To meet a demand which apparently exists in Norwich, that some general banking accommodation be furnished during the day of evening opening, the United National bank will continue for the present to open its banking house on every Saturday evening, and every weekday evening preceding a legal holiday, from 8 o'clock at and upon other evenings by special arrangement to meet any demand occasioned by any special sales.—adv.

AT DAVIS THEATER.

Neil O'Brien and His Minstrels.

Neil O'Brien and his minstrels delighted a large audience Friday evening at the Davis theatre with a program especially enjoyable because of the variety from the ordinary.

Neil O'Brien is one of the few remaining exponents of so-called minstrelsy who has a sense of real comedy. He will attempt to entertain and entertain contributions of intelligent acting. He can cry all over, even to his feet and when he cries he makes people laugh.

O'Brien has surrounded himself with a talented aggregation of singers and dancers, and his minstrel show, Old stage humor broke loose in only two or three places, most of the jokes being new enough to get laughter that was not at all forced.

All the musical numbers were thoroughly enjoyable, but the audience, perhaps, enthused especially over Mr. Berry's "The Old Folks at Home," the "Twilight Comes to Kiss the Rose Goodnight," and Mr. Fontaine's singing of "Any Old Port in a Storm." O'Brien was irresistibly funny in his singing of "Smile, Just Simply Smile," and in answer to the applause he came back with a Gasoline Dream. Eddie Mazur also contributed to the program. O'Brien won the laughter of the audience to the super.

James Barwell's solo, "Dream Days," was splendidly done. The chorus was capable and possessed of well trained voices. O'Brien and Mazur contributed most of the interpolated wit all of which was in good taste and not overdrawn.

The finale was a dramatic argument in which the chorus gave some grand opera in a delightful manner.

As the closing feature Mr. O'Brien offered a series of character sketches which he called "Facts." These contained food for many a good laugh, and the whole company appeared in a song number, introducing the boy contra-tenor, George Hagen.

A delegation of 90 members from White Cross council, No. 12, attended and sat in a block of central seats, presenting Mr. O'Brien a basket of pink roses which he acknowledged in a witty speech.

PUT THE "OPERATE" IN CO-OPERATE!

That Mr. Local Dealer is the day's lesson in a nutshell.

Be the man who put "OPERATE" in co-operate.

In other words, when the manufacturer whose goods you carry comes into your local newspaper with his advertising, join the "get busy brigade."

Say to yourself: "The public is going to be interested in these goods. I must let them know they can be got at my store."

Show them.

Be "Window-wise!"

The public likes to trade with a man who supplies what it wants. It is always willing to pay fair profits for fair service.

Put "operate" in co-operate and you will be the man who put the "cash" in "cash register."

If any manufacturer who is interested in co-operative advertising will address the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, 110 West Building, New York, it will be glad to answer questions.

CO-OPERATE FOR MERCHANTS WEEK

Gathering of Business Men Vote For Plan to Demonstrate

Norwich as a Trading Center—To Bring in People From Surrounding Territory—Committee of Ten to Work Out Details.

Fifty of the live business men of the city responded to a call for a meeting at the Board of Trade rooms in the Shannon building at 10 o'clock Friday afternoon and heard a plan for co-operative effort unfolded which had for one of its chief objects the bringing into Norwich the people of the surrounding territory. This plan is a trading center. This plan is a trading center. This plan is a trading center.

The one definite inducement suggested that those merchants who take their duplicate rebate slips to the clearing house and settlement would be given a rebate of 10 per cent. It is believed that the Norwich Bulletin would render all reasonable aid to the endeavor and that its help would be invaluable because of its wide circulation in the territory from which people might be expected to come.

As far as individual advertising, everybody who would be in the plan is expected to do it. It is believed that the Bulletin would get out a special supplement. The time for this effort he thought would be in the spring.

William F. Hill added the information that the population in a radius that would include New London and Danbury would be 100,000.

President Macpherson spoke of advertising plans which might be used and of illumination of the streets, public entertainments and other features that could be worked out.

Samuel Kronig spoke in favor of the co-operative plan and its promise of success. He said that he would like to see the plan put into operation in Norwich from the outlying territory, and Secretary Tibbitts said that he had been doing business in Los Angeles for a season when the store windows were all attractively decorated and opened up at a time when the business was slow.

The following committee was appointed by Mr. Macpherson, after the meeting had voted approval of the plan: John M. Lee, John Brando, W. L. Stearns, J. D. Rough, William Cruickshank, W. A. Sorey, Joseph Marchessault, Herbert B. Cary, Samuel B. Brown, William T. McGarry, D. T. Shea.

