

STOP CATARRH!

It's a Dangerous Disease—Use Hyomel—It Acts Quickly and Safely.

If you have catarrh, usually indicated by sniffling, stopped-up head, frequent colds, watery eyes and morning choking, there is an irritable state of the mucous membrane lining the breathing organs which affords an ideal condition for the growth of disease germs.

It is needless to allow the dangerous germs which may be taken in with the air you breathe, to reach the irritated mucous membrane, and begin their destruction of your general health.

Use Hyomel, not only for catarrh, but for cold in the head, bronchitis, croup of infants, or stopped-up head. It is a household remedy.

Druggists everywhere sell it, and tell their customers he will offer to refund the money if they are not benefited. Ask for the Hyomel complete outfit, $1.00 size.

LOVING CUPS TO

TWO THERMOS MEN. Presented Supt. Blumhard and Assistant Supt. Kenefick.

Herbert L. Blumhard, the resigning superintendent of the American Thermos Bottle Company, was called into the parlors of the Wauregan Friday evening at 7.30 and there were presented a handsome loving cup by the employees of the company who had assembled.

The committee, consisting of Miss Alice Buckley, Miss Bertha Buckley, Daniel Driscoll and Stanley Caruski, made the presentation in the name of the employees who had worked under Mr. Blumhard and expressed their deep regret at his resigning, and extended their best wishes for his success with the General Electric company, with which Mr. Blumhard will be associated at the works at Harrison, N. Y., as electrical engineer.

Mr. Blumhard replied with much emotion that he deeply appreciated the kindly feeling which they displayed, and thanked them most sincerely for the gift.

At the factory at the close of work the same committee, in the name of the employees, presented Assistant Supt. John H. Kenefick a handsome loving cup, similar to the one presented Mr. Blumhard. Mr. Kenefick, who has been associated with the Thermos company since it came to Norwich, is resigning to enter the employ of the engineering department of the General Electric Co. in a similar line of work.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

160 Men and Boys in Novel Entertainment at Y. M. C. A.—Rev. Dr. J. B. Sloum Responds to Toast of "Chums"—Other Interesting Toasts.

The father and son banquet Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. proved a great success. About 160 men and boys down to supper at 6.30. There were twelve tables in all, handsomely decorated. Forming in the lobby the gathering marched to the dining hall. During the supper and evening the Y. M. C. A. orchestra played. The Ladies' auxiliary served the supper and helped with several young ladies. Mrs. G. C. Hill having charge of the supper arrangements and Mrs. Fitch Allen looked after the details of the affair. The menu served was as follows:

- Escalloped Tomatoes Soup Ham Pickles Olives Potato Chips Ice Cream, Cake Rolls Coffee

The toasts of the evening were given by L. O. Smith, "A Boy's Opportunity," Dr. J. B. Sloum, "The Boys and the Club," James L. Case, "The Boy in the City," Secretary Hill, "The Home and the Y. M. C. A." Dr. J. B. Sloum was called up, "Chums" was his toast.

Boys Get His Barrel.

Rev. Dr. Sloum began by saying that his introduction to the boy spirit of Norwich was at the instance of the barrel-gathering custom. Dr. Sloum had missed a barrel from his back yard. The next day he met two boys just below his house on Broadway looking a barrel up Broadway. Dr. Sloum stopped the boys and saw that the barrel was not his own. But using a little guile he asked the boys why they had not collected the barrel in that yard, pointing to his own yard. Whereupon, one of the boys replied proudly, "Oh, we got that one last night."

Dr. Sloum went on to say that in Lancaster, Ohio, boys are worth at least $5 apiece. At the state institution for incorrigible boys, a premium of five dollars is offered by the state to any person who captures an escaped boy. If that kind of a boy is worth $5 apiece, what are our fine boys here in Norwich be worth? Figure it out boys, for yourselves.

Likes the Chum Idea. I like this chum idea that is becoming so popular. It seems that away

MAHAN GIVES REASONS FOR OPPOSING BURNETT BILL

Second District Congressman Given Opportunity to State His Objections.

