WOMAN KILLED IN AN I. W. W. RIOT

Seven Others Wounded by Bullets and Many Injured by Missiles as They Charged on Ipswich, Mass.

THREE STRIKE LEADERS ARE UNDER ARREST

A Dozen Others Also Taken Into Custody by the Police—

Pickets Started Trouble by Jostling Workers as They Left Hosiery Plant—Police Interfered and Scrimmage Followed—Dead Woman Said to Have Been a Spectator

Ipswich, Mass., June 10.—One woman was shot and killed, seven other persons were wounded by bullets, and many others were injured by missiles in a strike riot outside the Ipswich hosiery mills tonight. Fifteen persons, including three leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, were arrested.

The dead woman was Miss Nicoletta Pandeolopoulos, aged 37, who was a spectator of the fight. Five of the injured were hurried at once to the Salem hospital, 14 miles distant, in an automobile.

They were placed upon the operating table before their identity had been learned.

Salem Called Upon for Aid.

An appeal for help was sent to Salem, and after a riot call had been sounded in that city 18 officers were rushed over the road in automobiles. Order had been restored, however, before their arrival. The actual fighting broke out at five minutes.

The Disturbance Started When 500 English-speaking workers left the mills at the end of their day's work. They were met by groups of pickets under the leadership of the Industrial Workers of the World, who have been conducting a strike at the plant for a 30 per cent. increase in wages.

First Shots Came from Houses.

When the pickets began to jostle the employees the force of 30 policemen on duty intervened. The rioters refused to obey the order, and the situation grew more serious. At this moment, according to spectators, shots were fired from two houses on the street, one of which was occupied by the rioters.

"Trousers" for Women.

Chicago Designer Has a Substitute for the Skirt.

Chicago, Ill., June 10.—Trousers that are not trousers, skirts that are not skirts, but a combination of both—the trouserine—will be offered by Chicago dressmakers as the "skirt" for the abused but popular slashed skirt. Hereafter modern woman will pull her nether garments on over her feet, not over her head.

When the Chicago Dressmakers' association opened warfare on the little slashed skirt first disclosed only an insipid, then an ankle and finally—well, some are covered by lace insertion—its members began searching for a less striking, yet satisfying substitute. Trousers are perfectly respectable on the man, and why not on the woman? asked W. E. Horace, leader of the fight against the slashed skirt. He designed the trouserine. It is a great-fangled, ankle-length pair of something so covered with drapery that in the street one never would stare at it, and it is neither a pair of trousers or a pair of skirts.

Designers who are about to offer the trouserine say it will solve the problem of permitting women to wear skirts closely bound around the ankle and still permit them to climb stairs and covered without embarrassment. The drapery idea, they say, is the one solution.

Trousers and drapery are all of the same material, and one heavily can tell where either begins or ends.

English Polo Loses First

Match Between Americans and Englishmen

News Stuns London

Victory Had Been Confidently Predicted for British Team—Odds of 8 to 5 Placed on English Players.

Meadowbrook Club, Westbury, L. I., June 10.—Outplaying the English polo challengers, the American cup defending team today won the opening game of the sixty international match by scores 5-2. Goals to 3. A better idea of the actual difference in the playing ability of the two teams is shown by the gross score which was 7 to 3 in favor of the defending four.

English Players Disappointed.

Much to the surprise of the spectators and polo experts the English players did not show the expected play which had been credited to them before the game. Neither did their ponies. The reverse was quite the case and in almost every run down field the American players either held their own or outdistanced their competitors in the race for the ball.

Super Combination Work.

The combination work of the American four with Larry Waterbury at No. 1; J. M. Waterbury, Jr., and later in the afternoon at No. 2; appeared in P. Whitney at No. 3, and Devereux Milburn at back, was superb. The challenging team, consisting of Captain L. St. George Cheape at No. 1; Captain A. Noel Edwards at No. 2; Captain Vivian Lockett at back appeared in the afternoon at No. 1, and consistently, due in all probability to the close "covering" of the Americans.

Odds of 8 to 5 on English Players.

Hardly had the game begun before it was seen that the odds of 8 to 5 placed on the English team were a false prophecy. The English four carried the play into the Big End of the field and kept the invaders so busy defending that a spectacular ride down the field was the part of the challengers were temporarily out of the question.

