The Circulation of The Bulletin

The Bulletin has the largest circulation of any paper in Eastern Connecticut, and from three to four times larger than that of any in Norwich.

Table with 2 columns: Year, Circulation. 1907, average, 4,412; 1908, average, 5,920; Sept. 13, 8,821

Have The Bulletin Follow You

Readers of the Bulletin leaving the city for the seashore, mountains, rural resorts or Europe can have the Bulletin follow them daily and keep in touch with home affairs.

TOWN HIGHWAYS.

It is in the matter of taking the necessary action in behalf of better highways, as pointed out in the circulars issued by the state highway commissioner to all towns, that the best interests of the small towns can be served and the most valuable cooperation with the state can be indicated.

CHANCE FOR HELP OR INJURY.

Much the same attitude is being taken by the supporters of the late Mayor Gaynor in New York city, when they seek to select a candidate to take his place on the third ticket, as has been pointed out in the circulars issued by the state highway commissioner to all towns, that the best interests of the small towns can be served and the most valuable cooperation with the state can be indicated.

FULL AND FREE DISCUSSION.

It was a stand in behalf of full, free discussion of all sides of a question, and not the secret, narrow, close, rushing legislation through congress, which Representative Anderson of Minnesota took when he resigned his place on the important ways and means committee of the house.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

What goes up must come down, but in the manner of descent which most concerns the aviator.

THROAT BANDS.

The wearing of bands of moire, velvet or jewels about the throat is a fancy which has been adopted almost universally, for women have found that the collarless gown has come to stay.

NEW MOTOR COATS.

The kimono shape are quite unsuitable for motoring and nothing beats the overall coat, with long and rather wide sleeves, the cuffs fitted with two or three buttons and a removable strap to regulate the size.

DICTATES OF FASHION.

Yellow silk hose and black satin shoes are worn with beige or dark colored suits.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

The girls in Zululand are not allowed to work until they are married, because the stronger they are the more their husbands will pay for them; so until they are 16 they have a good time, after marriage they do all the work for their husbands, who sit about and watch them.

CORN SHOWS.

Not only through the western states, where special trains are sent from town to town to instruct the farmers in the selection, cultivation and growth of corn, is the value of giving the proper attention to corn growing recognized, but throughout the country the importance of it getting to be more and more appreciated.

TEACHING CITIZENSHIP.

What is more important to any community than the character of its citizenship? That it should attain the highest standard should be the ambition of every municipality and the aim of introducing a course in citizenship in schools is one which is worthy of full consideration.

TO CLEAN BOTTLES.

Never use licks or buckshot to clean the inside of bottles, jugs and pitchers, but the ground shell of an egg, salt and lemon or a little white vinegar.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

When the eyes refuse to sparkle there is usually physical cause which needs attention. Often it is from indigestion or torpid liver, in which case a careful diet and regular exercise in the open air should work a cure.

REARRANGING ROOMS.

There is something very attractive about a room that does not always present the same appearance. Pictures should be changed and new draperies so valuable. Curtains are also valuable in altering the appearance of a room.

FOR THE GUEST ROOM.

Keep in the upper bureau drawer in the guest room a list of the articles necessary to your guest's comfort. Then when putting the room in order for a prospective guest a comparison with the list will show whether anything is at hand and obviate the oft repeated "I wonder if that is everything."

CONCERNING WOMEN.

Those who have read the excellent novels by Miss J. A. R. Wylie, the clever English novelist, will no doubt judge that the looks and behavior of a woman of middle age, with such remarkable understanding does the author write. As a matter of fact, Miss Wylie is only 24 years old. Her first work was published when she was 18 years old.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Pieces of dry bread and toast should be kept in a covered jar until you are ready to use them. Dry bread and toast can be used for scores of things and odd bits should never be thrown away.

When finishing off a machine seam turn the material and stitch back an inch, this does away with the necessity of tying the thread, which if forgotten often causes trouble in the finished article as much as it does in the making.

Try whitening the cream in the upper part of a double boiler, with fine hot or cold water placed in the lower part. The cream will not spatter so much and will be kept cool and will whip much more quickly.

Perspiration stains on silk waists can sometimes be removed by sponging with a clean cloth, wet in clear cold water, then cover the wet place with powdered prepared chalk. Let dry and brush off carefully with a soft brush.

When grinding bread crumbs with a mill, use an ordinary paper bag and fasten it securely by means of a rubber band around the cutter's edge. Your crumbs will not then be distributed over the kitchen floor.

A candle can be made to fit any candle-stick if you will soften the wax by dipping it in hot water. Then push it into the candle-stick. If it is too small it will squeeze in; if it is too large, the soft wax will spread and hold the candle up.

SCARF SHAWL.

Between the mantle and no wrap at all there is often an uncomfortable gap that is light transparent scarf does not fill. This has brought back the pretty fashion of the scarf wrap, or to be more correct, it should be called a scarf shawl. It is so wide, wrapped about the figure, it often looks like a mantle. These scarfs are generally four and a half yards long and a yard or more wide. Sometimes they are the width of the material used, which may be as narrow as fifty-two inches.

Some of the elaborate ones for evening are made of crepe de chine that has a printed border on both sides. These are outlined about the edge with an ostrich feather band. Others are of a contrasting color of charmeuse or chiffon, plain or flowered. Such scarfs are often carried in a bag and are very convenient to use.

TO CLEAN BOTTLES.

Never use licks or buckshot to clean the inside of bottles, jugs and pitchers, but the ground shell of an egg, salt and lemon or a little white vinegar.

PUTTING AWAY PARASOLS.

When a silk parasol is put away for the winter, it is best to wrap it in tissue paper. This will prevent the creases that cause the silk to split.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

When the eyes refuse to sparkle there is usually physical cause which needs attention. Often it is from indigestion or torpid liver, in which case a careful diet and regular exercise in the open air should work a cure.

A pleasant way to massage the face is to have one of the little rubber cups that are filled with a good cold cream and are used by the beautician. Put it on different parts of the face and work the rubber gently. It gives a wonderfully refreshing feeling, but it should first be washed in lukewarm water.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co. Fall Showing of Beacon Blankets

All this week we will make a complete showing of the well known Beacon Blankets.

The Beacon Blanket is sanitary—does not attract or retain dirt or germs, and being less absorbent of moisture than wool, is an assurance of dry, healthful bedding. Perhaps no better proof of this can be given than its rapid adoption by hospitals when its sanitary properties are particularly recognized.

The Beacon Blanket is warmer than wool, being more closely woven. It can be readily washed and does not shrink, and being made entirely of cotton is not subject to the destruction brought by moths.

The Beacon Blanket is delightfully soft and fluffy in finish—finer than the finest wool, and—last but not least—it may be purchased for less than half the price of a wool Blanket, although it serves every purpose of the latter and serves it better.

We show Beacon Blankets in the following styles:

Beacon Blankets in both white and gray—at $1.69, $1.98 and $2.50 a pair.

Beacon Plaid Blankets in a variety of attractive combinations—at $3.50 a pair.

Beacon Crib Blankets, white with pink and blue borders—at 75c, $1.00, $1.50 and $1.69 a pair.

Beacon Fancy Crib Blankets, in all the newest patterns in pink and blue—at 39c to $1.50 each.

Beacon Bath Robe Patterns for both Men and Women, size 72x90, in all the latest designs and colorings including the new Indian effects—all with cord to match—at $2.50 each.

We invite examination of our showing of Beacon Blankets.
