BANDIT'S CAMPAIGN OF DESTRUCTION

Fires a Railroad Tunnel, Burns Up Lumber and Supplies and Wrecks Two Engines

TO AVERAGE EXECUTION OF 22 OF HIS BAND

Castillo, Former Chief of Madero's Bodyguard, Turns Outlaw and Harasses Non-Combatants—Detachment of His Gang Captured by Rebels and Put to Death—Retaliation Follows—Villa to Have Military Aeroplanes.

Queretaro, Mexico, Feb. 5.—Maximo Castillo, the bandit leader, after 22 of his men had been captured and executed by a revolutionary force at El Valle, near Casa Grande, today set fire to the work of the Drake Tunnel, which carries the Mexico-Northern railway road through a mountain divide, and escaped to the mountains, according to an official report received at the municipal court here today. The men were captured and summarily executed, the report says.

Was Chief of Madero's Bodyguard. The Drake Tunnel runs through soft earth, and the burning of the wooden sheathing may entail heavy loss by cave-ins. Castillo, a joint product of predatory instincts and thwarted ambition, formerly was the chief of the bodyguard of Francisco Madero, late president of Mexico. In the present revolution he and his band of non-combatants, Castillo has harassed the Mormon colonies in the State of Chihuahua, and is charged with the murder of George Seary, a member of the colony, who, when a prisoner, failed to produce the money demanded.

REPEAL OF THE FREE TOLLS

President Will Seek to Have Discriminating Provision Removed From Panama Canal Act

UNITED STATES IS IN HONOR BOUND TO DO IT

Believes That Hay-Pounceote Treaty Guarantees Equality of Treatment in Matter of Tolls—House Likely to Promptly Carry Out President's Wishes, But Senate May Balk—Senator O'Gorman to Continue Fight For Free Tolls.

Washington, Feb. 5.—President Wilson announced today that he would endeavor to have repealed the discriminatory provision of the Panama Canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from the tolls that would be levied on foreign vessels. The president believes that the Hay-Pounceote treaty with Great Britain guarantees equality of treatment to all nations in the matter of tolls, including the United States in honor bound to do it. The exemption should be stricken out in deference to international good feeling and in line with the principles upon which the foreign relations committee is recommending the British general arbitration treaty for extension, as President Wilson's announcement is a step toward the repeal of the discriminatory provision of the Panama Canal act which exempts American coastwise ships from the tolls that would be levied on foreign vessels. The president believes that the Hay-Pounceote treaty with Great Britain guarantees equality of treatment to all nations in the matter of tolls, including the United States in honor bound to do it. LONDON COMMENT. Repeal the Most Friendly, Dignified and Courteous Course. London, Feb. 5.—Several of the morning newspapers print editorials today in support of the president's position that he would use his influence to have the provisions of the Panama Canal act which exempt American coastwise vessels from the payment of tolls repealed.

Not a certain however, are some of the general opinion that the repeal of the discriminatory provision of the Panama Canal act will be sustained in his resolve on this question which has been a subject of controversy since the British act in 1825. Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the Inter-Commerce commission, which had charge of the repeal of the discriminatory provision of the Panama Canal act, is expected to introduce a bill in the senate to repeal the discriminatory provision of the Panama Canal act which exempts American coastwise vessels from the payment of tolls.
