save breaking my heart."

"Your care and devotion to a hero," wrote another to Miss Walter, "have completely broken my heart. A beautiful, capable woman like you is rare. I fell in love with you when I saw you in the hospital. Marry me and save breaking my heart."

Still another wrote Miss Walter that she had not seen her picture since he had seen her picture in the hospital.