President Macpherson made the announcement that State Tax Commissioner Corbin would preside at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade next Tuesday evening as the speaker and he invited all to be on hand to hear him.

COMMISSIONER CHANDLER FINDS HE TALKED TOO MUCH.

Has Told Inquirers More About Compensated Act Than Was Really Proper.

George B. Chandler, compensation commissioner for the first district, said Friday that in the future he should greatly curtail, if not entirely discard, his custom of answering questions, either in letters or orally, concerning the construction of the compensation act.

"In common with the other commissioners," said Mr. Chandler, "I have been asked the limits of discretion, if not propriety, in my efforts to make this act clear to the public. The commissioners have even answered questions concerning the interpretation of the act in public addresses. Accidents are being reported every day in large numbers. Claims are being made for interest and taxes, and the real estate involved is the property known as the Kenyon mortgage in this city, which had a first mortgage of $150,000 and a second of $20,000 has been paid off. The first Tuesday in April is made the limit of redemption. A week later to redeem in each year is given to the directors of the First National bank and Lucius B. Morgan, who respectively hold mortgages on the property for $5,000 and $2,000.

A motion for bonds for prosecution was denied in Joseph D. Harris vs. John DeWolfe.

Judge Burpee took the papers after the argument of a motion to expunge in George D. Silder vs. American Strapping Co.

Answer in two weeks or default was ordered in the divorce case of Johanna Paracetti vs. John Paracetti.

In the divorce case of Fanny Green Fisher, the plaintiff was allowed to amend her complaint by agreement of counsel, but two other motions in the case went off.

They were for the revoking, vacating or modifying of an order requiring plaintiff to pay alimony pending trial and an order of recommur to plaintiff's plea in abatement.

The court gave judgment in accordance with the advice of the supreme court in the case of William H. Allen and Frank L. Woodard, trustees, vs. John W. Woodard, trustee, vs. John W. Woodard, trustee, vs. John W. Woodard, trustee.

The construction suit was placed upon the will of Lorenzo Blackstone, administrator of the estate of Lorenzo Blackstone, vs. William H. Allen, administrator of the estate of Lorenzo Blackstone, vs. William H. Allen, administrator of the estate of Lorenzo Blackstone.

It is understood that the disposition of about $200,000 was involved in this case.

Upon request of all parties the case was reserved to the supreme court, whose ruling was that the hands of Lorenzo Blackstone, now in the hands of the executor, Francis E. DeWolfe, and Mr. Woodard, should be divided by the trustees into four equal parts and one part turned over to each of the following parties: To Miss Harriet B. Camp, to Wallace S. Aills, administrator of the J. DeTramoy, executor of the estate of John T. Alfrey, executor of the estate of John T. Alfrey, executor of the estate of John T. Alfrey.

The counsel fees and expenses were taxed as follows: $1,821.21 on the plaintiffs, payable to their attorney, Wallace S. Aills; $1,564.17 on one of the defendants, Frederick P. Huntington, and on John T. Alfrey, administrator of Lorenzo Blackstone's estate, payable to their attorney, Morris W. Seymour; $1,554.50 upon the two defendants, Justine B. Perkins and Phyllis Blackstone, payable to their attorneys, Brown & Perkins, $1,565.75 upon Mrs. Harriet B. Camp, payable to her attorneys, William Wilder and W. H. DeWolfe; $1,565.75 upon the defendants, John T. Alfrey, Wallace S. Aills and William H. Allen, all in their capacities as administrators, executors, and trustee to their attorney, Charles E. Sears.

FRENCH DIPLOMAT SHOT BY HIS COOK.

Had Expatriated With Murderer for Not Preparing Dinner.

Tangier, Morocco, Jan. 23.—Paul Chevandier de Valrome, a French diplomatic agent here, was shot and killed tonight by his cook, a man named Sura, in the presence of guests who had been invited to attend an official dinner in thelegation.

All the guests had assembled, but the cook refused to serve the dinner, and M. de Valrome, after vainly exhorting him to do so, ordered him out of the house. As M. de Valrome was returning to his guests the cook followed him and shot the diplomatic agent twice, once in the leg and once in the neck. M. de Valrome staggered into the salon and fell dying into the arms of a high official. The murderer was arrested.

DRIVER FOR CHAPPELL FOR 46 YEARS.

Jerry Crowley of Spring Street Veteran in the Service.

In a cut now appearing in The Bulletin in an advertisement of the E. Chappell Co., and also shown on the screen at the Auditorium and the Coliseum, a face that is familiar to nearly all Norwich people smiles out in a way that life is "Jerry" Crowley, over 46 years in the service of the company and still in active service every day with his team of white horses.

