Quinebaug Pamona grange, which includes the subordinate granges of Windham county, is to meet with Brooklyn grange on Saturday of this week. Summer Temperature. A temperature of 70 degrees Saturday afternoon was a factor contributing toward making the increase in business that was noted in many of Danielson's stores. Popular Repertoire Company. The Klark-Urban Stock company, the best that has shown at the Orpheum theater, closed a week's engagement at the house Saturday evening, playing to a capacity audience. On Saturday no decision had been reached as to where the Keystone Department Store company is to locate, but W. L. Dixon was considering various possibilities and propositions. The Danielson Business Men's collection bureau is proving a successful feature of the work being done by that organization and many of the members have benefited by its operations. The following are the newly elected officers of the Men's club of the Congregational church, at Dayville: President, James Walker, vice president, George S. Williams; secretary and treasurer, Fred A. Miller. Shortage of Business Locations. Developments of the past week have shown that space in the business section of Danielson is becoming more valuable and that at the present time it is exceedingly difficult to meet the demands of firms that want locations. There is actually a shortage of business locations at this time. Recently a dry goods firm that desired to locate in Danielson abandoned the idea, the time being occupied by inability to get a suitable store. At the present time an additional block of stores would be snapped up immediately, were they to be had. This is somewhat different from the conditions three or four years ago, when there were many vacant business places in the borough. Borough Lettings. A Providence paper notes that in that city one day last week Deputy Sheriff John M. Bessettee of the West Side, tax collector for the town of Brooklyn, was cordially received by Governor A. A. J. Fobier. The baptism of James H. George, Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. James H. George, Jr., took place at St. Alban's church Sunday. Wheatley Stable Damaged—Sparks Set Fire to Tufts Barn—Hobbie Skirted Brigade Make a Sensation. The hour (1.10) was extra propitious because the greatest possible number of persons could attend without inconvenience. Church services were over and most people had a day of rest on their schedule, a day they would not object to using in part for the satisfaction of displaying their spring finery - en masse - if the occasion presented itself, this latter applying particularly to the feminine portion of the population. The fire alarm presented the opportunity to inspect and be inspected, the male element of the borough joining the inspectorial staff in large numbers and doing their little part in the inspection with right good will. Of course, the first fire at the C. B. Wheatley stable, Broad street, furnished the real get-together excuse, and carrying out her intention to stir the stout and the spectacle produced is marvelous and enlightening in an astounding degree. As to the enlightenment feature no more need be set down here, other than to relate that it was almost sufficient on Sunday to make some forget it was a fire that they were bound for, not a burlesque show. It was some run, it was some show - the heat from the fire was terrific. Firemen battled hard for a few minutes before they could subdue the blaze, which before it was extinguished practically destroyed the top part of the barn. The loss was estimated at about $500 and covered by insurance. For a while the fire stable of the Mrs. H. C. Clinton property was endangered and at times tiny tongues of flame were noticed lapping at the roof, but a thorough wetting down saved the structure from damage. There was some damage to fences and coops on the Atwood property. From the rung of a ladder on which he was standing, about 6 feet from the ground, Adolph Bernier of Hose Co. No. 2, which was first at the Wheatley fire, was blown to the ground when the man above him, holding the nozzle of a line of hose, stepped down and pushed him off. Bernier was unhurt, but his Sunday suit was somewhat ruined. The only consolation is that the firemen's annual pay day comes the first of the month. Tufts Barn Catches Fire. The Wheatley stable fire was barely under control when there was a rush of hose companies to the barn on the Mrs. William Tufts place on Reynolds street. Sparks from the Wheatley fire had been carried to the roof of this structure. Again the tango tournament for high speed honors. The young men grew dizzy, but they made the new scene of excitement on the jump started right with the big show. The Reynolds street fire didn't amount to much - it didn't get a chance, but it was Sunday. Hopkins, who lives close to the Tufts place, furnished an extinguisher that kept the fire under control until the firemen got to it. They had it out in five minutes. A small patch of roof was burned out, but that was about all.

The damage will amount to only a few dollars. At the Wheatley stable the loss is chiefly on the building and some things stored therein. There was no live stock. A quantity of goods stored were taken out before the heat drove the volunteer salvage crew away. A motion picture man took some scenes and views here last week. By so doing he missed an opportunity to get real news. He should have waited until Sunday. There's one consolation for those interested, however. The showing of the pictures would probably have killed the popularity of the hobble skirt as suitable apparel for a running race. PUTNAM Total of 4,138 Parcel Post Packages This Month - How Joseph Keeley Lost His Ear - Heavy Travel for Patriots' Day - Auction at the McNair Place. Miss Marjorie Mann left Saturday for a visit with relatives in New York. L. O. Manager Samuel Anderson, Norwich, of the Shore Line Electric Railway company, was here Saturday. The Derelict's Last Refuge. E. meeting at the Congregational church Sunday evening. Mrs. George E. Pray is to have the members of the Drop-in class at her home for a social Wednesday afternoon. Joseph Keeley, resident in the Eastford section of the county, has lost an ear as the result of a peculiar accident. Keeley, with a friend named Bennett, was driving home from an auction held at Phoenixville when his horse became frightened at a steam roller and bolted. Keeley and Bennett were thrown out of the vehicle and Keeley scudded along a strand of a barber wire fence until his ear was ripped off. Bennett also suffered a severe laceration of one ear. Keeley is receiving treatment for the injury at the hospital here, but is an outpatient. Congregational Church Events. Events arranged for observance at the Congregational church during the spring season are as follows: May 3, sacramental service; May 10, Mothers' day; May 19, Windham conference; June 1, Memorial day; June 14, Children's day. Patriots' Day Travel Heavy. The fact that Patriots' day is being observed in Massachusetts today (Monday) was the reason for the heavy travel on passenger trains into this city on Saturday from Massachusetts points. Hundreds passed through Putnam to spend the triple holiday with relatives and friends in Connecticut towns. The afternoon Boston-New York express and other trains carried extra coaches. Contributions for Clean-Up Week. In response to the appeal that has been sent out by the committee in charge of the arrangements for Clean-Up week, contributions are being received. The appeal has been made to organizations, to individuals, and in such a general way as to present an opportunity to everyone interested in having Putnam a spick and span city to give toward that end. A considerable sum of money will be needed to carry out the plans for cleaning up every nook and corner of the city, so the committee is anxious to get as many and as liberal contributions as is possible. P. H. S. Team Defeats Clerks. In the opening game of the season, the Putnam High school team nosed out a victory defeating a team of clerks from local stores by the score of 4 to 9. The school team this season is one of considerable promise and the students look for it to make a good showing between now and the end of the school year. Invited to Springfield.
