ANNOUNCEMENTS

BREED THEATRE.
The Mayor from Ireland, Remarkable Story Made on Two Continents.

One of the most picturesque features on today's big bill at the Breed is the famous story by the Kalem company photoplay in two words and entitled, "The Mayor from Ireland." Appearing in it are Jack Clark and Gene Gantner, who have played the leads in the Irish-American films put out by the Kalem company, and this time they are seen at their humble little home in Ireland, when Bridget, his only daughter, is married to one of her discarded lovers. This prompts her to induce her husband to try to make a new home for her in the big city of New York. Once here, they find it difficult to obtain work, and as a last resource, her husband makes application to his wife's old lover, for a position. He only laughs at her and turns him down, but a chance kindness to an old gentleman who was passing, resulted in Terry's securing employment. Diligent application to his duties makes Terry a good worker, and in a few years he is seen in a prosperous condition, and another election finds him on the verge of nomination for mayor. In opposition to Bridget's old flame, Terry wins, and the balance of the picture shows how difficult it is for the ex-mayor to get on his feet and to enjoy and prosper under. This picture will remain for Friday and Saturday only. Another big favorite, G. Anderson, is seen in a picture entitled Broncho Billy's Mexican Wife.

MEYERS OBJECTED TO MISREPRESENTATION

Rebuked His Associates for Printing Misleading Advertisements.
New York, Dec. 26.—Letters alleged to have passed between A. L. Wisner and John J. Meyers, who are on trial in the federal court charged with fraudulent use of the mails in the sale of mining stocks, were read in court today to show that Meyers' objection to the advertising methods employed by Wisner. The letters concerned the promotion and sale of the stock of the Black Oak gold mine.
"You say (in the advertisements) that it is absolutely certain that the Black Ore mine contains seven million tons of ore," says the letter, "and you should know that the figure is way out of proportion. Had you said one million tons it would have been about correct."
In the same letter Meyers wrote: "I must tell you again that you must not misrepresent anything that we are connected with in any advertisement I go into will always have enough merit to stand on its four feet."

Washington, Dec. 25.—The charge that a "real estate ring" exists in Washington, made in a letter written by former Postmaster General Robert J. MONEY NEEDED FOR INAUGURAL PARADE.

War Department Has Not Enough to Transport Troops.

Washington, Dec. 25.—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, who has just been named as chief marshal for the approaching inaugural parade, has begun to outline his plans for a military, naval and civic demonstration.

General Wood's purpose is to make the Wilson inaugural parade as well balanced as possible in the matter of the representation of the cavalry, infantry and artillery of the army, the bluejackets and marines of the navy and adequate and liberal representation of the national guard and a well proportioned display.

One of the features of the plan is to gather in Washington several thousand troops from the various army posts and to have as far west as Chicago, and south to Atlanta, as well as the entire cadet corps and midshipmen battalion from their respective academies, to participate in the parade in considerable expense on account of transportation and as that particular appropriation has been cut, the reduction of the parade, extensive changes of station of officers and troops, it may be necessary to apply to congress immediately upon its reconvening next week for a deficiency appropriation.
