The Boy and the Newspaper

By JOHN P. FALLON.

One morning a boy came to his father as he was reading THE BULLETIN, and told him that he was going to quit learning geography, as there was nothing interesting in it.

So the father said, "You're going into business after you leave school?"

"Sure," replied the boy eagerly, taking for granted that there was no more geography for him.

"Well, here's what a business man writes to-day," and he turned to an advertisement about Oriental rugs, in which the life of the Orient was vividly portrayed.

"What do you think of that?" he queried.

"Bully," answered the boy.

"Now, that's geography."

The boy looked dismayed.

"There's more to geography," continued the father, "than you find out why we send to Italy for silks, to Germany for teys, and why other nations come to buy from us."

Read the advertisements in THE BULLETIN closely and constantly every day for the most important news. They will tell you where to buy to your advantage. Encourage your boys and girls to follow them carefully and gain a knowledge of the romance of business.

Music Teacher Confesses Robbery

Benjamin A. Morgan Arrested in Putnam, After Thefts at Home of E. H. Berry Here—Took Money and Goods—Valued at $70—Tells Where He Has Sent the Goods—Part of the Money on Him.

Late Saturday afternoon Policeman Charles Smith went to Putnam and returned from there with Benjamin A. Morgan, a 35-year-old Brooklyn, Mass., as his home, and is wanted here for the theft of about $70 worth of money from a check for $5 cashed there by E. H. Berry, No. 12 Oak street, last Friday. Morgan was arrested by the Putnam police Saturday, after he had had a check for $5 cashed there by E. H. Berry, No. 12 Oak street, last Friday. Morgan was arrested by the Putnam police Saturday, after he had had a check for $5 cashed there by E. H. Berry, No. 12 Oak street, last Friday.

According to Captain Linton, he has confessed to taking money and various articles from the Berry house. The sum of $23, which was found on the man when he was arrested at Putnam headquarters, is part of the $21.50, which he got from the home of Mr. Berry, the prisoner admitted.

Morgan, whose name is Merrill when he applied at Mr. Berry's last Wednesday for a place to board and take his meals. He had a music roll and a book of hymns, but not much other than his own. He had a music teacher with twenty pupils in Williamsville and eight here. His appearance inspired confidence, and he was a member of the choir at the West Friday Mr. and Mrs. Berry sent the day out of town, telling their boarder that they were to be away for the night. Morgan, on their way to Putnam, or Ernest Nelson, which was another name he gave, was not there. Seeing a pair of shoes in the room, the pointer broken off, Mrs. Berry started to look around, and soon found that

ARRANGING FOR HORSESHOER'S CONVENTION.

Will Meet in New London in Latter Part of April.

M. E. Ring, president of the Connecticut branch of the National Association of Horseshoers, and State organizer William J. Shannon of Hartford, are in New London, making arrangements for the annual convention of the state association, which will be held at the Hotel New London, April 22. The state officers were accompanied by William Blackburn, secretary of the Norwich local. The convention will be held on Tuesday, the 23rd, at 10 o'clock. The guest of New London local, 426. There will be a morning session and at noon a banquet will be served, followed by a social hour. The banquet will be served at 7 o'clock. FOUND INNOCENT OF SERIOUS CRIME CHARGE

Samuel Slosberg Discharged After Trial in City Court.

Samuel Slosberg, a young man residing on the West Side, was acquitted and discharged in the city court on Monday afternoon. The charge in the case in which he was accused of a serious offense against a young woman of about his own age. The charge was made by Judge Brown said in part:

"It is evident that this girl is to become a mother and this man, Mike Lebeck, is the father of the child. It is true such a thing may happen, but on the other hand, one can be accused of a serious crime against a young woman, and I firmly believe that this young man, Samuel Slosberg, had nothing to do with it. Judging from the evidence given by various citizens as to his character and his family surroundings, I think that it is almost impossible for him to have committed himself to the said charge. I therefore not only discharge him, but take great pleasure in doing so."

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Given to Miss R. V. Peabody at Norwich State Hospital.

Miss Ruth Virginia Peabody, dietitian at the Norwich state hospital, was tendered an elaborate reception Sunday evening on the eve of her departure from the hospital, as she is to be married to Dr. H. E. Hoffman a former partner there but now assistant superintendent of the Allegheny hospital in Pennsylvania. It is with much regret that her friends bid her farewell.

The inviting menu consisted of several courses as follows:

- Oyster Cocktail. Consomme a la Terrapin. Baked Cereals. Young Spring Turkey, Touraine Style. Fried Sweet Potatoes. French Peas. Creamed Asparagus. Lead Cucumbers. Neufchatel Salad. Roquefort Cheese a la Wilson. Neapolitan Ice Cream. Daisies. Peppermints. Coffee.

