WILL ROY BARRED FROM ADRIANOPLE MONDAY

Allies Renounce the Armistice and Plan to Resume Hostilities Early Next Week

STILL SEEMS POSSIBILITY OF A COMPROMISE

Turks Make Concessions Which Closely Approximate Demands of Bulgaria—Ask to Retain Only That Part of Adrianople Where Holy Shrines Are Situated—Also Will Leave Disposition of the Aegean Islands to Powers.

London, Jan. 30.—The curtain may rise on the second act of the Balkan drama today. The allies renounced the armistice at 7 o'clock, and if events take the prescribed course the bombardment of Adrianople will begin tomorrow at 7 o'clock. In fact, the bombardment was scheduled for 7 o'clock Monday evening.

At even at this eleventh hour war is in no wise assured. Only a few hours before the allies renounced the armistice the Ottoman government presented its reply to the joint note of the powers on Jan. 17.

Young Turks Change Front

Never has a diplomatic problem taken such swift and surprising changes these negotiations for peace. The Young Turks who seized the government with shouts of defiance have undergone a marvelous transformation. Instead of drawing the battle line at the question of surrendering Adrianople, they offer a compromise which comes so near meeting the Bulgarian demands that a settlement should not be impossible, and they leave the Aegean Islands to the disposition of the powers.

Compromise Seems Possible

The difference between what Constantinople is ready to give and what Bulgaria is ready to accept has been reduced to such small proportions that even some of the Balkan delegates believe a compromise may yet be found. Constantinople is ready to accept the retention of that section of Adrianople where the holy shrines are situated. Bulgaria always meant to leave the shrines to Turkey, and even to confer the right of extra-territoriality, thus giving them something of the status of the Vatican in Rome. The vital differences between the two nations amount merely to Turkey's demanding the shrines and the sections surrounding them.

Aegean Islands Problem Solved

The Thracian frontier line, therefore, with the exception of the town of Adrianople has been practically agreed to, as Turkey is ready to leave the Aegean Islands to the disposition of the powers.

All his powers have urged the allies to do their utmost to prevent the resumption of hostilities because severe complications that might otherwise arise.

LAME, HALT AND BLIND VOTED AT LONDONDERRY

Unprecedented Contest for a Seat in Parliament.

Londonderry, Ireland, Jan. 30.—Owing to the fact that a nationalist victory would give the Irish party a majority of the seats in the House of Commons to represent the city of Londonderry was contested in a most determined manner. The contest was made vacant by the retirement of the Marquis of Hamilton, a unionist, to take the place of the late Sir James Pakenham, in the house of lords.

In spite of the drizzling rain, a record poll of 98 per cent of the electorate numbering slightly over 5,000 was obtained. No official announcement of the result is known until tomorrow, but the nationalists claim victory for their candidate, David C. Hoag, by a majority of 31 over the unionist candidate, Col. H. C. Pakenham.

Scenes almost unparalleled in Irish history were enacted at the polling booths. Voters had been brought from the American continent and other distant places. The sick, the dying, the blind and the lame were taken to the polls. Attempts were made to impersonate the dead. Others were so ill that they were unable to move a hand. One unionist voter dropped dead in his own house while a motor car with a doctor was waiting at the door to convey him to the polling booth. A paralytic was able to utter only half of Pakenham's name and his vote was allowed. Still another recorded his vote under the guise of an invalid. He proved to be a man wanted by the police to undergo a term of imprisonment.

TWO SUFFRAGISTS SEEK ARREST IN NEW YORK

Highly Indignant Because the Police Did Not Take Them.

New York, Jan. 30.—Two well-dressed women suffragists who refused to give their names to the police in connection with the prisoners when the police today arrested seven young women, among them Miss Lenora O'Reilly, a well-known suffragist, outside a white goods factory during a disturbance in connection with the garment workers' strike. The seven arrested were charged by the police with applying epithets to workers leaving the factory. The two women whom the police refused to arrest were outspokenly indignant when not taken to the police station with the others.

At another factory Miss Elizabeth Freeman, who had "Votes for Women" embroidered on her coat, was arrested on a similar charge, as were ten young women pickets at a third factory and seven from a fourth.

A Joint Resolution to Make the Star Spangled Banner the Official Anthem of the United States was introduced yesterday by Representative Levy of New York

Cabled Paragraphs

Declared for Woman Suffrage. London, Jan. 30.—The British labor party today officially declared itself in favor of woman suffrage.

Unprecedented Vote at Berlin. Berlin, Jan. 30.—The German imperial parliament today passed for the first time in its history a vote of confidence in the government.

Famous Jurist Dead. The Hague, Netherlands, Jan. 30.—Lieutenant General Jonkheer Jacobus, C. C. den Boer Fourtugaal, the famous international author and jurist, died here today at the age of 81.

Anti-Oil Trust Bill Mutilated. Berlin, Jan. 30.—The committee of the imperial parliament today killed the first paragraph of the government's petroleum monopoly bill and thus mutilated the measure beyond redemption unless a substitute paragraph be adopted later.

