Talk of Clean-up Day.

There has been some talk in Danielson this week of a movement for a spotless town day, such as was held in various Connecticut towns last year. The idea is to get general activity in the matter of cleaning back yards and other places of accumulations of rubbish.

The legislative hearings on measures affecting financial institutions already established or recently projected in Danielson and vicinity have been delayed, but the interested parties hope that action will be forthcoming within a short time now.

Ready to Do Things to Highwayman. Some chauffeurs and others in Danielson who are called upon to be out late at night do not mind words in declaring what they will do if the highwayman who is operating hereabouts attempts to hold them up. If they carry out their threats, the highwayman will have an excellent chance of getting hurt. They are prepared to meet him at his own game.

Will Deal with Bill Collections. The finance committee of the Business Men's association held a meeting Tuesday evening for the purpose of drafting a plan under which the members of the organization will be enabled to make easier the collection of overdue bills, a proposition that has been under consideration for some time.

The action of the special town meeting of last week in authorizing the construction of two more re-enforced concrete bridges in the town of Killingly has met with general approval. Indications are that as fast as the present bridge in town has to be replaced that concrete structures will be put in.

WEDDING. Loomis-Bowen. At the Baptist church in Moosup at noon Tuesday Miss Laura M. Bowen of Sterling and Rev. Ernest L. Loomis, pastor of the church, were married by Rev. R. L. Roberts, pastor of the Methodist church at Moosup. The wedding ceremony was witnessed by a large number of the residents of the village. The bride was attended by Miss Flossie Martin and Miss Warren as bridesmaids. Donald Fletcher was best man. The bride wore white embroidered voile. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and sweet peas. The bridesmaids were gowned in pink. Following the wedding there was a reception at the church. Among those who attended the ceremony were a number from Danielson, where the bride formerly lived. During the afternoon Rev. and Mrs. Loomis left for their wedding trip from which they are expected to return Saturday.

PUTNAM. Oineville Man, Married and With Two Children, Sent to Prison for Assault on Four Year Old—Two Musty Beans Men Fined—Mr. and Mrs. Hassler Reach Town—Superintendent and Matron to Remain at County Home.

Thomascelro Popagello, 23, was sentenced by Judge Joel Reed in the superior court here to serve not less than one nor more than five years in the state prison, after the prisoner had pleaded guilty to having indecently assaulted Irene Boucher, a girl of 4 years, the act alleged to have occurred on the West Side in Danielson on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 20, 1912. The prisoner has been held in the county jail since that time.

In court Tuesday, Popagello, who had pleaded guilty to the charge against him when first presented in the superior court more than a week ago, was represented by Attorney C. L. Torrey of this city.

Mrs. Boucher, mother of the child, testified for the state that she and the child went for a visit with a relative on Tuesday afternoon that the assault was committed. Irene left the house after a time. Later Mrs. Boucher went to look for the child, and saw Irene in the company of the defendant. Irene had both of Danielson, showed that Popagello had been in the company of the little girl during the afternoon mentioned.

Attorney W. F. Woodward of Danielson was assisting State Attorney Searls in presenting the state's case, which was nearly completed when Popagello changed his plea to guilty, bringing the trial to an abrupt ending.

Popagello was in Danielson seeking work when he got into trouble. His home is in Oineville, where he has a wife and two children, one of the latter only a few weeks old.

The other case disposed of Tuesday was that of the state vs. Alfred McGee, Michael Dugan and George Champagne, all charged with selling musty beans to grocers in the town of Plainfield. Dugan and Champagne each pleaded guilty and were fined $50 and costs each, which they made arrangements to pay. The case against McGee, who was less involved in the transaction, was postponed to this (Wednesday) morning, when the cases assigned for trial are those of Walter D. Torrey vs. Mary E. Torrey, and Alice Savigny vs. Dona Savigny.

Short Calendar Session. There is to be a short calendar session and assignment of cases in the superior court here Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Judge Reed presiding: Helen L. ly lighting arrangements were very effective. Nine little candles decorated the birthday cake, the dozen young people present sitting round the table and enjoying the pretty spectacle and the dainty refreshments served, these including cake, ice cream and fruit. The little hostess received a number of presents. The party was made up of Gladys Hermanson, Dorothy Bone Evelyn Shaw, Ruth Shaw, Mary Childs, Mariann Wilcox, Walter Wilcox, Gladys Andrews, Della Benoit, Lillian Shaw, Beatrice Shaw. Hasslers Arrive on World Hike. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hassler, who have received many press notices since they arrived in Connecticut, reached Putnam Tuesday afternoon after an all day's walk from Willimantic, which city they left at 7:45. They got into Putnam about 5:30, well tired out, after one of the hardest days of walking they have put in. From Willimantic to Clark's Corners Mr. and Mrs. Hassler followed the highway, but the going was so bad that they took to the railroad at that point and stayed along the New Haven's right of way until they reached Putnam. Mrs. Hassler, who is only 16 and a bride of only a few weeks, was apparently very much so, tired out when she reached Putnam, but cheerful nevertheless. At the Bradley theater at the evening show Mr. Hassler lectured on his long trip. He is to visit every state capital in the United States on a wage of $5,000 that he can do the trip within five years. When the couple reached Putnam their cash capital was down to 25

The March meeting of the Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A. R., was held in Odd Fellows' hall, Monday afternoon at which the regent, Mrs. C. L. Torrey and piano accompaniment played by Miss Bertha L. Sargent. During the social hour the hostesses served ices and cakes which were in forms symbolic of St. Patrick's day. Holiday Luncheon. A holiday luncheon was served Monday by the Queens of Avilion of the Congregational church in the knights' room to the members, honorary guests and prospective members who are to join the Queens at a near date. Daffodils and green decorated the artistically arranged table. A green paper doll placed at each plate were used as favors. Salad, sandwiches, olives, chocolate, ice cream and assorted cakes were served. The young ladies planned this luncheon entirely, not having any advice or suggestions from their leaders, Miss Gertrude L. Sargent was presented a gold thimble and a pair of silver embroidery rings in recognition of the great interest she takes in their work. Personal. Miss Sylvia Wheelock is spending this week with relatives in Uxbridge, Mass. Miss Frances Warner of the Castle school faculty, New Rochelle, N. Y., is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Warner. Mrs. Sharpe of Abington was the guest of local friends on Monday. Mr. Gleason, superintendent of schools in Newark, N.
