Hamilton, employed at the Attawaugan hotel, is ill at his home on Railroad street. James A. Sanderson of Pawtucket was a visitor with friends in Danielson Thursday. Tax Collector William N. Glendinning has been spending a few days with relatives in New Britain. Delegates to Supreme Council. Frank L. Stinson and Ray Peillett have been elected delegates from the local council to the supreme session of the Fraternal Benefit League, to be held at New Britain, April 11. Dr. W. J. Stinson and A. P. Burns are named as alternates. John Burns and Frank Brown, the prisoners who escaped in Danielson Thursday while being taken to the superior court at Putnam, remain at Liberty. Many officers continue to be on the lookout for them. As General Manager C. L. Bardo and General Passenger Agent A. B. Smith did not reach Danielson Thursday for a conference with representatives of the local Business Men's association, the railroad officials are expected to be here today. Trolley Company Expected to Help. If the permanent paving of Main street through the business section is decided upon, it is expected that the present trolley company will replace the present ties with new ones, and the rails now in service with heavier ones, as was done in Putnam when the granite was laid in that city last fall. There was a large congregation at St. James' church Wednesday evening for the midweek Lenten service and sermon. The attendance at the special services during this Lenten period continues to be unusually large.

MET UNKNOWN CORRESPONDENT Dayville Man, Just Divorced, Identified by Red Ribbon on Norwich Visit. Lewis Fitts of Dayville was in South Norwich Thursday with his daughter, Pearl, to visit the writer of letters with whom he has been in conference by mail. Mr. Fitts, on leaving Dayville, told some friends that he would wear a red ribbon on his coat, which would identify him when he reached the town at the western side of the state. Mr. Fitts was last month granted a divorce from his wife in the superior court at Putnam.

DECLARE DIVIDEND. Directors of Windham County Savings Bank Indicate Prosperity of That Institution. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Windham County Savings Bank, which resumed for business October 5 last, with practically a new board of officers, after being closed from August 6, 1912, a semi-annual dividend was declared at the rate of four per cent. net annual. This is the first dividend declared by the bank in close to two years and the announcement is a very pleasing one to the directors of the institution and is significant of the ability of the present management to make a successful administration of the bank's affairs. Queries for Wanda. When a Woman Wins was the play presented by the Edward Doyle Stock company at the Orpheum theater Thursday evening and it was the pleasing overtures of the week. Wanda, the mentalist and woman of mystery, was again a very interesting attraction for Thursday night's audience and she was glib with questions about many subjects. To Hear Mrs. Hepburn. Danielson women have been invited to go to Putnam this (Friday) evening to hear an address by Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn, president of the Connecticut Equal Suffrage association. Mrs. Hepburn will come to the nearby town under the auspices of the Connecticut Equal Suffrage association and there is special interest in the event, for Mrs. Hepburn is one of the most active and effective workers in Connecticut in the cause of full suffrage rights for women.

Searis notified the case against Frank Marwick, 15, the Polish youth of Willimantic, who was charged with breaking and entering the house of Frank Cardinal at Willimantic, Nov. 18, and taking a gold watch valued at $14. Marwick pleaded not guilty to the charge and Attorney Howard C. Bradford was assigned by the court as his counsel. Marwick is not yet out of the woods, however. He was returned from court to the jail at Brooklyn Thursday afternoon in charge of Deputy Sheriff John M. Hessette and this morning is to be turned over to Willimantic officials for presentation before the police court of that city on a charge similar to the junior and senior years; managing editor, senior year; Sock and Buskin, senior year; Phi Beta Kappa, junior year; Sphinx club senior year; James Manning scholarship, junior year; junior prom committee, junior year. Here is a list of honors that at once indicate Mr. Preston's extraordinary scholarship and his standing at one of the great universities of New England. His success as a student was indicated for his collegiate course during his four years in the local high school, that he had not only equalled the expectations that were raised by that forecast but easily surpassed them in every pleasing to his many Danielson friends. At commencement exercises at Brown four members of the senior class deliver original orations in English, each of which is read by one of each. The basis of selection is scholarship, ability to write, ability to speak. Late Sky-Gazers. Hundreds watched the nearly total eclipse of the moon from points of vantage in Danielson Wednesday night and it was not until after midnight that the last rays of the sun were visible. Interested observers gave up their vigil. Not a cloud obscured the sky over this section during the period of eclipse, so that high observations were made under highly satisfactory conditions. Will Build Bungalow. Postmaster and Mrs. C. A. Potter have purchased from Charles A. Thibault a lot on the street near Mr. Thibault's home for a bungalow, the contract for the building of which has been given to Tamara Boulias, and work is to be commenced next month.

