OBITUARY.

James Bradbury.
James Bradbury died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louis Hughes, in Eastville, on Monday, Sunday morning at 3 o'clock after suffering for the past six weeks from tuberculosis. Mr. Bradbury was born in Webster, Mass., April 1, 1834. He came to Old Lyme when a young man and has spent practically his whole life there. In 1861 he married Miss Matilda Lester of East Lyme and the following year he went into the weaving business in the lower mill, which he contracted for several years, later going into the wool scouring business in partnership with his nephew, under the name of J. H. Bradbury & Co.

After the death of his wife, about five years ago, he sold his homestead to his son-in-law, J. Hughes, and retired from business. He made his home with his son, Bruce, in Sound View. The past winter he spent in South County with his eldest daughter, Mrs. DeWitt Kingsbury.

Uncle Jim, as he was called by everyone, was known throughout the country, especially to the boys, as a hunter and fisherman, being a great lover of fox hunting and fishing. He always had a good word for everyone, and especially for the boys of the town. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kingsbury of South Coventry, Mrs. Lucy Come of Saybrook, Mrs. Edith Hughes of Lyme and one son, Bruce Bradbury of Sound View, also a brother, William Bradbury of South Coventry.

Thomas Ahern.
Thomas Ahern, formerly of New London, died Monday at the Norwich tuberculosis sanatorium. He had been sick a long time, part of which was spent in the west. Mr. Ahern is survived by two daughters in New London, James and Timothy Ahern.

Mrs. Jane Russell.
The death of Hannah O'Neil, wife of the late James Murphy, occurred Monday evening about 10 o'clock at her home on West Main street. She suffered a shock on Saturday and failed gradually to the end. She is survived by a daughter and by a son, John J. Murphy, who is employed at the Wauregan house.

FUNERAL.
Mrs. John A. Wheeler.
Monday afternoon the funeral of Eliza C., wife of John A. Wheeler, was held from the parlors of Church and Allen. The attendance was large and there were many beautiful palms and floral forms. The services were conducted by Rev. Joel B. Slocum and the quartette of the Central Baptist church composed of James L. Case, George A. Taylor, Norman A. Crowell and Mrs. Augustus T. Sullivan, rendered Alleluia in Jesus, and Abide with Me. George R. Saunders, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated and Fred Chapman were the bearers and burial was in Yantic cemetery, where a committal service was read at the grave by Rev. Mr. Slocum.

Incidents in Society.
Frederick J. Huntington of Broadway has returned from Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Smith of Old Lyme are guests of friends in Warnerville, Pa.

Arthur H. Brewer has been entertaining his nephew, Robert D. Brewer of Hingham, Mass.

Mrs. H. E. Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hawkins are passing June at the Haskell cottage at Eastern Point.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dana Colt at their Eastern Point cottage were Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor Ely, Henry L. Frisbie and Louis R. Porteous.

Mrs. James L. Case of Warren street entertained informally from 4 to 6 Monday afternoon in honor of her guests, Smith college students—Miss Dorothy Jones and Miss Helen Jones of New Hartford, Miss Irene Overley of Pittsburg, Pa., Miss Agnes Conklin of Spokane, Wash., Miss Agnes Conklin of Binghamton, N. Y., and Miss Edith Rogers of Boston. Miss Edith Young and Miss Grace Lester assisted in the dining room, which was daintily decorated.

FINE POINTS IN ADVERTISING

A reader of THE BULLETIN the other day was planning a fortnight's fishing trip in the Adirondacks, and in running through the advertising pages chanced upon an advertisement of a sporting goods house.

Being entranced by the "out-of-door" atmosphere and sportsmanlike tone, the announcement was soon despatched to the grocer. Toward the end, to his astonishment, he found complete, detailed information about the very lake on which he expected to spend his vacation.

He learned all about the fish and their habits, and the kind of tackle to use and a number of other useful and informing points all as if written for his especial benefit by a true lover of the sport!

Crystallized in this one advertisement was all of the information, and more, that he needed to complete the arrangements for his trip.

