KNIGHTS TEMPLAR
MEET AT NOON TODAY.
Columbian Commandery Annual Christmas Gathering to Receive Grand Masters' Greeting.

The six knights of Columbian Commandery, No. 4, Knights Templar, will congregate in the asylum in Masonic Temple at 11:30 today to hear, at high noon, the Christmas response of Grand Master Arthur MacArthur to the holiday greetings proffered him by the order.
Grand Master MacArthur's words are:
"There can come to no man, occupying whatever position he may, a greeting that is so full of the spirit of Christian knighthood as the sentiment which comes to me as your most eminent grand master from the six knights of this grand jurisdiction at this Christmas time.

In this approaching season when Christian teachings should prevail, and when knightly greetings and knightly sympathy should be manifested on every side, the voice, as of one from this mighty host, comes like music to soothe the cares of day, to inspire to nobler action and to make one feel that life's burden is easier to bear and life's journey easier to tread. In these days of materialism, when the hand of acquisition is busy, when the more beautiful sentiments of life are sometimes pushed rudely aside, with justice with leaden heels and velvet hands harasses and grieves, it is then, and then in its full force that the power and privilege of Christian knighthood should show forth in all their beauty, in all their possibilities and in all their abilities to make life happier and mankind better.

Now when joy and peace should be prevalent, there comes to us a more serious thought—that in the regeneration of the world—that in its rebirth—there should ever be present in our daily walk in life, the teachings that made appealing power, whose influence ages have not dimmed, and whose strength for good ever grows stronger.
It is my sincere desire, and my sincere wish that whatever there is in the teachings of our order that can be applied to the amelioration of humanity, that whatever there is in this world for us to do now, that we do it, and do it with a will, glorifying our Father in heaven, making it manifest that our appreciation shows itself in good deeds, in charitable acts, and more especially in an upright walk, and a more clear understanding of the duties of Christian knighthood.
To you all I wish that the joys of Christmas should come, and, as you, in turn, will, by doing and being, make others happy, so may you be happy. May God speed you all, and may peace, joy and contentment sit by your firesides.

FIREWORKS AND CAROLS
AT BOSTON CELEBRATION
Festal Day ushered in with Midnight Mass by Cardinal O'Connell.

Boston, Dec. 24.—The municipal Christmas celebration of last year was repeated tonight when thousands of people gathered about a sixty foot evergreen on the Common. Mayor Fitzgerald, convalescing after an illness, touched a button which started the programme of festivities he had arranged.
When the vari-colored lights of the tree were turned on, and, as they were displayed and the great assembly, led by a choir, sang Adeste Fideles. A vocal and instrumental concert was given and carols were sung. Many houses were illuminated after the old English custom.
Christmas day was ushered in with a midnight mass in the cathedral of the Holy Cross, at which Cardinal O'Connell presided.

ADOPT THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT FOR YOUR DAILY PRACTICE AND PROFIT BY IT

The spirit of Christmas is the spirit of the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

It is the spirit of "good will" of mutual-aid co-operation.

This is the spirit that should prevail each day throughout the year and in all the activities of our daily lives.

It is the altruistic spirit—and crystallized into general daily practice it becomes really self-interest of the highest type.

More and more it actuates our business life as well as our social life.

These little talks on business reasons, but there is behind them a spirit of helpfulness—a desire to serve, to which it seems fitting to refer at this time.

It is our hope that these talks have helped make the task of Christmas shopping easier and more pleasant this year.

Merry Christmas to all our readers.

WHEN you want to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

COMMUNITY TREE A BIG SUCCESS PURITY

Those taking part in the programme are to be at City hall, Union street entrance, at 7:15 o'clock, and will report to Director Charles D. Geer, or to the chairman of programme committee, Mrs. Frank L. Farrell.

The old carols of Christmaside, ringing out on the quiet evening air, the brilliant, sparkling tree of Christmas, bedusted with multicolored lights, rising up toward a starlit sky, brought the spirit of Christmas very close to the hearts of four thousand people in Union square Wednesday night.

It was a triumph for those who arranged and those who participated. It must have been a source of real inspiration to hundreds of the listeners. In all its aspects the municipal Christmas tree was a fine success.

Perhaps in the center of the square, the tree burst into a blaze of glory when Mayor Timothy C. Murphy closed the switches at Otis library immediately after Prof. J. Herbert George's bugle call. Then Tubbs' band, John M. Swain director, on the steps of the courthouse, swung into the inspiring hymns Christ Child, Hark! the Herald Angels Sing, Holy, Holy, and Coronation. Hymns of the Advent followed from the chorus of united choirs under the direction of Charles D. Geer.

It was with the swelling melodies were received with rare pleasure by the crowd. Then the men's chorus started that rollicking old English carol, God Rest You Merry, Gentlemen, and followed it with the sonorous strains of Immanuel. Tubbs' band was followed by the vested choir of Trinity M. E. church, whose sweetly blended voices made beautiful music.

Perhaps the harmony and power and sweetness, combined, of the colored singers was the most striking feature.

COMMUNITY TREE A BIG SUCCESS

PURITY

The effective arrangement of the colored bulbs was largely due to the suggestions of Mrs. John P. Huntington and Mrs. George T. Howland, who devoted much time Tuesday and Wednesday to consultation with Supt. Kehoe's men, who were decorating the tree.

Because of the holiday today it is expected that the crowd will be greatly increased this evening.

The lighting up of the Central Baptist church, the City Hall, Broadway Congregational church, the Masonic Temple and the Otis library did much to make the Square brilliant during the exercises.

The children's party with Professor George at 2 o'clock was an important feature of the evening. All the hymns and carols are funded for the evening. Civil list on Saturday at 5 o'clock.

The splendid playing of Tubbs' band was one of the big features of Wednesday evening's programme.

The Central Baptist church bell rang out at the close of the final chorus, and the other bells about the city took up the refrain.

Conductor Charles D. Geer expresses the hope that the assemblage this evening will join with more volume in the singing of "Come, All Ye Faithful," and of "America," so that this closing chorus may be the real big number on the programme.