Mr. Clark was taken ill at the home of his sister in Providence last year and since last year has been under the care of his mother, Mrs. Ernest Clark, who later was with the doctor. Mr. Clark's death was due to a complication of diseases. Each class of the Sunday school is to furnish one member in a program to be given at the Methodist church this (Friday) evening. Lake Still Frozen. Ice still covers Alexander's lake, which is usually open and free from ice the first week in March. Mrs. Hepburn to Speak. Mrs. Thomas N. Hepburn of Hartford, president of the Connecticut Equal Suffrage association, is to be the speaker at a meeting to be held here this (Friday) evening under the auspices of the local branch of the organization. Visitors from nearby towns will be present. Many owners of cars in Putnam have found it of interest to be in Boston at least one day this week to attend the automobile show. The touring motorists who follow the routes of least resistance—the state highways that have been extended through many interior sections of this county—will find this season that new service is to be had that never before. Garages are springing up in backwoods sections to meet the demands of car owners for all kinds of supplies, sections where the word "garage" had never been heard by many persons up to five years ago.

Jury Sent Back for Second Deliberation Decides Canterbury Man Did Not Illegally Kill Deer. Zealous Pike was acquitted by a jury in the superior court here Thursday of the charge of having illegally killed a deer about Nov. 5 last, at his place in the town of Canterbury, near the town of Brooklyn. The state set up that Pike had killed the deer without legal justification, but while the defendant, represented by Attorney Charles L. Torrey of this city, admitted that he had shot the animal one evening when it came on to his premises, he denied that he had killed it illegally and claimed that the buck was despatched because it had been doing damage to the fruit trees on his place and was causing him a loss thereby. The claim was also set up by the state that Pike had put out salt to entice the deer to his place, but this was denied by the defendant. State Attorney Searis was assisted in conducting the prosecution by Judge A. G. Bill of Danielson. The Pike case came to the superior court from a Justice's court. The jury on the case was made up as follows: Joseph Plessis, J. Richard Carpenter, Putnam; James F. Twomey, Clarence A. Bowen, Windham; Clarence B. Chester, Chaplin, Chaucey, Hill, Plainfield; George H. Gallup, Sterling; Fernando Ross, A. T. Copeland, Thompson; John M. Perrin, E. A. Morse, Woodstock. Judge Shumway's charge to the jury was completed just before 3 o'clock, the case having been under consideration since morning and the jury returned at 4 o'clock the jurors returned and after Clerk E. M. Warner had called the roll and inquired if they had arrived at a verdict, the foreman, J. Richard Carpenter, replied that they had not. Judge Shumway asked Mr. Carpenter if he did not think that a verdict could be arrived at if the matter were given a little further consideration, the foreman replying in the negative. The court urged further consideration upon the jury, calling their attention to the fact that another trial of the case would work a hardship on the defendant, and also presenting for their consideration the water has been said by the supreme court relative to the duty of disagreeing jurors giving full consideration to the views of those not in agreement with them, that a verdict be arrived at if possible. OPONENTS OF REPEAL DISPLAYING ACTIVITY. Administration Leaders, However, Confident of the Outcome. Washington, March 11.—With debate on repeal of the exemption clause of the Panama canal act about to begin in the House, interest in the outcome of the President's request of congress was intensified today by opponents of the repeal displaying unusual activity. Administration leaders who have made a thorough canvass of the situation appear virtually certain tonight that opposition to the repeal will be fruitless. President Wilson conferred on the toll issue today with Senator James of Kentucky and Hoke Smith of Georgia. "I am heartily in support of the tolls exemption repeal," said Senator Smith, "and I think that the action should be taken as speedily as possible." Senator Martine of New Jersey announced his allegiance to opposition of the repeal.

FALSE CLAIMS OR INCORRECT COUNT? Poll of House Regarding a Rollcall Vote Conflicts with Record. Washington, March 11.—Representative Kelley of Pennsylvania, progressive, submitted to the house today a letter from Lynn Haines, executive secretary of the National Voters' league, enclosing a list of 47 representatives who were said to have advised the league that they stood up in the house December 9 in favor of a rollcall on the question of referring the Mithall lobby inquiry report to the judicial committee. The record shows that Speaker Clark counted 28 members standing, not enough to order the roll called. Mr. Kelley said he believed the Speaker counted correctly, but declared the situation indicated that "we either cannot secure a roll call when desired or we cannot depend upon the members to take the same stand in public, when the spotlight of publicity is turned on, as they did in the house." British Naval Estimates Increased. London, March 12.—The British naval estimates for 1914-15 amount to $287,750,000, an increase of $12,000,000 over last year. The new construction programme provides for four battleships, four light cruisers and twelve destroyers.
