WINDHAM RIFLE CLUB WON.
Beat Out Teams from Co. I and Stora College in Ten Shot Test in Four Positions.

Rifle teams representing Co. I, First N. S., the Connecticut Agricultural college at Storrs, and the Windham Rifle club held a meeting Wednesday night in the armory, in which ten shots per man were taken in each of the following positions: Standing, kneeling, sitting and prone. Only body rests were allowed and the regulation military target was used.

The Windham Rifle club won the match and Lathrop of that team had the high score, 183 out of a possible 200. His figures for the prone position were 56, a perfect score. The shooting as a whole was good and the results encouraging, as it is planned to have a return match at Storrs in the near future. The Company I team would also like to arrange a "shoot fest" with teams from Norwich or Westerly.

The judges at the shooting were Lieutenant Goodwin of the Fifth U. S. Infantry, Capt. Donoro of Co. I, Samuel Adams, president of the Windham Rifle club, William P. Jordan and E. F. Whitmore. Lieutenant H. E. P. Tising of Co. I coached their team. Following are the scores made:

Milk Shipping in Former Times.
Many friends congratulate Henry O. Hopkins on his acquittal by the United States court on the charge of shipping impure milk. These arrests bring to the minds of some of the local people the conditions some twenty-five years ago when, as now, large shipments of milk were sent from this station to Providence. At that time the milk came back at 4 p. m. All through the hot months the empty cans were well stocked with fat, lively maggots (as many a middle-aged farmer's wife can remember) and it was no unusual thing for a farmer to get back several more cans of sour milk than he sent of sweet—the sour milk was sent back at 4 p. m. All through the winter coffee grounds, etc. often came back. One Plainfield farmer got back a can of dish water and white beans, which was taken off of his bill as sour milk. Times have changed.

OPPOSES PENSIONS FOR "GRASS WIDOWS."
Miss Strachan Says It May Result in Wife Desertion.

New York, March 12.—"Grass widows should not be pensioned," declared Miss Grace Strachan, president of the Interborough Association of Women Teachers, speaking today before the commission appointed at Albany last year to report a plan for pensioning widowed mothers with dependent children. "They should not be pensioned," she continued, "for the simple reason that such a plan would encourage a good many men to leave their wives. Many husbands haven't the heart to leave their wives, because they don't know how the wives will live without them. With the state stepping in, things would be different." Miss Alice Robbins, president of the Brooklyn Neighborhood guild, differed with Miss Strachan.

"Grass widows should be supported," she declared. "They should be helped by the state, because many women who are known as grass widows have run away from drunken, dissolute and worthless husbands."
