ANNOUNCEMENTS

BREED THEATER.

Balkan War Scenes, Photographed Right Upon the Battle Field.

Always right in line with up to date topics, the Breed is offering its patrons today a most exceptional, strong and attractive motion picture on the film entitled "Balkan War Scenes." These are authentic war pictures taken upon the field of battle, showing the allied armies of the Balkan states in active warfare against the Turkish forces. They vividly depict the desperate struggle of a people long suffering under the atrocities at the hands of their Turkish masters, and eager to die in attempting to drive the Mohammedans from their country. In addition to many other stirring episodes of the great conflict is shown the arrival of King Nicholas of Montenegro with his army at the front, the bombardment of Scutari and scenes of the battle of Vranje.
The Pathe Weekly No. 52, is as usual a marvelous collection of the most important events that have occurred in two worlds. Among these events pictured are many of the Balkan war, one showing five thousand Albanians, prisoners of war, passing through Vauo, Turkey, under military escort, and bound for one of the fortresses on the Serbian frontier. At Constantinople is seen the international fleet of warships, representing the United States and many of the European powers lying at anchor in the port, ready to protect the foreigners in the city in the event of a Moslem uprising. An interesting feature is the gramme today, Mr. John Bunney, and he will be welcomed in one of his most laughable comedy creations, Dr. Bridget. His experiences as a nurse and doctor are too funny to be told, and must be seen to be appreciated.

NEIL O'BRIEN.

Neil O'Brien, recognized by a large proportion of theater-goers as America's representative comedian, will head his own organization this evening under the direction of Oscar F. Hodge. This combination of manager and star is a very happy alliance and would indicate an organization of unusual class and merit. For the past several years Mr. O'Brien has been the bright particular star with Lew Dockstader's minstrel, to which organization he has recently transferred. For several years Mr. O'Brien has refused flattering offers from managers to head his own organization, but now, after much pressure, he has placed himself under the management of Mr. Hodge, well known throughout the country as an alert, able and energetic young minstrel manager.
His company will number fifty people, and includes Eddie Mazier, Billy Clark, William H. Thompson, William H. Hallett, Peter Detzel, Major Nowak, Al Fontaine, George MacShane, George Hagen, Walter Lindsey, John Burke, John Dailey and a large ensemble of specially selected singers and dancers. There will be a big "olio" feature, all of a novel and original nature, an orchestra of eighteen and a band of thirty musicians.
At the Davis theater Friday evening.

AT THE DAVIS.

Because of the closing of the circus season many acrobats are on the market, and the management of the Davis has snapped up all the good ones. This has made it hard for this sort of act to prosper. Good here now, and yet Curtain and Wilson do such wonderful work that they compel applause time after time during the few minutes they are on the stage. Sophie Everett & Co. in "The Tamer" make good, and the Kid McCoy picture is a hit. There are 7,000 feet of pictures on the bill for the current three days, which makes a show somewhat longer than usual, but the management of this house believes in getting things when they are to be had and are not too old, they believed in getting this feature, which means the Adams of the prize ring in The Great Jewel Robbery.
Let there be no misunderstanding, the Davis policy is to give the best possible for the money, and either give a Davis show or take lessons from some one who knows how to get and put on the best market affords.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

The best show ever seen at this house is what many of the patrons who saw the show Monday and Tuesday said, as they were passing out of the lobby. It may be the best and it may not be, but at any rate it is a cooking hit and in working order, one can find something they like and are sure to be glad they came. Fred and Annie Pelet have a very neat juggling act interspersed with bright comedy lines which make the act all the more interesting. Coffman and Carroll, a very funny mixed team, introduce lots of original jokes and songs, for which they get much well deserved applause. The comedy sketch entitled "Holding Out," is a very amusing playlet depicting two performers in hard circumstances keeping house in a fourteenth street rooming house in New York city.
All the pictures are the best the market affords.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Vaughn of Sterling Celebrate Anniversary.

Friday evening, Jan. 10, about 55 friends gathered at the Vaughn home in Sterling to help Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Vaughn celebrate the 25th anniversary of their marriage. There were friends from North Attleboro, Mass., Pawtucket, R. I., Danbury, Brooklyn, Plainfield, Moosau and Oneonta, Conn. Mrs. Vaughn's relatives of Boston were unable to attend. The affair was planned by Everett O. Wood of Danbury and Miss Mary Douglas of Sterling. Miss Abigail Witter of

SCALP COVERED WITH WHITE SCALES

Itching Terribly. Hair Came Out. Terrible Lot of Dandruff. Scales Would Fall on Coat. Scratched Until Made Big Sores. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Him.

5 Brewer St., Newport, R. I.—"My husband had eczema for six months at this time taking medicine and using salve not doing him any good. The trouble grew worse. It started with red shining spots all over the scalp, covered with a thickness of white scales itching terribly. His hair came out, and he had a terrible lot of dandruff. The white scales could be seen in his hair as they pealed off, and would fall down on his coat. He would never stop scratching until he made big sores all over his head.
"I washed the scalp in warm water and soap, but this only made it worse, the red spots growing larger until they covered the whole scalp, coming down the forehead. I got one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment. I washed his head in hot water as he could stand, using plenty of Cuticura Soap. This would take all the dry scales away leaving red spots. After rubbing the hair dry I applied the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp and this would stop the itching at once. After two weeks' treatment he was completely cured."
(Signed) Mrs. O. L. Eklund, Dec. 7, 1911.
Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."
Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

Brooklyn gave several interesting readings during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn received many handsome and useful gifts of silver, cut glass, china and linen. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening.

POETRY

ROSEMARY.
Rosemary! could we give you
"Remembrance" with your name
Ever long you'd tell me something
Of heaven, whence you came—
Of those enchanted meadows
Where, through the ceaseless day,
The children, laughing, play,
Wander and sing, and play—
And whether you wandered caroling
Until the sweet hours were Closed down your eyes—then opened them
To light this earthly land—
This land where to they've sent you
Its love, and learn through womanhood
How rich, how deep, is life.
—Edmund Clarence Steadman (By Goddard).

HOW MANY TIMES.

How many times do I love thee, dear?
Tell me how many thoughts there be
Whose white and sable hours appear
The latest flake of eternity,
How many things do I love thee, again?
Tell me how many beads there are
Of the evening rain,
Untraveled from the tumbling main,
And making the eye of a yellow
star;
So how many times do I love, again,
—Thomas Lovell Beddoes.

MORNING.

Not least 'tis ever my delight
To drink the early morning light;
To taste the dew that strikes my nose,
And taste it while the day is young.
So let my soul be the breath
Of morning when the sun is bright.
—Philip Henry Savage.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Flub.—The man who loves a woman
can't help but have a flub. "Flub"—
And the man who loves more than one is apt to be sent up, too.—Judge.

Magistrate.—Why did you hurl a hot fallout at your husband? Mrs. Hitt—
"My motto always has struck you,
the iron is hot."—Chicago Daily News.

Daughter.—Shall I take an umbrella to post this letter, mother? Mother—
"No, stay in the house; it