The Visitors Stunned.

The drives of the Americans were made both with excellent direction and accuracy. The Englishmen were unable to follow the ball out of their own half. The Englishmen apparently were stunned by the herceutic play of the Americans, who failed to hold together in team work. The three goals scored in the first period went to the United States and the American four were in a position to take a fourth goal in the second period.

English Brace Up in Second Period.

Rison and Cheape cut loose with some remarkable long drives and the Englishmen were able to take a fourth goal that proved threatening. The work of Captain Lockett at back was remarkable in view of the attack piled on him. Larry Waterbury was playing a rushing game and his encounters with Edwards and Cheape were frequent and thrilling. Finally he was fouled by Waterbury, who had just started England's first goal with a fine shot from a hard angle. The American four were in a position to take a fourth goal in the second period.

Third and Fourth Periods.

The English four were rushed hard by the defenders early in the third period and Larry Waterbury scored the Americans' first goal. The English four were unable to score the remainder of the period. Edwards and Cheape fouled Larry Waterbury. Cheape also fouled a clear field. The only goal of the period was scored by the American four, who were partly nullified by a foul in crossing Captain Rison.

Monty Waterbury's Finger Broken.

In the fifth period the Englishmen were again in a position to take a fourth goal, but a lancing shot which the Americans were unable to reach, and Captain Cheape followed with a 75 yard straight run down the field. The succeeding season proved disastrous for the defenders. Waterbury, who was fouled by the hand by an opponent's mallet and his finger broken in two places. He was not able to play in Saturday's game.

Larry Waterbury Thrown.

Open riding and individual play marked the seventh period. No goal was scored. The American team, however, lost a point because of sharp crossing by Milburn. Edwards and Rison again showed some splendid work. Waterbury spalled his finger by missing an easy goal at the end.

The Final Period had hardly opened before Larry Waterbury was thrown. He jumped to his feet immediately, but his game was delayed as his mount and bolter for the stable and a substitute had to be secured.

When the play was resumed both teams rushed and took turns driving the ball down the field.

The Detailed Score.

The visitors kept the ball in American territory but Stoddard finally cleared it and in a run down the field scored in the final goal of the game. The score by periods and penalties follows:

First Period.

1—J. M. Waterbury, U. S. 1.58
2—L. Waterbury, U. S. 2.26
3—D. Milburn, U. S. 3.33

Second Period.

4—Captain Cheape, Eng. 4.4
5—L. Waterbury, U. S. 5.08

Third Period.

6—J. M. Waterbury, U. S. 31

Fourth Period.

7—L. Waterbury, U. S. 7.19

Fifth Period.

8—Captain Rison, Eng. 2.92
9—Captain Cheape, Eng. 3.05

Sixth Period.

No score.

Seventh Period.

No score.

Eighth Period.

10—L. Waterbury, U. S. 2.87
Gross score: United States, 7; England, 3.

Penalties—United States 1-2-2 points on fouls by L. Waterbury in second period; L. Waterbury in fourth period; D. Milburn in seventh period.

Net score: United States 5-1-2 goals; England, 3 goals.

A Division of This Diocese

Resolution at Episcopal Convention

Advocates of the Change Confident of Success—Change of Name Not Likely to be Considered.

New Haven, Conn., June 10.—Speaking for the Episcopal Council Clerical association, Rev. Louis B. Howell of St. Paul's church, Norwalk, gave notice at the afternoon's session of the annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Connecticut that at tomorrow's session a resolution calling for a division of the diocese will be introduced. This was in compliance with the constitution of the diocese had notice of such matters may be given the day before they come up for consideration.

Question of Great Moment.

The question of dividing the diocese is considered of great moment by the delegates. Evidence of this fact was given this afternoon when an attempt was made to pass a motion making the question of the day immediately after the opening session tomorrow. Objection was taken at once by those who desired it was their intention to spend the night out of town and that they might not reach New Haven in time for the opening session. It was finally decided to take up the question at 11 o'clock.

Must Be Ratified, if Adopted.

