DAVIS THEATRE.

Third Reel of Our Mutual Girl Being Shown Today.

The third reel of Our Mutual Girl series is the feature photoplay attraction at this popular theatre today and never before has so much interest been taken in any particular picture shown to the public in the history of motion pictures. In this third release we again meet Margaret, that winsome miss who has captivated every heart, in her New York home and she takes you to many places of interest including a return visit to Lady Duff Gordon's establishment (the famous Lucille's) where the latest creations of Dame Fashion are seen to advantage worn by living models. Another incident worthy of notice in this picture is her meeting Laurette Taylor, the famous star who created the role of Peg in 'My Heart, and Mine. Throughout the world famous song bird is seen as she swoons from Europe on the steamship Mauretania. These are only a few of the many interesting things that Our Mutual Girl will show you when you meet her at the Davis theatre. The other photoplays are 'The Thief and the Book,' a powerful Malesic drama in two reels and 'Little Betty's Temptation,' a delightful Keystone kid comedy acted by a bunch of clever youngsters and they can hand you a lot of laughs. Bring the children to see this picture. In the vaudeville today Waddler and Mignon present one of the best dramatic comedies of the year called 'A Cry at Midnight.' Glasco and Walker have a live wire singing and talking skit and Orpheus does a clever instrumental playing several different instruments in a most skillful manner. Another first class show is booked for the first half of next week with Fanny Hatfield and Company in a burlesque comedy sketch called 'Mixed and Muddled,' the feature attraction. Two other good acts are on this bill and a well selected program of feature photoplays.

DAVIS THEATRE.

"Little Women" Announced.
Little Women, Louisa M. Alcott's immortal story, Jo, Beth and Amy, which has enjoyed a popularity second to none of the novels of today, has been dramatized by Marian de Forest, a Buffalo newspaper woman, through an arrangement with the Bonstelle (who secured the dramatic rights from the Alcott heirs) and will be presented under William A. Brady's direction at the Davis theatre Friday, Feb. 14th, instance, a most interesting and sweet, simple, quaint and refreshing is this story of a half century ago and the play is as charming as the book, bringing to the attention of those who know and love the story of the old friends from out the covers of the book into that larger, more intimate life of the stage.
How strange—and yet wholly delightful it will seem to the thousands of Little Women readers to see the awkward Jo, the beautiful Meg, the rollicking Amy and the lovable Beth of Miss Alcott's story, actually brought to life before the footlights; to hear them speak, rehearse Jo's plays, settle their little family quarrels, and to watch them through the "dovering stage," when the romance of Amy and Laurie, of Meg and John Brooke are lived before the audience.
Mr. Brady has assembled a representative New York company of 12 players, and promises a scenic production accurate and realistic, showing the March home at Concord and the orchard in Plumfield. The play is in four acts and two scenes, and many of the costumes have been secured from the Alcott family, including Jo's boots, which she got from a lady who had a friend who knew her actor. Matinee prices 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. Evening prices 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, and $1.50. Seats go on sale Wednesday at 10 a. m. Mail orders with remittance will be filled and ready for delivery then. Send your order in now.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Tom Moore and Alice Joyce in Two Reel Drama, An Unseen Terror.

Everyone loves to see the popular players Tom Moore and Alice Joyce as they appear at the Colonial in the powerful Kalem dramas of the day and their vehicle to display their talents today is the feature picture in two reels entitled 'An Unseen Terror.' This is one of the strongest as well as one of the strangest dramas of the year, dealing with the mysterious impulse which draws a murderer back to the scenes of his crime. This is said to be one of these co-stars' best pieces of work and the photography is as usual in perfect excellence. Arthur Johnson, the great and only Arthur, the people's favorite, is in a superb rural drama entitled 'The Blinded Heart,' a picture seeming with familiar scenes that hold the attention of the audience by their subtle charm. The Conqueror is a strenuous Essanay drama and the Vitagraph company presents 'Quartzite's Son,' a brilliant war story. The bill today is exceptionally strong and to provide for the accommodation of the patrons, it is earnestly requested that as many as can attend the first performance in order to secure seats.

Three Fine Acts and the Funniest Film Ever Made, at the Auditorium Today.

One fact that attests to the merit of the attractions offered at the Auditorium, is that capacity houses are the rule, even during the recent cold snap. A special feature for today is what is positively the funniest motion picture ever made, the two reel travesty burlesque by the famous Nestor comedians, When Uraus Threw the Bull. Good judgment was shown by the management by booking this feature today in the great feature, as the above picture is a burlesque on the greatest film ever made, and each film in its own way is a masterpiece. It is 2,800 feet of length and photoplays today are the great Universal Animated Weekly, No. 96, which needs no description, and 'The Barrier of Bars,' a fine Victor drama with the famous star, J. Warren Kerrigan, bel-