During the last hours of the debate on the Burnett immigration bill which passed the house on Wednesday, Representative Mahan was granted three minutes in which to state his objections to the measure. He said:

"I am opposed to this bill and shall vote against it, because of the literacy provision in it. Do you realize, Mr. Chairman, what that literacy provision means? It means that you cannot get men of education to work as laborers with pick and shovel. If you want your railroads built, if you would till the soil, dig ditches for canals or irrigation, if you had dig the foundation for the public or private buildings, you must depend upon the foreigner to do the rough work."

"What are the facts, Mr. Chairman? From 1850 to 1890 came that great tide of immigration from England, Ireland and Germany. These immigrants brought with them all kinds of manual labor. How about the children of these foreigners who were denied the privilege of education in their native country? They are found among the skilled workmen in your shops and factories. They are to be found in all the learned professions, doctors of law, ministers of the gospel, and teachers in our schools and colleges. I might give you a concrete example by calling your attention to the fact that 25 per cent of the present membership of this house are sons of immigrants."

"We are told that further immigration will tend to raise the standard of American wages. What are the facts? It is admitted that for several years 1,000,000 immigrants have come to this country every year. It is exact during the fiscal year that closed June 30, last, 1,079,439 immigrants came to our shores and were admitted. Yet, it is a fact that wages for all kinds of manual labor have advanced from 25 to 50 per cent during the last ten years."

"The United States is today a great exporting nation, the balance of trade in our favor for the last fiscal year being $2,000,000,000. If we would maintain our supremacy in competition with the countries of Europe, we must for the future, as in the past, have the benefit of the new and best blood from the countries of the old world."

"Mr. Chairman, the attempt to prevent the foreigners coming into our country has been said upon the floor of this house today that the illustrious Jefferson, Randolph of Virginia and Henry Clay were opposed to the admission of immigrants into the country and predicted dire ruin unless it was stopped. It was the English, the German and the Irish that they would have best of us. You who favor the passage of this bill are good enough to admit that their predictions of disaster to the country have not been realized. Jefferson, Randolph and Clay were wrong then; you are just as wrong now."

Not Undesirable Citizens.

"Speaking for my own district and state, Mr. Chairman, I wish to deny that the foreigners coming to our shores are undesirable citizens. More than 75 per cent of the population of our state are foreigners. We have the Jews, the Italian, the Swede, the Frenchman, the Englishman, the Irishman and the German, and all of them are honest, God-fearing citizens, as good as you or I."

"Our state, although the third smallest in area, ranks 11th in population, and is one of our most productive. We need these immigrants to cultivate our soil, to work in our shops, our mills and in our manufacturing establishments. It is a practical fact that the same bill that has been vetoed by two presidents, Cleveland and Taft, and should this bill pass may be not hope for another veto."

Salvation Army Talk on Fire Fighters. Fire Fighters is the subject that Captain Wilbur will speak on Sunday evening at the Salvation Army rooms. This is a very interesting subject for church workers and goes. The address will start at 9 o'clock to accommodate people attending church until then and a musical service will be enjoyed. Captain Wilbur's daughter is to start a week's revival services in Lebanon on Sunday.

Miss Wilbur at Lebanon Church. To speak at this city is to occupy the attention of the Baptist church in Lebanon at both services on Sunday.

back in old English times a chum was the companion of a prison cell. Afterward it came to mean a close friend. Then it was afterword applied as now to any person who is an intimate companion. The way we are working out here at the Y. M. C. A. tonight is most inspiring. "Has any old fellow got mixed up with the boys? If he has, put him out without making a noise." That's the spirit here tonight; some a little older than the others, that's all.

A young man looking down into a tank at the face of his father, said to his mother: "There lies the best friend I ever had except you." That is what every father ought to be to his boys his best friend. But some how barriers get up between father and son. Some of these barriers might be melted by a mere touch if father knew how to do it. But the father tells on for his son and loves him and would do anything for him. And the boy goes in and out from the home and doesn't seem to realize that his father loves him. Each misunderstands the other. If only they could get the chum point of view, things might go so different.

Get the Boys Back.