This is only one instance of the splendid help that present day advertising offers to the readers of THE BULLETIN.

FIRE CHIEFS GIVEN 22 MILE RIDE

As Guests of Chief Stanton They See Chief Points of the City
Old Torment Engine of 1769 Gives Display—Plan For Mutual Aid For Cities.

The annual spring meeting of the Fire Chiefs' Club of Connecticut was held with the president, Chief Howard L. Stanton, at the Central fire station, Monday. Following the business session, which was held at noon in the recreation room at the station, the balance of the day was spent in a social manner, with an auto ride about the city for the chiefs present, numbering about 25. Chief Stanton presided at the meeting, at which the principal business was a discussion of mutual aid, and a plan was proposed for the division of the state into districts for mutual protection in case of a big fire.

Committee Appointed.
To assist Chief Rufus R. Fancher of New Haven, R. M. Dame of New Britain, George S. Pitt of Middletown, who had previously had the matter under consideration, the fire chiefs of Norwich, Putnam, Stamford, Waterbury, Bridgeport, Danbury and Hartford were appointed. This committee will report at the fall meeting of the club.

Responded to Roll Call.
Chief Stanton welcomed the gathering, and Secretary R. H. Fancher read the roll call, the following responding to their names: H. L. Stanton, Norwich; First Vice President D. N. Harcourt, South Norwalk; Secretary R. H. Fancher, New Haven; Treasurer Samuel C. Snagg, Waterbury; Directors James M. Chatfield, Thomaston; H. W. Starnes, Bridgeport; George S. Pitt, Middletown; Henry B. Page, East Haven; John Stanners, New London; W. F. Clark, Naugatuck; Charles A. Cameron, West Haven; D. W. Hartford, South Norwalk; D. B. Rockledge, Westville; Edward P. Teed, Stonington; A. P. Woodward, Danielson; W. B. Thomas, New London; R. M. Dame, New Britain; Augustus Kingsbury, Hartford; John Jefferson, Rockville, Hartford.

A communication from Vice President C. F. Learned of Willimantic was read, stating that he would arrive later in the day. A telegram from Rev. Neilson Poe Carey, formerly of this city and chaplain of the club, stated that he would be unable to attend.

Former Norwich Chief.
William M. Williams, former chief of the local department, was present as a guest of Chief Stanton, and on motion of Chief Pitt was made an honorary member of the club. Mr. Williams was the first chief under whom the club was organized in the fire department. Chief Eugene M. Beech of Derby, Chief Edward P. Coles of Unionville and Chief John P. Donovan of Meriden were made members of the organization.

Mutual Aid.
The matter of mutual aid was brought up by Chief Pitt of Middletown, who told of the appointment of the committee of which he is a member, at a meeting at Hartford to further the plan for assistance between cities in cases of big fires. The matter originated he said with Commissioner Clark of Hartford. It was voted that the committee composed of Chiefs Fancher, Dame and Pitt be empowered to represent the club in the matter with the additions above made. Chief Pitt proposed that the club be divided into districts as follows:

Bridgeport, center for Fairfield, Southport, Westport, Danbury, center for Bethel, New Milford, Hartford, center for Bristol, Broad Brook, East Hartford, Hazardville, Manchester, Meriden, New Britain, New Hartford, Plainville, Portland, Rockledge, South Manchester, Stafford Springs, Suffield.

HUNT WITH DOGS FOR MISSING MAN.
Search Will Continue Today for William O'Brien.

Monday passed by without any further information being obtained as to the whereabouts of William O'Brien, who disappeared last Thursday from his home on Avery street. Relatives of Mr. O'Brien continued the search Monday in the neighborhood of Raymond, where he is the locality where his possible trail was last picked up. Today an effort is to be made to find him with the use of dogs. A number of the residents of that section will lend their dogs to aid the searching party.

HEARING THIS WEEK ON THAMES LOAN & TRUST
Will Be Arranged Before Judge Williams, It Is Expected.

