Negotiations with Mexico

WILSON TO DISCUSS THEM IN SPECIAL MESSAGE

MAY READ IT HIMSELF

Will be Presented to Congress Next Monday—Will Give Text of America's Proposal and the Reply of Huerta.

Washington, Aug. 21.—President Wilson was at work tonight on a special message which he probably will read to both houses of congress next Monday, relating in detail the negotiations which have been conducted through his personal representative, John Lind, with the Huerta government in Mexico.

The decision to make a comprehensive statement on the situation to congress was reached today after the president had about concluded that the negotiations between Mr. Lind and Provisional President Huerta since the exchange of notes had not developed new basis for discussion.

May Read Message Himself. With his message the president will present the two notes asking forth the American suggestions to the Huerta government and its reply. Should he read the document himself, which is being urged to do by members of his cabinet, and to which idea he is strongly inclined, it will be the first time since the days of George Washington that a president has communicated a matter of foreign policy in person to the legislative branch of the government. While there was no information from the White House to indicate what object it was hoped to accomplish through such a message at this time, there was a well defined belief in official circles that President Wilson thinks the reading of an address which will give the American viewpoint and the Huerta contentions before the congress and people of this country, and which also will be made public to the world generally, cannot but have an important effect on the situation in Mexico.

Republicans Upheld President. It is expected to be a partial answer to the intimations of Provisional President Huerta that the American President Wilson stands alone in his Mexican policy and unsupported generally in congress. The repudiation of this Huerta opposition came in the senate today when prominent republicans vigorously upheld the hands of the president. There was no confidence in the wisdom and good faith of Provisional President Huerta were made by several republican leaders in succession. After Senator Fenwick of Pennsylvania, republican, had introduced a resolution to require the president to place American troops in Mexico to protect American interests, no action was taken on the resolution.

No Partisanship in Matter. President Wilson reiterated to callers today that he had absolutely no intention of taking any drastic measures, denied that Secretary Garrison of the war department had been called back to Washington, and that he would take a vacation after his inspection trip in the west was ended.

He incidentally complimented republican senators on their spirit of co-operation, emphatically stating there had not been the slightest exhibition of partisanship in the senate.

Believe Huerta Deluded. That Provisional President Huerta has advanced the idea that recognition of his government is a partisan question, which the United States and the democratic party is not actually dominant, is admitted by administration officials, but they believe that in such a situation the Huerta government will be dissipated, not only by news of today's debate in the senate, but by the expectation that Huerta will show that he will show his confidence in the president when he reads his message.

No Thought of Armed Intervention. It is not known yet whether President Wilson will read his message, but it was learned from a high government official that his statement of the situation will be read in the senate next step on the part of the United States. The president has made it plain, however, that he has no thought of the armed intervention of the United States as determined as ever to maintain an attitude of peace and friendliness toward Mexico.

Mr. Lind probably will remain in Mexico City indefinitely and his reports indicate that he has not abandoned hope.

$1,500,000 WORK DONE ON MISSOURI ROADS Two "Good Roads" Days Pronounced a Great Success.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 21.—Sunset put an official end today to Governor Major's two "good roads" days, which it is estimated 250,000 business men and farmers forsook their business and their farms and roads to take part in the "good roads" work that Missouri might receive an impetus to become one of the leading good roads states of the union.

When the late man laid down his pick and shovel tonight it was estimated the work done had it been paid for, would have amounted to $1,500,000.

As Governor Major bade the last of his helpers stop work at Jefferson City, Governor Hodges of Kansas had been assisting Governor Major with the job, grasped the Missouri executive's hand.

"It's over, governor, and I congratulate you and the state of Missouri," said he.

"And I thank you, and the people of Kansas for wanting you come down to help us," responded Governor Major. Governor Major was host at a dinner tonight at Governor Hodges' residence. The little girl ran in front of the car, which was going at the rate of about ten miles an hour.

Child Injured by Auto. Waterbury, Conn., Aug. 21.—Struck by an automobile driven by Edwin Hill, a former police commissioner, Mildred Hickey, aged 9 years, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital late this morning with serious injuries. The little girl ran in front of the car, which was going at the rate of about ten miles an hour.