During the course of the dinner music was furnished by the hospital orchestra. After the repast, the program of entertainment consisted of a toast proposed by Toastmaster John C. Daggett, Why Girls Leave Home. Remarks were made by the guests. Words of advice and encouragement were offered by Mrs. A. W. Porter and the regrets at Miss Peabody's departure were expressed for the part by Miss Nancy Mc Masters and Miss Alice De Haven.

The party then adjourned to the dining room, where the entertainment was given by vocal and instrumental music by Dr. Bringham.

Caught Runaway Horse. David Pughin made a risky and clever stop of a runaway horse Sunday afternoon in West Main street near the corner of High. The horse, which was driven by a man, started from West Main street just above the fire station, went westward to Mechanic street, through Mechanic street, and then turned down High to West Main again, where Mr. Pughin caught him.

He got hold of a shaft and then of the horse and led it to the stable. The horse had been left standing in the street to feed without a bit.

About the time Mr. Pughin grabbed the horse and led it to the stable, the damage done to the wagon was slight.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN NORWICH BUSINESS LIFE.

Willis Austin Resigns as Cashier at Uncas National Bank—A. H. Brewer to Retire from Edward Chappell Co. His Three Sons-in-Law to Conduct the Business.

Coincident with the resignation of Willis Austin as cashier of the Uncas National bank, made public following a special meeting of the directors Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, a new era of appreciation of Mr. Austin's services during the past four years was passed, came the announcement of the retirement of Arthur H. Brewer from the Edward Chappell company, of which he is president and treasurer. Mr. Brewer's interest in the company is to be taken over by his three sons-in-law, Willis Austin, William A. Norton and Lucius Briggs. Mr. Austin succeeded Mr. Brewer as president and cashier of the Uncas bank and has since filled the position in a capable manner. To succeed Mr. Brewer as president of the company are: Arthur H. Brewer, president; Reuben B. S. Washburn; secretary and assistant treasurer, W. Charles D. Greenman; and as cashier, Alfred C. Hatch. New officers will be elected following the change in the company.

Mr. Brewer entered the employ of Edward Chappell in 1863, 31 years after the establishment of the business by the latter. Mr. Chappell took Mr. Brewer into the organization with him. Mr. Brewer, Enoch F. Chapman and George W. Whittlesley of Taftville, the latter being the president of the company in 1891. Mr. Brewer and Mr. Chapman conducted the business until 1898, when the latter died. The corporation company was then organized with Mr. Brewer, William A. Norton, R. B. S. Washburn, Sanford A. Chapman, John F. Tracy and Alfred C. Hatch.

Enoch Chapman was for two or three years in the position here and then he was succeeded by Mr. Chapman in 1888. Through these two business connections Mr. Chapman possessed the unique distinction of having a personal acquaintance with every individual in Norwich for the space of 10 to 15 years. Mr. Brewer recollects that Mr. Chapman often told stories of how in 1849 the people of the city went up to Greenville in crowds to see "the Irishman," the only one in town.

Mr. Chappell failed in 1848 for over $100,000, settling with his creditors for 30 cents on the dollar. He re-enters in 1849, but in 1850 his fortunes having recuperated, he sought out all his creditors and paid them in full, with interest at 6 per cent, a total of over $120,000.

When Mr. Brewer entered the concern the business was carried on by the leading spirits of the business, and furnished to such an extent that now 20 or more are employed. Coal and lumber have always been handled by the concern, which is one of the largest and oldest in the state. Mr. Brewer has been a leading figure in the business life of the city for many years, and has met with unusual success in his undertakings. He was for some years president of the Hopkinton & Allen Arms company and vice president of the Panmah Mills company. He is an active member of the Arcanum club and was one of the organizers of the Masonic organization. He is a member of numerous other societies, including the Norwich club, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Masons of the state and is president of the Masonic Temple corporation and the originator of the idea of building the Masonic temple here.

Though Mr. Brewer's business interests will be somewhat diminished by the change in the Chappell company, he will by no means retire from active life. He is first vice president of the Norwich Savings society, senior director of the Thames National Water Power Co., and vice president of the company of Jewett City, vice president of the Norwich Industrial Building corporation, vice president of the Norwich Fire Arms company, secretary and treasurer of the Chappellville company, director of the Norwich Water Power Co., and of the Norwich and Bard Union company.

Spoke at St. Patrick's Vespers. Rev. R. M. Rummage, Dominican, from New Haven, was the preacher Sunday evening at the vesper at St. Patrick's church, where a congregation of about 100 persons gathered to hear his forceful sermon with close attention. Speaking from the parable of the householder and a sower, he pointed out the lesson that the workers in the Lord's vineyard ought to root out the sins that would easily take the place of the good seed. He exhorted them with the virtues that the Lord expects his children to show.

Chimney Fire Saturday Night. There was a still alarm at 10:25 Saturday night for a chimney fire in the three story tenement house at 361 West Main street, owned by Dennis Sullivan and occupied on the main floor by Wolf Blinderman. The auto-chemical fire department responded about a half barrel of soot in the base of the chimney had ignited and six gallons of chemical were used, three by each department. There was no damage.
