KEROSENE IN WESTERLY SALOON

Spread For Fire That Started in Bonvenuto's Place Thursday Morning—Previous Attempt to Blow Up the Place—Scarehead But Untrue Reports of High Water Bring Sympathy and Offers of Aid to Westerly.

Early Thursday morning an alarm was sent in from box 73 by Engineer Walter Ponderton at the Westerly Light and Power company's plant, on Canal street, for a fire which he discovered burning in the rear end of the one story wooden building at the corner of Canal street and Freight yard drive, occupied by Natalia Bonvenuto as a saloon. The fire companies were quick to respond but before they could extinguish the flames they had burned through the floor and the inside, and its contents were badly blistered and burned as a result of the excessive heat. Some of the bottles of liquor that were behind the bar burst, and a number of barrels of liquor in the basement were destroyed. The stock and fixtures were damaged beyond repair, but the bar can be repaired, at considerable expense, however. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Upon investigation there was evidence that kerosene had been spread on the floor and that some one set the place on fire. It is needless to say that the fire at once spread over the entire room. The saloon, which was nicknamed the Tin Tub some time ago, although it is far from being fire-proof,

ECZEMA WOULD ITCH AND BURN

On Face and in Ears. All Little Scales. Scratched Until Ears Bled. Swelled Terribly. One Cake of Cuticura Soap and One Box of Cuticura Ointment Cured.

25 E. Main St., Patchogue, N. Y.—"For several years I was bothered with eczema on my face and flaps in my ears. When it first started it would break out all in little red spots and then it would itch and burn and become all little scales. After I would scratch it my face would look so red and so swollen that I would be ashamed to have anyone see me. My ears itched so that I scratched until they bled. Soon they became inflamed and swelled terribly. My face was that way for over a year and I tried several remedies but they were not satisfactory. Finally I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using one box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap I was completely cured and can say now that I have as good skin as anyone." COLCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Dutton Leaving Town—Mission at St. Andrew's—Harold Webster Injured.

James R. Dutton has sold his farm, situated about two and one-half miles southeast of the village, to a Polish purchaser. Mr. and Mrs. Dutton will go to Pennsylvania to spend the summer with relatives, and later will leave for the state of Washington, where they will reside. Mr. and Mrs. Dutton are members of the local grange and have been active in building up the organization. They are members of Calvary Episcopal church. Mr. Dutton is a member of Wooster lodge, F. and A. M., and has been one of the assessors of the town for a number of years. Friends regret their leaving town and wish them a safe trip to their future home.

NOANK

Death of William G. Rathbun, a 49er Captain Fred Buddington's Boat to be Launched This Week.

William G. Rathbun died at his home on Church street Wednesday night of heart failure. He had not been in good health all winter. Mr. Rathbun was 83 years of age and was a member of the Baptist church of the village and also a member of the Masonic order. He was a prominent democrat and held the office of postmaster during the second term of the Cleveland administration. In his youth he was one of the gold seekers of '49 leaving his home at the age of 16 and remaining in the gold fields for two years. On the closing of his term of office as postmaster he opened a small store on Main street which he has continued till the past winter, when falling health would no longer permit active exercise. Mr. Rathbun leaves four grandchildren all of this village. His wife and children are dead.

Brief State News

Redding.—The Sanford school of Redding Ridge is again organizing a group of boys for a summer trip abroad.

Bridgport.—The directors of the Bridgport hospital are planning improvements to that institution that will cost $250,000.

Waterbury.—The exhibit of the New York Architectural league at the hall of the Mattatuck Historical society is to be left there until about May 1.