Those in favor of the proposed division of the diocese tonight of its success. Pamphlets have been printed and circulated showing the advantages of the proposed plan. Members of the diocese are particularly anxious to have the question settled at the session tomorrow. If the resolution is voted upon favorably, it will come before the general convention of the church to be held in New York in October for ratification or rejection.

Change of Name Not to Be Taken Up.

It is deemed to divide the diocese, Bishop Chalmers B. Brewster will be given the privilege of deciding whether the two dioceses will be named over. It was thought that the question of using the name "Catholic" in the name of the Episcopal church would come up for consideration at the convention; but tonight it appeared as if the matter would not be touched at all. Bishop Brewster, in his address today, said he could see no reason why the subject should come before the convention and the majority of delegates seem to agree with him. The bishop intimated that it was a matter for the general convention to decide whether to divide the diocese.

Bishop Brewster presided at the business session this afternoon. Rev. John F. Plumb of Milford was unanimously re-elected secretary. Rev. Henry MacBeth of Bethel and Rev. William H. Fern of Westport were chosen assistant secretaries. Reports of various committees were heard. The annual dinner was held tonight in Memorial hall, Yale, the principal address being delivered by the Right Rev. Edward M. Parker, D. D., bishop coadjutor of New Hampshire.

Charlton Will Be Extradited

THE SUPREME COURT DECIDES AGAINST HIM FOR MURDERING WIFE

Young American Will Have to Stand Trial in Italy—Woman's Body Found at the Bottom of Lake Como.

Washington, June 10.—Three years to a day after the discovery of the body of his wife in the waters of Lake Como, Italy, Portugal's Charlton lost his last fight against being turned over by his native land to the Italian government for trial on a charge of murder. The supreme court today sustained the state department's decision to deliver Charlton in compliance with Italy's demand.

His Father Former Federal Judge.

Charlton was a bank clerk in New York. His father, Paul Charlton, was a classmate of ex-President Taft and an associate federal judge in Porto Rico. The young man has been held in jail in New Jersey since his arrest nearly three years ago.

United States Has Power to Extradite.

Inanity was alleged by the manager of the United States in Italy, inasmuch as that country had refused to extradite its subjects to the United States. The supreme court held today that Charlton had no right to present evidence of his insanity at the extradition hearing and that the contention as to the power to extradite was erroneous.

"Impressive Evidence" of Insanity.

Justice Lurton, in announcing the court's decision, however, said that "impressive evidence" of insanity had been offered in Charlton's behalf. It is believed a way will be found to present this conclusion at Charlton's trial.

Crime Occurred During honeymoon.

The killing of Mrs. Porter Charlton stirred Europe and America as have few murders of recent years. With the discovery of her body in a trunk and sunk in Lake Como, Italy, where she had been with her relatives, it was assumed that she had been murdered. She had been with her husband in a trunk and sunk in Lake Como, Italy, where she had been with her relatives, it was assumed that she had been murdered.

Charlton Returns to United States.

The first great problem to solve was the killing of Mrs. Porter Charlton, who had married the woman, eight years older than himself, and the divorced wife of a prominent banker, San Francisco lawyer. His father, Paul Charlton, law adviser of the bureau of insular affairs and former President Wilson's classmate, was in the conviction that his son, too, had been murdered. That question was solved when Portugal's Charlton, with his father, returned to the United States.

That Night there appeared a confession bearing his name.

"My wife and I lived happily together, but she had an uncontrollable habit of drinking. On the night of the murder she had the worst outbreak of temper ever seen. She was drunk and I would make her keep quiet. Then she had another outbreak. I took up a wooden mallet with which had been repairing a table and with her head and body two or three times. At midnight I put the body in a trunk, dragged it to near the shore of the house and threw it overboard."

FLORETTA WHALEY IS NOW MRS. COOKE

Justice of the Peace Ties the Knot at Stamford, Conn., Hotel.

Stamford, Conn., June 10.—Vere Knobe Cooke, former pastor of an Episcopal church at Hempstead, L. I., and Floretta Whaley were married by a justice of the peace in the parlors of the Hotel Hamilton, with his own witnesses were a party of friends who came here with the couple last evening.

The unhooked Episcopal clergyman and his bride came here last night after a flying trip about the state in search of a hotel. The couple were granted a