Needless to say, Jerry is the oldest driver in the city. He probably is the oldest driver in the city. He went to work for the firm when he was about 15, this place being the first work he went into, and he has been there when he came to Norwich from Ireland. This long and faithful service has not been without its rewards, for by habits of thrift and frugality Jerry Crowley has come to be the owner of his own home at No. 165 Spring street, where he lives with his wife and family. They have been blessed with a numerous family of children and have been members of the company high regarded by all their neighbors and associates.

ANTI-TRUST BILLS LIKELY TO BE ALTERED.

Hearings on Four of Them Before Going to Congress.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The anti-trust legislative program, as outlined in bills made public yesterday, is not the last word in proposed remedial legislation to regulate big business. That the tentative measures submitted may be altered or converted into other bills today in both branches of congress, and the president it is known that the bills drafted were closed.

Pursuant to the purpose of administration leaders to consider the subject thoroughly, the house judiciary and senate interstate commerce committees decided not to introduce at this time the measures relating to interlocking directorate prohibition, designation of restraints of trade and specification of "cutthroat" competition. Hearings are to be held before the bills go to congress. The interstate trade commission bill, introduced yesterday, will be taken up next week by the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, which may see fit to alter the provisions contained in the judiciary sub-committee, and the Senate Newlands, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, has authorized federal regulation of railroad securities—probably will not be drawn for several weeks. As a basis for this measure, however, the introduction some time ago by Representative Adamson of Georgia probably will be taken up.

MINERS WORKERS EXPEL THE POCAHONTAS LOCAL.

Claimed It Was Means of Getting Spies at the Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23.—On charges that it was an organization maintained by a detective agency solely for the purpose of spying into the convention, Local Union No. 89 of Pocahontas, W. Va., was expelled by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America here today. M. D. Whitesell, the delegate accredited to the union, was not in the convention hall when the action was taken.

While it was stated that it had been impossible to obtain any information from the Pocahontas local, the resolution to expel it from the organization, was adopted unanimously amid cheers. The convention voted to further a campaign for federal old age and mothers' pension laws and for liability and compensation laws.

Carpenters employed in and about the mines, will give up their membership in the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and affiliate with the miners, according to a resolution adopted this afternoon.

The proposition for the formation of a national labor party, as proposed at a recent convention of the International Federation of Labor, was voted down without debate.

RIDER STRUCK OUT OF THE POSTOFFICE BILL.

Opponents of Civil Service Examination Raise Point of Order.

Washington, Jan. 23.—A point of order late today struck out of the annual postoffice appropriation bill the "rider" to exempt all the country's 2,400 assistant postmasters from the civil service law. Advocates of this provision, which had drawn emphatic disapproval from President Wilson, made an ineffectual attempt to have reconsidered a special rule to head off the point without final action on the appropriation bill. The measure probably will be passed tomorrow.

During the debate today Representative Moon of Tennessee, chairman of the committee on postoffice and railroads, the president and Postmaster General Burleson on account of their attitude toward the rider.

A DUPLICATE OF THE VATICAN TABLECLOTH.

Government Will Have One to Sell at Auction in Near Future.

New York, Jan. 23.—A duplicate of one of the exquisite tablecloths of the vatican was named today as the subject in a proceeding instituted in the United States district court for the purpose of recovering import duties of the difference of $1,500 between the value of the fabric and $5,500, said to be the actual value. Its forfeiture to the government for violation of the customs law will end the proceedings against it, it is said. In that case the government will collect the money of which it alleges to have been defrauded by selling the "defendant" at public auction.

The duplicate of the vatican tablecloth was seized by the customs authorities on March 25, 1913, in the Fifth avenue mansion of former Senator William A. Clark.

SOUTHBURY FARMER SUDDENLY INSANE.

Drives Sister from House and Jumps from a Window.

Southbury, Conn., Jan. 23.—August Swanson, a farmer, went suddenly insane at his home early this morning, drove a horse and carriage into the house, smashed out window lights and doors, and then jumped through a second story window to the ground. When his sister returned with help, Swanson was found with a hip broken and suffering from the cold. He was taken to a Waterbury hospital.

Aviator Hamilton's Funeral.

Charles K. Hamilton, the aviator, who died suddenly here yesterday, will be held in Hartford, Conn., on Monday, it was announced tonight. The body will be taken to Hartford tomorrow and on Monday at 3 p. m. services in charge of the Rev. William H. DeWolfe will be held in the home of J. E. Williams, brother-in-law of the deceased. The burial will be in Cedar Hill cemetery in Hartford.

Brownsville, Texas, Jan. 23.—A despatch from Brownsville reported that a federal officer and 25 men joined the rebels near Tampico Monday.