Heroism of Steamer's Engineers. Plymouth, England, Jan. 30.—Tales of heroism on the part of the vessel's engineers were told by the crew of the Italian tank steamer Margherita, which arrived here yesterday from Philadelphia. During her voyage the captain in a desperate effort to save the ship, had been obliged to sacrifice 1,000 tons of oil out of the 3,000 tons carried.

Irish Women Want the Vote. Dublin, Jan. 30.—"I wanted to give the women the vote," said a member of the house of commons that Irish women do not want the vote. This was the explanation made today by Mrs. Mabel Purser, a suffragette, to the magistrate who sentenced her to one month's imprisonment at hard labor for breaking six panes of glass in the customs house.

NEGRO OF 42 MARRIES A WHITE GIRL OF 15. Incident Furnishes Text of Speech by a Georgia Congressman.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Representative Roddenbery of Georgia, on the floor of the house today, made another hot attack upon intermarriage of negro and white. He cited the case of a marriage of George E. Thompson of Chicago, a 42 year old negro, and Helen E. Hanson, a 15 year old white girl at Niles, Mich., several weeks ago.

Mr. Roddenbery declared that the marriage ceremony performed by Charles Agers, minister of the gospel—a white minister at that—ought to be tarred and feathered and put into exile.

The southern congressman waved about his head a copy of the marriage certificate of the couple and read from newspaper reports of the marriage, which recounted revolting details.

"My God!" shouted Mr. Roddenbery, "that the laws of any civilized state will permit a white brute to have sanctioned by law his wedlock to such a child!"

Thompson is being held in the county jail, pending the outcome of the building by explosion.

"As abhorrent as mob law is, men who are human can be tempted beyond endurance to appear before a jury and state to prevent these dangers and outrages."

HAD NEVER HEARD OF DARROW OR McNAMARA

Ventrieman Kept Informed on Murders and Auto Accidents.

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 30.—The jury which is to hear the evidence in the second trial of C. S. Darrow, the Chicago labor lawyer, for alleged jury bribery in the McNamara case, was completed today.

The defense used a peremptory challenge to remove Dresbach from the jury box.

CAPTAIN ON TRIAL FOR CRUELTY TO TURTLE

Question Raised as to Whether It is an Animal or a Reptile.

New York, Jan. 30.—Whether a turtle is an animal or a reptile figures in the trial of Capt. Cleveland H. Down, begun today in court of general sessions, where the master of the steamship Sargol, plying between the north and southern ports, is accused of cruelty to animals by piercing turtles' flippers with wires during northward trips of his vessel.

Dr. Reed Blair of the New York Zoological society testified that a turtle is an animal, a living being, and is sensitive and is subject to painful influence. The trial will be resumed tomorrow.

DRANK POISON AT HER SON'S FUNERAL

Funeral Postponed and Double Funeral Will Be Held Today.

New York, Jan. 30.—As funeral services for her son, Herbert Johnson, Jr., were about to begin in the Brooklyn home today, Mrs. Mary Johnson drank poison. She died an hour later in a hospital.

The youth's funeral was not held and tomorrow there will be a double service for mother and son. Friends were assembled for the funeral today and the clergyman was taking his place to begin the services when Mrs. Johnson left her seat and tottered from the room. Melancholia, because of the boy's death is believed to have prompted her act.

Student's Fraternities Must Go. Denver, Colo., Jan. 30.—"The end in fraternities in high schools is inevitable," according to John C. Grover of Kansas City, president of the Phi Lambda Epsilon high school fraternity, who arrived in Denver today for the announced purpose of annulling the charters held by local chapters in four Denver high schools.

Negro Hanged to Pole. Drew, Miss., Jan. 30.—An unidentified negro, accused of complicity in the killing of a white man at the town of Goldfield last month, was taken from a passenger train near here today by a mob and hanged to a telegraph pole. The deputy sheriff who had the negro in charge was overpowered.

Length of Term for President

A RAPID FIRE DISCUSSION IN THE SENATE.

RECALL IS VOTED DOWN

Bristow Believed People Should Have Right to Change President When They Change Congress.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Presidential terms ranging all the way from two to six years; prohibition against second terms and third terms; exemptions that would affect Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, and proposals for the recall and the direct popular election of presidents, were thrust into the senate today in rapid succession during the first day's consideration of the constitutional amendment limiting a president to a single term of six years.

Over Dozen Amendments Pending. In a session filled with lively debate Senator Bristow's proposal that a president could be recalled at any regular election was voted down, 68 to 19, and Senator Hoke Smith's amendment to make the single term four years instead of six was defeated 42 to 25. Over a dozen amendments are pending when the senate recessed to-night and they will be taken up tomorrow.

Amendment Bars Roosevelt. Senators Dixie and Pinckney, progressives, Bristow, progressive-republican, and Lodge, republican, led the fight against a restriction of the presidential term. Senator Williams, democrat, proposed a four year term, with the privilege of re-election only, but his amendment was so drawn as to prevent Colonel Roosevelt from seeking another election.

Ten Votes for Recall. The defeat of the Bristow amendment and the recall amendment followed a short debate, in which Senator Bristow urged that to make the federal administration properly responsible to the people, the president should have the right to change the president when they change congress.