Judge Williams of the superior court was unable to come here on Monday so that a hearing before him which has been expected for some time, will have to be postponed. The hearing on the Thames Loan & Trust company's case is expected to be held on Wednesday before Judge Williams.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.
Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

The miniature musical comedy, The Telephone Girls, is the feature of the bill offered during the first half of the week at the Auditorium and the new production met an enthusiastic reception from packed houses at both of Monday's shows. The motion pictures showed careful selection, including Imp and other comedies and a two-reel Bison drama, "The vengeance of the Skystone."

The Telephone Girls are six in number, with the addition of Edna Driscoll, who makes a hit with his lively line of comedy which runs all through the act. The Girls display nice voices and their songs make a good impression. The second scene is the feature of the act. The Girls are shown in a boat, singing Row, Row, Row, and the number gets a big hand. As during the act, one of the girls, Edna Driscoll, takes the place of the three acts usually presented.

Fined in City Court.
In the city court Monday morning Judge Brown heard the case against Charles Ryan, William Robinson and John Longreen, accused of fighting in the hallway between the houses of Marion Morse and Anna Davis on Water street early Sunday morning, and of beating up Bernard Vannelanda who had a bad cut over his left eye. It was said that the cut was made by Robinson's crew hat and the hat badly smashed, was exhibited. Marion Morse and Anna Davis testified. The injured man claimed he went to the house to hire a room as someone told him he could get a room there. Marion Morse denied that she rented rooms. Vannelanda was discharged and Ryan, Robinson and Longreen were fined 10 and costs, amounting to $13 each. Randolph Erickson, who was also in the affair, had his case continued as he was away on the Chelsea, on which he is employed.

BIG ATTENDANCE PROMISED FOR CITY MEETING.
Financial Matters Will Bring the Citizens Out in Force.

There promises to be a largely attended and probably very lively city meeting in the town hall this evening when the voters will be called upon to give their approval or disapproval of the amounts which are asked for in the coming year. According to the committee's budget an 11 mill city tax will be required, while there are additional matters in the warning that would call for the appropriation of $87,375 besides what the 11 mill tax would furnish.

COMMON PLEAS CASES.
One Suit Adjusted Without Trial—Assignments Made.

Judge Waller presided at the session of the court of common pleas here on Monday. It was announced that the matter of N. V. and H. N. Porter vs. J. E. Sullivan had been adjusted without trial.

In the cases of Pollack vs. Kern and Frank C. Brown vs. A. P. Miner, Jr. answers were ordered in two weeks. The cases of Anderson vs. Libby, Valva and Grimes vs. Rice were set for trial at New London June 24.

The matter of Sisk vs. Hopper goes to the court of the 1st for June 24 and Backus vs. Lewis to the court of the 1st for June 10 at New London. The assignments for June 10 at New London will not be heard and other assignments made stand in their order.

AT DAVIS THEATER.
Vaudeville and Photoplays.

A vaudeville bill that is one of the best of the season, was shown at the Davis theater on Monday with four numbers that all shared in the good opinions of those who saw and heard them. With their vocal and violin numbers, Livingston and Fields were two dainty artists, who won instant favor. Normal Merrill as a character comedian did his strong work in his act, catching on cowboy life and also sang well, while Barto & Clark had a remarkably neat and clever singing and dancing act in which they sang about the best dancing and singing team that the house has produced on its stage. Elliott, Belmont and Elliott performed in a gymnastic and tumbling act that was full of fun and action as well as a lot of clever work with the woman member of the troupe doing the heavy work in convincing form. The photoplays contributed to the general satisfaction that the bill gave.

Was a Noble Dog.
A beautiful life came to its close Monday morning when the dog, a little collie belonging to Mrs. Henry A. Spalding of 110 Washington street went quietly to sleep after many weeks of weakness and helplessness incident to advanced years. Sallor was 15 years old last February and had been a member of the Spalding household since he was three months old. Never was a dog more fondly loved nor better merited the affection bestowed upon him. He had lived beyond the 14 years which nature permits, according to Rudyard Kipling's poem to dog lovers, but Sallor's friends realize now the truth of the last lines: "Then you will find it's your own affair, but you've given your heart for a dog to tear."