There was a farmer who wanted his boy back from the navy. The crops were being neglected and things were going wrong. But the boy was away on the sea and his father had secured only after a year and perhaps not then. There are a good many fathers who would like to get their boys back to the farm. But the boys are still within the family circle at home. Far away in point of sympathy and understanding, but not in point of kind of needle work.

The chum idea is good for the son; for he needs the older experience of his father, and it is also good for the father, for he needs the youthful enthusiasm—the fresh and vigorous play spirit of his boy.

In his closing remarks, Dr. Sloum gave two or three illustrations of the chum spirit. Among them he called reverent attention to the fact that the greatest chum man ever had was Jesus, who needed the youthfulness of these selected three special chums to be a little nearer than any. He was chum to each of these and each was chum to him. Dr. Sloum appealed to the men present to adopt the big brother idea. His remarks were warmly applauded.

GET READY FOR THE FINAL ROLL CALL

Text of Rev. G. H. Strouse in Shop Talk at Hopkins & Allen's.

The men of the Hopkins & Allen Alms Co. were addressed Friday noon by the Rev. George H. Strouse under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Selections on the Victoria proved to be very appropriate. He said in part:

"It is a very great catastrophe, especially where there is loss of life, preceded by a herald announcing the impending doom. If there is sound or smoke coming from the Titanic, the credit it makes him so presumptuous that it is unwilling to flee from the coming storm of destruction. We live today as though we were certain tomorrow. To none of us has God revealed just the number of years we shall live. God unlocks the day for us morning after morning, but each hour in the day has its own secrets."

"Men, 'Boast not yourselves of tomorrow, for you know not what tomorrow may bring forth.' The present moment is ours, but tomorrow for us may never come."

"Boast not of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what tomorrow may bring forth. Of 1655 persons on board the Titanic the tomorrow never came."

The Bible gives us a vivid picture of a man who was planning for tomorrow. But tomorrow does not come for him, and he is left to say, 'Tonight thy soul shall be required of thee.'"

"The man had completely ignored God—simply left God out of his life. He was rich in material things but never deposited anything in the bank of heaven."

"If life is so uncertain, two great facts we should grip today. First, man's desperate need of God. Men don't live without God. You are sure to lose out in that great contest if you try it. Second, since we may enter the valley of death without a moment's notice it is wise to be prepared. To a brave man an apparently wounded and not able to speak, was near midnight. The surgeons had been around to see each patient, and for a moment all was quiet. Suddenly the young man, before speechless called, in clear, distinct voice, 'Here!' The surgeon hastened to his bedside and asked what he wished. 'Nothing,' he said. 'They were calling the roll in heaven, and I was answering to my name.'"

Men get ready for the roll call. Personal contact with Jesus will make you a new man. And only those who are born again will be prepared for that roll call in heaven.

PANORAMA OF SEASONS

Given in Tableaux Before Park Church Young People.

The young people of Park church had a delightful social evening on Friday at the Osgood Memorial. The opening feature of the entertainment was a pretty panorama of the seasons as represented by the months in succession, in appropriate costumes. Those taking part in the tableaux were Dorothy Alton, January; Kitty Sloan, February; Mildred Gibson, March; Mary Isister, April; Dorothy Jones, May; Ruth Symington, June; Sadie Colt, July; Lucy Loring, August; Emily Camp, September; Barbara Latham, October; Barbara Allen, November; Humphrey Atmy, December. This was arranged by Misses Katherine Isister and Sarah Loring. Following this, Professor La Montague, the magician, gave a variety of clever sleight of hand performances to the intense amusement of his young audience. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the social committee, Mrs. Leonard O. Smith, chairman, Mrs. William H. Allen, Mrs. Edson F. Gallaudet and Miss Cecil Crowell. Later a play entitled A Great Scrap was given under the direction of William Perry by the boys of Leonard O. Smith's Sunday school class. The principal parts were taken by Sterling Watts, the student who got into the scrape; Nelson Bouché, the friend who helped him out of it, and Arthur Warwick, the principal of the school. James Isister announced the programme for the evening. The committee in charge of the entertainment was Mrs. Allen Latham, Mrs. Oliver L. Johnson, Mrs. Frank H. Hempstead, Miss Catherine Isister and Miss Sarah Loring.
